FLIGHT.

MORSE IS GONE.

High-Flyer Promoter Is Missing,

Twenty-Million-Dollar Fortune Is Practically Wiped Out.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Charles W. Morse has fled from New York and is practically hiding. He left the city on Tuesday morning, either for Europe or some other distant place. He is to be gone an indefinite period.

Coincident with the news of his disappearance, came a series of happenings today which may wipe out the remnants of his colossal fortune.

Some of Mr. Morse's friends believe he has fled to France; others that he is merely in retirement at some place in this country. He and ex-Mayor Robert A. Van Wyck made a joint purchase of a palatial home in Paris at the time Van Wyck married, and it may be that Morse will turn up there. Morse made Van Wyck a multi-millionaire and it is supposed the ex-Mayor will stand by him in his time of stress.

Mrs. Charles W. Morse, formerly Mrs. Clemence Dodge, the central figure in the notorious Morse-Dodge divorce scandal, did not flee with her husband, according to servants in the Morse home, at No. 728 Fifth avenue. Mrs. Morse went to the opera tonight and is still living in the palatial home near Fifty-seventh street, which Morse built a few years ago.

It was said at the Metropolitan Operahouse tonight that Mrs. Morse did not attend the opera. The Morses have box No. 14 every Wednesday night. It was also said that neither Mr. nor Mrs. Morse attended the opera on Wednesday night of last week.

BEFORE GRAND JURY.

A few days ago it was reported that the special grand jury which had been investigating violations of the banking law by officers and directors of the banks and trust companies had found an indictment. Charles W. Morse was a witness three times before the jury during the last week that body was in session.

It was a hard day today for Morse, the ex-ice king, the ex-owner of a chain of banks and the ex-proprietor of the coastwise steamship trust. A year ago, even six months ago, he was credited with possessing at least $20,000,000 by men in the financial district, whose business it is to keep well informed as to wealth of men who operate on a large scale. It was declared tonight it would not take many figures to record Morse's present 'fortune.'

Here are the adverse happenings which today befell Mr. Morse, whom the respectable financiers are determined to drive out of New York's banking community:

(1.) Judgment by default for $155,753.26 was entered against him in the County Clerk's office in favor of R. A. C. Smith as a result of a conditional sale of 500 shares of National Bank of North America, which Morse formerly controlled and which has gone to the wall.

(2.) Suit was begun against him for $243,321.25 by Charles A. Hanna, United States Bank Examiner, and receiver for the National Bank of North America. This amount represents the balance due on promissory notes given the bank by Morse in September and October last.

(3.) A lis pendens was filed in the County Clerk's office against his residence, No. 728 Fifth avenue, which adjoins the Whitney mansion. This action was taken to safeguard the interests of the National Bank of North America. Attachments were also served on a number of banks and bankers with whom Morse is supposed to have money.

(4.) Several blocks of bank stock, chiefly shares in institutions which have gone to the wall and were owned by Mr. Morse, were sold at auction in the New York Real Estate Exchange by Adrian H. Mullen, auctioneer. The bank stock auctioned was supposedly put up to secure loans which have matured and was sold "for the account of whom it may concern," by the institutions which loaned the money.

NEWS OF FLIGHT.

The news that Morse had fled the city if not the country, came tonight, from Charles A. Hanna, the United States Bank Examiner, who is receiver for the National Bank of North America, and acting receiver for the New Amsterdam National Bank.

Mr. Hanna, in going over the accounts of the National Bank of North America, discovered that Morse was responsible to that institution in the sum of $243,321.25, representing the balance due on several promissory notes given the bank in September and October last by Mr. Morse to secure loans. At that time he was vice-president and owner of the bank.

Knowing that he probably would have to bring suit against Morse, Mr. Hanna attempted to keep himself posted on the doings of the ex-ice king so

FOR ISLAND DUTY.

MORE ARTILLERY FOR PHILIPPINES.

THIRTY-FIFTH COMPANY WILL SAIL IN APRIL.

Will Be First Recruited up to Full Quota and Is to Be Assigned to Corregidor Island Where Strong Fortifications Are to Be Erected. Submarines to Go.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Thirty-fifth Company of Coast Artillery, now at Fort Monroe, Va., has been designated by the War Department for services in the Philippine Islands and will proceed to San Francisco in time to embark on the transport sailing for Manila on April 6.

Before leaving for the islands, the company will be recruited up to its full quota. Upon arrival at Manila it will be assigned to duty on Corregidor Island at the entrance to Manila Bay, where strong fortifications are to be erected. At present no barracks have been constructed there and until proper accommodations have been supplied the soldiers will be required to live in tents.

This is the second company of coast artillery to be sent to the Philippines. The first was the Fifty-seventh Company, which is now stationed at Grand Island, at the mouth of Subig Bay.

The Navy Department is preparing to send two submarines to Manila. They are the Porpoise and the Shark, which are now at New York. They will be placed aboard a collier about March 1 and taken to San Francisco where they will probably be transferred to another collier and sent to the Philippines. They will probably be taken from New York to San Francisco on the collier Caesar although this has not been definitely settled.

RUSSO-TURKISH WAR IMMINENT.

"Novoe Vremya" Says Boundary Dispute Which Calls for Troops May Precipitate Hostilities.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 5.—The possibility of hostility between Russia and Turkey as a result of the boundary dispute between Turkey and Persia, a situation that has caused the dispatch of 5000 Russian troops in the direction of the Turkish frontier, is discussed by the Novoe Vremya today, which professes to believe that the war might easily come about.

The paper declares the present moment most favorable for Turkey, inasmuch as Russia is involved in interior troubles, her army is disorganized and the Turkish border is without fortifications.

WILL SCOUR STATE.

Every Public Institution in Illinois Is to Be Investigated by Legislative Committee.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Investigation into the affairs of the State institutions has definitely broadened and deepened, according to information made public today by State Representative John W. Hill, chairman of the legislative investigating committee, and definite plans are now in preparation for a visit to be paid to every asylum, penal institution and corrective home in the State.

Graft will form one of the subjects that will be especially inquired into as well as brutal treatment of State wards. Joliet penitentiary will be one of the places investigated in the near future. Private detectives have been engaged to aid in preparing the testimony to be heard by the committee at the various asylums, prisons and homes.

ALLOWANCE TO UNEMPLOYED.

VIENNA (Austria) Feb. 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] News has been received from Belgrade that, owing to great distress prevailing there, the City Council has granted allowances to the working classes. Unemployed bachelors will get 20 cents a day and married men 35 cents, with 4 cents additional for each child. This arrangement will continue one month.

TERRIFIC SLEET STORM.

BLIZZARD IS RAGING THROUGHOUT EAST.

Chicago Covered With Crust of Ice, Traffic Tied Up, One Dead, Many Injured—Great Damage Caused in All Middle Western States.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A storm of sleet, the worst of its kind in years, enveloped Chicago in a crust of ice this morning, tied up traffic on the surface and elevated lines during the rush hour, endangered the life and limb of pedestrians, and resulted in the death of one man and the severe injury of nineteen, while hundreds of others experienced slighter injuries.

The storm was at its worst between 4 and 6:30 o'clock in the morning. A drizzling rain, freezing as it fell, sheathed the pavements in ice, covered the trolley wires and turned the tracks of the streets and elevated roads into slippery skids.

Citizens seeking to reach their work slipped and slid and were able to reach the car lines only at greatest difficulty and danger. There they found the cars stalled, with their wheels spinning uselessly in the icy slush.

PUDDLES OF SLUSH.

The rain held, but the temperature rose until it no longer froze, formed puddles of slush, together with the thin ice which was crushed into water by many feet. While a little less treacherous than the ice sheet, the slush was fully as disagreeable, and filled with the lurking dangers of pneumonia and colds.

Dr. W. A. Evans, health commissioner, pronounced the day the most unhealthy that Chicago had ever experienced.

"There is the greatest conglomeration today of weather conditions that I have ever seen," he said. "Grip germs and pneumonia germs are wide awake and are waiting everywhere to pounce upon victims. It is dangerous to remain outside as to stay inside and vice versa. I have no suggestion to offer."

Reports from Wisconsin, Michigan, Indiana, and other Middle Western States show much havoc caused by the blizzard; steam roads and interurban lines being greatly interfered with, great damage being done to telegraph and telephone wires.

The storm seriously affected telegraphic communication between Chicago and many outside cities and especially in the West.

St. Louis, Omaha and Kansas City were entirely cut off from the East during the early hours. The sleet storm surrounded St. Louis and extended into Iowa.

The elevated roads in Chicago had great difficulty in operating their trains owing to the ice forming on the third rail, the Kenwood branch of the South Side elevated road being tied up completely early in the day.

ZERO IN NEW YORK.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—With the thermometer registering 1 deg. above zero at 7 o'clock this morning, New York experienced a taste of real winter. It was three degrees colder than any previous day this season and within one degree of the cold-weather record in New York for the past five years.

Charity institutions were overcrowded with homeless men last night. Early today when those without shelter were put into the street from the saloons, many of them built fires in the streets along the Bowery to keep from freezing. An unidentified man was frozen to death in Brooklyn.

New York harbor was filled with a

INDEPENDENCE FOR ISLANDS.

Senator Stone Would Turn the Philippines Loose on December 10, 1913.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In a resolution offered today, upon which he intends to deliver a speech, Senator Stone of Missouri sets forth a definite programme for the disposition of the Philippine Islands by the United States and names Dec. 10, 1913, as the date upon which the government shall give the islands complete independence.

As a preliminary to the final step, the resolution instructs the President to open negotiations with other nations "for the purpose of securing an agreement with them for the neutralization of the Philippine Islands and the recognition of their independence whenever the same shall be granted by the United States."

December 10 is chosen because it is the anniversary of the signing of the treaty of Paris in 1898, whereby the Philippines passed from Spanish to American control.

THE NAVY.

CHILEAN TARS ACT AS HOSTS.

LAVISH ENTERTAINMENTS FOR AMERICANS GIVEN.

Cruiser Chacabuco Will Lead Battleship Fleet to Western Entrance of Straits of Magellan as Act of Courtesy—Start Will Be Made Tomorrow Night.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PUNTA ARENAS, Feb. 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A number of the officers of the American battleship fleet today made an excursion up country and visited a refrigerating plant there which is one of the largest in the world.

The meat handled is chiefly mutton, which is refrigerated for export to England. The raising of cattle and sheep is the most important industry in this part of the world and much capital is invested in it.

Two hundred of the American sailors were entertained at a luncheon today on board the Chilean cruiser Chacabuco, the Chilean sailors being their hosts. Despite the fact that conversation was limited by the difference in the languages used by the two sets of bluejackets, a jolly time was had and numerous pledges of friendship were made.

Señor Chaigneau, Governor of Magellan Territory, of which Punta Arenas is the capital, gave a reception this evening in honor of the visiting Americans. The function was a very elaborate one. There were nearly a thousand guests present.

DEPARTURE PLANNED.

The plans for the departure of the fleet tomorrow have all been settled. As an act of courtesy, the Chacabuco will precede the American warhips to the western entrance of the strait, steaming a thousand yards in advance of them. The American ships, however, will lay their own course.

The flotilla of torpedo-boat destroyers, which will accompany the fleet, will sail three boats on the port side and three on the starboard side of the first division of battleships. This order will be maintained as far as Smythe Channel, where they will separate.

All the ships will leave at 11 o'clock Friday night. It was the original intention that the fleet sail tomorrow, but the social happenings here will cause a delay of a day in getting away. This is unavoidable as the American officers feel that they must return the unusual courtesies that have been extended to them by everybody, officials and civilians, at this out-of-the-way port.

TORPEDO FLOTILLA IN.

It was a quarter past 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when the torpedo flotilla, consisting of six torpedo-boat destroyers, came to anchor in the roads off this port near the battleships of Rear-Admiral Evans's fleet.

Their long voyage from Buenos Ayres occupied five days and the little vessels stood the trip well. They arrived here in good condition, notwithstanding adverse weather. On two days of the trip rather rough weather was experienced, but no mishap occurred. During the remainder of the run very pleasant weather made the voyage easy.

Lieut. Cone and his officers and men say that their stay in Buenos Ayres was delightful and on departure from that port they were given a rousing send-off. A flotilla of torpedo boats of the Argentine navy accompanied the American flotilla from Buenos Ayres down the River Platte to the open sea. When the vessels parted company, cheers were given by the sailors of the Argentine vessels and these were responded to by the Americans. The work of coaling the destroyers for their next stop on the long voyage, which will terminate at Talcahuano, already has begun and the little vessels will be ready to start with the battleship fleet.

FORAKER CLUB FOR TAFT.

CLEVELAND (O.) Feb. 5.—The third ward Foraker club of this city last nght indorsed Secretary Taft for President, after supporting Ohio's senior Senator for twenty years. The indorsement prevailed in the face of stubborn opposition.

The club was organized twenty years ago to further Foraker's cause. It has been looked up to as one of the Senator's strongholds in Cleveland throughout its existence.

FIXING THE BLAME.

RUSSIA GUILTY.

Eloquent Defense of Stoessel.

Makes Impassioned Plea for Acquital of Defender of Port Arthur.

Verdict Will Be Rendered Today and Friends Are Still Hopeful.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "Russia, not Stoessel, is guilty. The unpreparedness of the empire for war cannot be laid at the door of this old and invalid soldier, who has given all his life and the best of himself to the empire."

Deputy Syrtlanoff, counsel for Gen. Stoessel, thus defended his client today before the court-martial before which the veteran soldier is being tried for surrendering Port Arthur.

Deputy Syrtlanoff laid emphasis upon the statements of prominent Japanese officers and newspaper correspondents of eevry country, all of whom upheld the action of Gen. Stoessel. He also emphasized the fact that Russia was quite unprepared for war. Japan had caught the empire at its weakest moment and the unexpected attack had been followed by a series of disasters for which indignant public opinion was now seeking a scapegoat.

The defense of Port Arthur was the one bright spot in the war and this in spite of the fact that the fortress was deficient of all the requirements of modern defense. The fall of the Eagle's Nest marked the mathematical end of the resistance, and failure to negotiate with the Japanese would have meant the cold-blooded sacrifice of the entire garrison.

FRIENDS HOPEFUL.

The verdict will be rendered tomorrow and the friends of the aged commander are hopeful tonight that he will be acquitted or at least given a mild sentence.

The trials have been marked by demonstrations on behalf of Stoessel and the enlightened public feels that he is being used as a buffer to cover up the criminal faults of the beaurocracy.

During the trial efforts have been made to introduce evidence showing that the grand ducal officials and their subordinates had systematically plundered the army and hospital stores. On the surface Russia had a tremendous armament on land and sea, but those close to the real facts know that the entire system was hollow and rotten to the core. Japan also learned this and struck at the right moment. All evidence of this nature, however, was rigidly excluded, although the London, Vienna and Paris papers have informed the reading Russian public of the real conditions.

HISTORY OF CASE.

A document containing the indictments against Lieut.-Gen. Stoessel, the defender of Port Arthur; Lieut.-Gen. Fock, who commanded the Fourth East Siberian Division at Port Arthur; Maj.-Gen. Reiss, chief of staff to Gen. Stoessel, and Lieut.-Gen. Smyrnoff, who preceded Lieut.-Gen. Stoessel in command at Port Arthur, was made public July 13, 1907. These officers were ordered tried by court-martial on charges of cowardice and treason.

The indictments set forth that Stoessel and Fock deliberately sent false reports of battles that never occurred, recommended their own friends and generals, who had lost battles, for decorations, and surrendered the Port Arthur fortress in spite of the fact that they had at hand ample means for resistance. All the crimes with which Stoessel, Reiss and Fock are charged are capital offenses.

They were also charged with disregarding the order of the commander-in-chief to hand over his command at Port Arthur to Lieut.-Gen. Smyrnoff and quit the army.

The process further charged him with sending in an official report that he led troops in the battle of Kin Chow, whereas he remained at Port Arthur, and did not participate in the battle; with having decorated Lieut.-Gen. Fock for bravery in the battle of Kin Chow, which Fock lost.

TERRIFIC ARRAIGNMENT.

The summing up against Gen. Stoessel was a terrific arraignment of his conduct in an attempt to bear out the following specific charges:

Sending false reports to Gen. Kuropatkin and Admiral Alexieff regarding the battle of Tsin Chau in May, 1904.

The trial was begun on December 10, 1907. Among the evidence given was a charge that Stoessel had made a profit out of selling necessities required by the fortress. Gen. Kuropatkin's testimony was considered favorable to the defense, that the fortress was untenable. He did not conceal his animosity toward Alexieff, who refused to appear as a witness.

PORTUGAL.

PUTS END TO REPRESSION.

Franco's Policy Annulled by Royal Decree.

Political Amnesty Will Soon Be Proclaimed.

Suppressed Papers Relieved, Country Quiet.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LISBON, Feb. 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Portugal's new ministry, with King Manuel's consent, announces the inauguration of a policy of liberality and pacification, in the official gazette today.

The decree annuls all Franco's repressive measures. Permission is given to the newspapers suppressed under his régime to resume publication at once, and a political amnesty will be proclaimed without awaiting King Manuel's coronation.

The members of the new Cabinet took the oath of office, and a council followed, at which the decision was reached that it would be unwise longer to delay the return of constitutional government.

Names of all former Dictator Franco's political captives still confined in Portuguese and foreign prisons are printed by the new government's authority in the Lisbon newspapers today. The publication caused the greatest rejoicing throughout the whole country, hundreds of persons having been arrested within the past month without the knowledge of their relatives, who have had no means of learning when or how they disappeared, or whether they were alive or dead.

Visits to the prisons were permitted today for the first time in months, and many touching reunions took place in the corridors and assembly-rooms of the jails and fortresses, where the captives have been confined.

TO FREE EXILES.

Arrangements have already been made for the quiet release of these political offenders, who will be set at liberty a few at a time to avoid popular demonstrations. Large numbers of political exiles to African and other foreign penal colonies will also be brought back by the first steamships and set free.

The end of repression and the restoration of the "old liberal monarchy," which has existed in Portugal for sixty years, has had a soothing effect on the entire country. Tranquillity is reported from everywhere in the interior, and today Lisbon, basking in the brilliant sunshine, seems perfectly peaceful.

Troops are less conspicuous on the streets of the city, and if the day of the funeral passes without incident, the present phase of the crisis through which the country is passing may be regarded as at an end.

The willingness of Machado, the republican leader, and the republicans generally, to acquiesce in this situation, if their friends are released, seems to insure a return to less strenuous modes of political warfare. Generally speaking, another upheaval in the near future is considered practically impossible.

FRANCO SECLUDED.

Intense interest is shown in Franco's whereabouts. The drama centers about him, but he remains in seclusion, seemingly crushed in spirit. He declines to see correspondents to offer a defense of his policy and explain his downfall or his decision to retire completely from the political arena. His elimination is regretted by the commercial classes and foreign elements, who are convinced that his sole object was the good of the country.

The young King himself believed in Franco. The day after the tragedy, while unbosoming himself to a lifelong friend, he said:

"I intend to retain Franco. He was my father's friend, and shall be mine."

It is well known, however, that the Dowager has always been hostile to the former Premier, and latterly Queen Amelie shared the view that the dictatorship had been carried too far. She is said to have remonstrated with him that it might end in a tragedy, and invoked him in behalf of a milder course, in memory of what their own family had suffered in France.

On the day of the assassinations, amid the confusion of that memorable scene in the Arsenal quadrangle, where the royal carriage took refuge, when beside herself with grief, the Queen turned on Franco and cried:

"That is what your work has done."

YOUNG KING WINNING.

The reconciliation of these two utterances with the influences at work is believed to furnish the true key to the secret of Franco's downfall.

The young sovereign's personality is described by those who know him, as very winning. As a lad, he displayed fine, manly traits. He has considerable artistic talent, and, like his father, was exceedingly fond of outdoor sports such as tennis, riding and shooting. He was reared with great care by the devoted Queen, who took the warmest interest in the education of the Princes, both of whom spoke English, French, Spanish and Italian perfectly. The King's tutor sings the praises of the King and his dead brother.

"They were ideal young men," he said, and then told an anecdote illustrating the king's gentle nature.

As the Prince, he had always spoken of the Queen as "her majesty."

One day, however, he used the term "mother," then he turned to the tutor and said:

"I think I like the word 'mother' best. I read last night that the Queen was lost in the wife, the wife in the mother."

FOND OF AMERICANS.

It will be interesting to Americans that King Manuel is especially fond of America and Americans. In May, 1904, when he was appointed a naval apprentice, an American squadron under Rear-Admiral Barker, then at the Azores, hastened its arrival a few days at the request of the American Minister, Charles Page Bryan, in order to be present at the ceremony. The Prince was overjoyed at the courtesy, and, when speaking to Mr. Bryan since, seldom failed to recall the delight and pleasure he had in the presence of the American officers.

Preparations for the funeral of the dead King and Crown Prince are rapidly nearing completion. Mr. Bryan has received the appointment of special envoy of America. He has transmitted the resolution of sympathy adopted by the American Senate to Foreign Minister Lima, who was especially touched by the appreciative form of the condolence.

The foreign newspaper correspondents from London, Paris and Berlin are flocking into Lisbon. They seem disappointed at finding that the country is not in the throes of a revolution. The outgoing telegraph lines already are swamped and there are many delays incident to the flood of messages. Increased precautions have been taken by the authorities to prevent the spread of false or alarming reports.

RUMOR SAYS SHE WILL WED AMERICAN NEXT TIME.

Countess of Yarmouth, nee Alice Thaw, of Pittsburgh, whose unhappy marriage to a degenerate Englishman has just been legally terminated. The picture is from a sketch made when she last visited the United States.

INTERNATIONAL SCANDAL.

COUNTESS YARMOUTH FREE TO WED AGAIN.

Court, After Hearing Four Witnesses in Camera, Declares Alice Thaw's Marriage Null and Void—Wife Only in Name.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, Feb. 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Alice Thaw's marriage to the Earl of Yarmouth was declared null and void today by the president of the divorce division, Gorell Barnes, after a hearing in camera lasting twenty-five minutes. The decree was granted on the only statutory ground possible, namely: that no marriage in a proper sense of the word ever took place, that, except in name, she never was the wife of Yarmouth.

The suit was not defended. The Earl was absent, being represented by R. Newton Crane.

The hearing was fixed for 2 o'clock. At 1:30 the court was cleared and a quarter of an hour later the Countess drove up in a motor brougham, accompanied by Sir George Lewis, her solicitor.

A curious little crowd watched her enter the court. She walked down the long corridor a somewhat pathetic figure so quietly dressed that hardly a soul in the crowded corridor turned to look at her. She word a plaid tailor-made very dark blue costume, black fox stole and muff. The costume seemed designedly unobtrusive. Her dark blue picture hat was trimmed in a cluster of small blue feathers. At her throat was a tiny gold brooch set with a single diamond. There was little color in all of her costume.

She was very pale but walked with a brisk air, so brisk that the aged lawyer had to trot to keep pace with her. The doors of the court were carefully guarded.

ONLY FOUR WITNESSES.

The only persons admitted were the lawyers engaged on both sides, two medical men who gave evidence and two other witnesses.

Through the glass doors of the court a part of the proceedings was visible though not audible. Before the judge appeared, Lady Yarmouth chatted vivaciously with Lewis, who handed her a letter which she opened, read and returned to him with a slight smile.

Rufus Isaacs opened her case with a brief statement during which the Countess turned away once. Her eyes looked in his direction with just a suggestion of appeal. Once she inhaled a little gold smelling botte. Then she was examined by Mr. Bernard. With every answer she raised her chin a little in the air and then dropped her eyes as she waited for the next question. Only the constant movements of her eyelids disturbed the absolute immobility of her features.

A doctor was the next witness. He was only asked a few questions and then left the court. Another witness was a middle-aged woman dressed entirely in black and closely veiled. Her examination lasted only three minutes. In another ten minutes all of the formalities were completed and the judge made a short statement before giving his decision. Then all was over.

NO DEFENSE POSSIBLE.

It had been expected that the Earl would appear as the case was originally in the defended list. Rufus Isaacs said afterward that no defense was offered and that the only part taken by Yarmouth's lawyer was to correct Barnard of one statement.

The reason why Yarmouth withdrew the defense he had filed was because, in the face of the evidence available to the Countess, no defense was possible. There was a rumor that the decree was obtained on the ground that Yarmouth was a bigamist but this would not be ground for nullity nor would such a case be heard in camera.

It is understood that the Countess intends to drop Yarmouth's title and before long will marry an American.

The Hertford family, the head of which is the Marquis of Hertford, whose heir the Earl of Yarmouth is, is one of the oldest and proudest of the British nobility. The Marchioness of Hertford stood by her daughter-in-law throughout her troubles and exerted herself to reconcile the couple, but in vain. The family of the Earl is much distressed at the notoriety brought upon it.

DISSOLUTE NOBLEMAN.

Among all the dissolute noblemen who have ruined the happiness of ambitious girls, to whom the glamour of a title proved more potent than the dictates of their democratic education, none was less worthy of his bride than the Earl. Practically ostracized by his own family, he had tasted of the vicious life of nearly every capital in Europe. Tales of almost incredible follies had followed his career and almost from boyhood he had been regarded as beyond hope, even by his mother, the Duchess of Hertford.

It was in the hope that the fresh young beauty of the Pittsburgh girl might lure her son from his evil associates that the proud Duchess welcomed the marriage.

The collapse of this international "romance" marks the end of the most open purchase of a nobleman and a noble title by an American heiress on record. The hold-up of the Thaw family and the extortion of a huge sum by the "nobleman," while the wedding was halted and the guests waiting, was a nine days' scandal at the time of the marriage, April 27, 1902.

VARIED CAREER.

The Earl of Yarmouth, at the time of the marriage, was a penniless son of the Marquis of Hertford, and was descended from the ancient race of the Seymours. He descended, indeed, a considerable distance.

By turns he was:

A female impersonator in variety halls.

A skirt dancer in various society functions and even on the public stage.

A negro minstrel.

A would-be tragedian.

A wine agent.

Author of a series of articles on "How To Be a Lady," and "How To Be a Gentleman."

Upon coming to the United States, openly hunting an heiress to marry, he laid siege to several rich girls, but received no encouragement. He sought an alliance with the Thaw family, having met Harry Thaw and found that the family was rich. First he proposed to Miss Burd Thaw and was promptly rejected, and then he won the consent of her aunt, Miss Alice.

DEMANDED SETTLEMENT.

He demanded a settlement, and the negotiations that followed formed a masterful study in the etiquette of vulgarity. The Thaw family finally agreed to pay the Earl $5000 a year for life and dower the bride with a sum said to be $5,000,000.

At one time the creditors of the Earl were so pressing that he was arrested on a body attachment and kept in his room in custody of a constable until the Thaw lawyer arrived and took his lordship out of pawn.

When the wedding began there was a hitch. The wedding march had begun, but the bridal party failed to arrive. There was a wait of fully half an hour while the organist played the march over and over, and excitement in the church rose to the highest pitch. The Earl had demanded $10,000 a year, and a provision that the bride's dower should remain with the Hertford family after her death.

THAWS PAY CASH.

The Thaws finally agreed to the hold-up and the wedding took place. The happy bridegroom left the church with exactly $50 in his pockets, and demanded cash. Harry Thaw handed him a roll of bills containing $3000 and kicked him down the stairs. Yar-

WIFE AIDS JUDGE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Elizabeth Maxwell, wife of Municipal Judge Maxwell, by virtue of admittedly superior knowledge along certain lines, was today appointed deputy assistant municipal judge to assist her husband by both parties to a suit which hinged on whether crepe de chine is silk. "I'll tell your honor what to do," said Attorney for plaintiff. "Ask your wife what crepe de chine is and I'll abide by her opinion. If she says crepe de chine is silk, we lose; if she says it is something else, we win." Judge Maxwell looked relieved and continued the case until February 1.

SALOON CLOSING FIGHT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Pro and anti-saloon forces line up today to prepare for the most bitter of the legal fights over Sunday closing.

After five signal victories for the pro-saloon forces and as many defeats for those who are trying to bring about a "dry town" on Sunday, a sixth prosecution will be brought tomorrow against a saloon keeper who sold drinks on the Sabbath. The case is regarded as a crucial test.

RELIEF FUND SWELLED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Members of the Board of Trade have given $5000 to the relief fund of the Bureau of Charities.

ORDER IS REVOKED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SPRINGFIELD (Ill.) Feb. 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Placards which were posted in the new Supreme Court building requesting lawyers to wear fur coats when appearing before the court were taken down this morning. The judges of the Supreme Court say the placards were not printed by their authority. The matter is a mystery.

TESTIFIES AGAINST SON.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DETROIT (Mich.) Feb. 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Edward Magdefrau today testified against her eldest son, Avery Haggerty, who is on trial charged with the murder of his stepfather. If she experienced any feeling of mother love or pity for the boy while on the stand she did not manifest it, but told the story of the killing in a plain, straightforward way which was unshaken by cross-examination.

ASYLUM PATIENT KILLED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PEORIA (Ill.) Feb. 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Death immediately followed a fall sustained by John Riordan, a patient, who escaped from his berth in a cottage in the Illinois General Asylum for the Insane at Bartonville today and slipping upon the icy porch, fell over the railing to the ground.

TO HELP BOOST BRYAN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BLOOMINGTON (Ill.) Feb. 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A call was sent out today by former Vice-President A. E. Stevenson, President McLean County Bryan Club and fifteen other county presidents for a meeting at Springfield, February 21, for the purpose of organizing a State federation of Bryan clubs, all clubs which have indorsed Bryan for President to be invited to attend.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 5.—Sir Edgar Vincent, an English financier, who is now a guest with Ambassador Whitelaw Reid at the home of D. O. Mills, in Millbrae, is making his visit to the Pacific Coast, it is said, a part of a trip devoted to studying the conditions of railroad stocks and securities in the United States, with a view of directing the investment of English capital in American transportation enterprises.

Sir Edgar's visit to the Coast is understood to have as its object an investigation of Harriman's interests in the West and also of the United Railroads of San Francisco.

Before leaving the Coast Sir Edgar will journey as far south as Los Angeles, and then will return and make an extensive northern tour, carefully inspecting the physical condition of the Southern Pacific throughout California and Oregon.

TO OPEN MOKELUMNE.

Stockton District-Attorney Convinces Board of Need of Increased Navigation Facilities.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

STOCKTON, Feb. 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Dist.-Atty. McNoble has returned from Sacramento, where he went in the interest of improvements of the Mokelumne and San Joaquin.

He succeeded in convincing the river consulting board of the State engineering department that it would be beneficial to have the Mokelumne opened to navigation from the Galt-New Hope bridge to Ray's Landing, about five miles. The property owners are to pay part of the cost. A survey of the river will be made at once.

George W. Tatterson, a member of the board, brought up the matter of making cut-offs closing Finnegan Slough. The straightening out of the San Joaquin at Finnegan Slough will shorten the stream several miles and permit a straight flow of the water, thus scouring out the river.

STANFORD BOY FATALLY SHOT.

ENTERS THE WRONG HOUSE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Feb. 5. W. N. Cooley of Kalispell, Mont., a senior student in the engineering department, was shot and killed at 1 o'clock this morning by W. Uhlman, engineer at the University power-house. Cooley had been to Menlo Park and when he returned got into Uhlman's house by mistake. Mrs. Uhlman was awakened, and found Cooley groping in the hall. She called her husband, who opened the bedroom door, called twice and then fired a shot from a 22-caliber rifle at a distance of four feet.

The bullet entered Cooley's head over the eye and he died two hours after being removed to the hospital.

MISSES WIFE, KILLS HIMSELF.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SANTA ROSA, Feb. 5.—Charles Shubert of Petaluma, whose matrimonial difficulties recently brought him into the courts and resulted in his being bound over to keep the peace, committed suicide tonight at Orchard Station, near Sebastopol, after making what was very apparently an attempt to kill his wife.

Orchard is a little station on the electric road, and as the car pulled in shortly before dark, Shubert, who thought his wife would be aboard, stepped from behind a tree and levelled his gun. Mr. Rees, who had been suspicious of the man's action, called to Shubert's wife not to get off the car, and went ahead. A few seconds later Shubert took his own life.

FILE BULKY TRANSCRIPT.

IN PERRIN-BENSON CASE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 5.—A bulky transcript of the Perrin-Benson land fraud case, accompanied with the statement of errors of defendants, amounting in all to 607 pages, was filed in the United States Circuit Court of Appeals today. The document assigned 163 alleged errors to District Judge De Haven in his trial of the case, covering every possible error of omission and commission which seemed to occur to defendant's attorney. Benson and Perrin were sentenced to one year imprisonment and to pay a fine of $1000 each.

JOB HARRIMAN'S MISTAKE.

IN REVOLUTIONISTS' CASES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 5.—Attorney Job Harriman, who was to have appeared before United States Circuit Judge Ross in the Circuit Court of Appeals today and argue for the liberation of the three alleged Mexican conspirators, Ricardo Flores Magon, Antonio J. Villareal and Librado Riviera, on a writ of habeas corpus, discovered at the last minute, he said, that the petition was not properly attested. He withdrew it without prejudice, with the statement that he would endeavor to present a new one if possible.

DEFUNCT BANK ABSORBED.

COURT APPROVES ORDER.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PORTLAND, Feb. 5.—The closing chapter in the career of the Oregon Trust and Savings Bank, which failed August 20, last, was written today, when Circuit Judge Gantenbein approved the order calling for the absorption of the institution by the German-American Bank.

Hereafter the Oregon Trust Bank will exist only as an open account in the affairs of the German-American, and for the next two years Receiver Devlin will continue as custodian of this account.

BAD DREAMS CAUSE DIVORCE.

SAYS HE BEAT HER IN SLEEP.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE, Feb. 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "My husband has always been a hearty eater just before retiring and it has been a frequent occurrence for him to dream something bad about me and then beat me in his sleep," said Mrs. Rosa Westerheits to Judge Frater this morning while testifying in behalf of her application for a divorce from Herman Westerheitz.

The Westerheits have been in court before, but the first time the woman's lawyer brought about a reconciliation by inducing the husband to sign a pledge not to drink, smoke, go down town nights or eat before going to bed.

Evidently the husband has not kept his pledges, for the woman told the judge she is in danger of bodily harm. The divorce was granted.

BLAST OPENS CAVERN.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SANTA CRUZ, Feb. 5.—While a gang of prisoners were at work today blasting at the county rock quarry, in Wildcat Gulch, the face of an expansive rock ledge was blown off, exposing a huge cavern that, when explored, showed evidences of having at one time been a primitive habitation.

Rock cooking utensils, a skull and the larger bones of a human skeleton were also found, giving rise to the belief that the whole thing had been suddenly buried by a landslide, which is a thing of frequent occurrence in these mountains during the wet season.

Further investigations are to be made as soon as the earth becomes a little firmer, it having been rendered unsafe at the present time by the heavy rains.

"BULLETIN" EDITORS ARRESTED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 5.—R. A. Crothers, editor and proprietor, and Fremont Older, managing editor of the Bulletin, were arrested this morning on two charges of libel. E. P. E. Troy was the complainant in each case.

The articles on which the complaints are based were published September 19, 1907, and January 14, 1908, and referred to the affairs of the Bay Cities Water Company. Troy alleges that they are libelous on W. S. Tevis. The Bulletin says the accused are prepared to meet the charges on their merits.

Doctor Killed by Train.

SAN JOSE, Feb. 5.—The body of Dr. F. H. Moss of Palo Alto was found on the railroad track near the station at Morgan Hill this morning, completely cut in two. Dr. Moss recently had been residing on a farm at Madrone. It is presumed that he was killed by the early north bound coast train, which passed through Morgan Hill at 6 o'clock. He leaves a widow and son.

The father of Dr. Moss was for a number of years and to the time of his death, chief justice of Canada, and his uncle, Charles Moss, is now occupying that position. The family is one of the most prominent in Canada.

WASHINGTON.

STILLINGS SUSPENDED.

Promised Both Sides in All Controversies.

Unionites Disrupt Business and Rejoice.

Public Printer's Downfall May Expose Scandal.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The announcement that President Roosevelt had temporarily suspended Public Printer Charles A. Stillings, although not a surprise, caused no end of comment in all circles, especially at the big printing office and in the Capitol.

Nobody appears to be real sorry and there is no evidence of great rejoicing with the exception of a small circle of disturbing labor agitators who have for years made it impossible for the business of the establishment to be conducted properly.

It was not long after Stillings took charge of the office, November 25, 1905, until it became apparent to both the friends and enemies of the new public printer that he was not pursuing the proper course and that unless he made a change in his tactics he would in the long run make a mess of the job.

HIS VITAL MISTAKE.

He has accomplished this to the extent of being temporarily suspended and whether he has not properly conducted his office and is guilty of the charges made remains to be divulged by a complete investigation which will be inaugurated.

It is generally believed though that no matter what may be the result of the investigation Stillings will never again be public printer.

Stillings made his mistake by trying to "carry water on both shoulders." His friends who urged his appointment believed and hoped that he would to the best of his ability place the shop on a fair and square and economical basis.

They did not want him to economize to the extent of jeopardizing the usefulness of the plant. They cautioned him against radical reforms. He went to the opposite.

AGREES TOO OFTEN.

They advised him that to a certain extent it should be an open shop. Many of the influential members of organized labor, the honest and conservative union men, agreed that the government should operate an open shop printery. Stillings agreed with these people, but he also agreed with the clique of disorganizers who demanded a strictly operated closed shop.

It is said that Stillings agreed partially or in whole to the demands of every clique in and outside of the establishment and under these circumstances the present result was inevitable. Whether his reform schemes have been a success or a detriment remains to be seen.

What may be expected, however, is one of the biggest shake-ups that has occurred in a government department since the famous postoffice investigation and the scandal which followed.

UNIONITES TOO LATE.

Just as the President's action in suspending Public Printer Stillings was being announced today a committee of union leaders of this city, accompanied by Representative Carey of Wisconsin, called at the White House and presented to the President resolutions adopted by the Central Labor Union here, charging Mr. Stillings with violations of the eight-hour law in the government printing office, and added:

"It is difficult, at this time, to get witnesses against Mr. Stillings for the reason that many of them are employés in the government printing office and directly under his charge. We hope, however, to follow up our oral statement with affidavits if necessary."

The President informed the committee of the action he had already taken in the case.

Resolutions by numerous labor organizations in various cities charging violation in the government printing office of the eight-hour day, discrimination against veteran soldiers and the widows of soldiers, and violation of the civil service law, have been submitted to Congress and the President.

ROSSITER IN CHARGE.

Mr. Stillings is from Boston and was appointed Public Printer in 1905. He had been general manager of his father's printing firm in New York, and at various times manager of the Printers' Board of Trade of this city and of New York.

Mr. Rossiter also came from Massachusetts and had business connections in New York and Washington before assuming office in the Census Bureau in 1880.

President Roosevelt, in suspending as puplic printer, Charles Stillings, appointed William S. Rossiter, temporarily to fill the duties. The action, as explained officially is to facilitate the investigation now being made of the government printing office by Congress.

Mr. Rossiter was chief clerk of the census bureau.

The following correspondence relative to the government printing office was today made public by the President, the first letter, being addressed to Chairman Landis of the House Committee on Printing, signed by the President.

LETTER FROM PRESIDENT.

"The information you have given me this morning is so important that I deem it best, there should be a written record thereof. I had already begun some weeks ago, an investigation in the government printing office under Mr. Stillings, this investigation originating because of information which reached me as to the increased cost of printing to the department. I accordingly directed Mr. Havenner of the Department of Commerce and Labor to investigate and report upon this matter. His report was severely condemnatory of Mr. Stillings. I furnished Mr. Stillings with a copy and requested an answer from him which I have not yet received.

"I inclose you a copy of Mr. Havenner's report and as soon as I receive the answer I shall also forward that to you for your information and let you know what action I have taken on the report.

"You now inform me that your committee has discovered circumstances in connection with the printing office, notable in connection with the printing of and the purchase of supplies, which make you feel that there is great irregularity therein. You also inform me that you believe that the present audit system of the printing bureau serves to shield these irregularities and that the persons in charge of this system exert an undue and improper influence, not merely on the purchase of supplies for the government printing office, but in the management of the office itself.

NOTIFIES STILLINGS.

"You also say that the subcommittee feels that it cannot make a satisfactory investigation of the office while Mr. Stillings and the persons in charge of the audit system are in the office and request that I suspend Mr. Stillings pending investigation and also suspend the execution of the contract made under the audit system.

Charles A. Stillings, government printer, who has been suspended pending investigation of his office.

"I have accordingly temporarily suspended Mr. Stillings and shall put Mr. Rossiter in his place, directing him to coöperate in every way with your committee and furthermore to make a report to me on the conditions of the office."

The letter to Mr. Stillings from the President reads:

"The enclosed copies of letters to Congressman Landis and Mr. Rossiter explain themselves.

"In accordance therewith, pending the investigation, I hereby temporarily suspend you from the duties of your office, and have appointed Mr. William S. Rossiter temporarily to fill the duties thereof."

The letter to Mr. Rossiter reads:

"The enclosed copy of my letter to Congressman Landis explains itself. In accordance therewith you will assume immediate charge of the government printing office. Please place yourself in communication with Congressman Landis and afford him every facility for obtaining the information his committee desires in the investigation.

"You will also report to me in full as soon as practicable on the condition of affairs as you have found them."

PROTECTION.

URGES DOUBLE TARIFF PLAN.

BEVERIDGE URGES SENATE TO ADOPT HIS BILL.

Would Establish Permanent Commission to Advise Congress on Necessary Changes in Protective Policy and Says United States Should Pattern After Foreigners.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Senator Beveridge of Indiana today addressed the Senate in advocacy of his bill to create a permanent tariff commission. The Senator was accorded a careful hearing by both the Republican and Democratic sides of the chamber and also by the crowded galleries.

In the galleries several sections had been reserved for members of commercial and manufacturing bodies now in the city for the purpose of promoting the interests of Mr. Beveridge's bill. Senator Beveridge said in part:

"The tariff is fixed by facts; how to get at these facts is the first question in the whole tariff problem.

"Common sense and experience answer the questions. We should create a body of experts to find out these facts for us. The men should be the fittest men that can be found for this work. They should give their whole time to this work and lay before us the result of their work.

TO CREATE BOARD.

"This bill seeks to create such a commission of experts to find out the facts upon which Congress builds a tariff and to make a classification of articles to which Congress can plainly and accurately fix customs duties.

"By this bill the commission itself is not allowed to fix duties or even suggest any rate. The fixing of duties is left to Congress. The commission is kept strictly to the task of ascertaining facts and making clear classifications; the first is expert investigating work, the second expert clerical work. Neither is legislative work.

"We must have more foreign trade. We must open foreign markets to our live cattle, which are now kept out of these markets. Our manufacturers ask the same advantages in foreign trade that the German government gets for German manufacturers. American producers demand that the doors of other nations which are open to their rivals shall no longer be closed to them.

"We cannot open these doors by a purely revenue tariff, because such a tariff merely gives other nations the advantages without us getting from these other nations any advantages in return. We must have a system that gives us the same weapons that our rivals have by which we can get for our producers the same favors that rivals get for their producers.

DOUBLE TARIFF.

"We must have a maximum and minimum tariff, the first to apply to all nations that will not give our producers special favors in their markets and the last to apply to those nations that will give our producers favor in their markets. By this plan, German producers are selling more German goods abroad than any other nation. If we consider area, wealth, history and all other elements of the problem, German producers are selling more German goods abroad than any other five nations in the world put together.

Germany, Japan and the world followed our plan of a single protective tariff and then logically developed that plan into a double protective plan.

We must be as wise now as they were then, and just as they took single protective plans from us, so now we must take the double protective plan from them. Our manufacturers, our cattle men, our agriculturalists, our miners, our whole producing classes, ask only the same advantages that their rivals have in the markets of the world. They demand no more than this, but they will accept no less than this. Tariff for trade; trade for prosperity; common-sense methods for both—these must henceforth be the American watchwords in the world-wide contest for commerce."

FAVORS ENTRYMAN.

COMMITTEE MAKES REPORT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The House Committee on Public Lands today reported favorably upon the bill permitting desert land entrymen to dispose of part of their entries, instead of the whole tract, as is now necessary.

The same committee also reported favorably upon the bill authorizing the Interior Department to extend the time for completion of irrigation facilities on desert land entries. The entrymen must now complete this work within three years from entry, and many of them find it impossible to accomplish this.

WANT TARIFF LEGISLATION.

URGE MESSAGE TO CONGRESS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Thirty representatives of the National Association of Manufacturers conferred with President Roosevelt in pursuance of their desire to have him send to Congress a special message recommending the legislation providing for a tariff commission.

After the conference, J. W. Vancleave, chairman of the organization, announced that a pledge of entire secrecy regarding the conference had been taken. It was stated at the White House that no special message on the subject of a tariff commission would be sent to Congress by the President.

The delegates seemed satisfied with their interview, and some of them went so far as to say that it would be unsafe to say there would be no special message.

BUENOS AYRES SELECTED.

FOR PAN-AMERICAN CONGRESS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—At a meeting of the governing board of the Bureau of American Republics today, presided over by Secretary Root and attended by nearly all of the members in this city, it was decided that the fourth American conference should be held in the city of Buenos Ayres, May 25, 1910.

The date was selected to commemorate the achievement of independence by the South American republics.

WASHINGTON BRIEFS.

For Exhibit at Tokio Fair.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Senator Cullom's bill to provide for participation by the United States in an international exposition to be held in Tokio, Japan, in 1912 was reported favorably from the Committee on Foreign Relations today.

Philippine Agents in House.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Representation in the House was increased by two today when Legarda and Ocampa, resident Philippine commissioners, took their seats.

Railroad Men Before Committee.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—A number of representatives of the railroad trunk lines of the country today appeared before the House Committee of Interstate and Foreign Commerce and urged a modification of the act of March 4 last, arranging the hours of service of telegraph operators, train dispatchers and other employés.

Names San Diegan for Annapolis.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Representative Smith has nominated Harold Parmelee of San Diego for entrance to the Annapolis Naval Academy.

WHEELER WANTS DUTY BACK.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Benjamin Ide Wheeler, president of the University of California, has asked the Treasury Department to return to him $7.55 which he thinks was unjustly demanded as duty on two boxes of cigars sent to him as a present by a friend in Manila.

The board of general appraisers has rejected his claim. In his letter, President Wheeler says:

"I received the cigars and paid the duty because I did not care to rebuff the kindly intention of my friend across the sea.

"I do not make this protest on my own individual account, particularly, but rather that I may bring into high relief the improprieties of the Philippine tariff, and perhaps serve thereby in some slight measure the general good."

TO HOLD NOVEL CONTEST.

Servant and Society Woman Will Do Housework to Settle Question of Competency.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 5.—A dispatch to the Record-Herald from Boone, Iowa, says:

"Hanna Olson, a servant girl, who declares that domestics cannot afford to work for less than $1 a day, said yesterday she would accept the challenge of Mrs. M. J. Foster, society woman, for a week's contest in housework. Mrs. Foster alleges that $1 a day is too much for servants, that most of them are incompetent, and that she will prove it by rolling up her own sleeves and doing the work.

"Plans for the remarkable contest are going forward. The majority favor setting the two women at work each in a home of the same number of rooms and about the same conditions. A committee will be named, of which the Y.M.C.A. will furnish one member, the Boone newspapers another, and the third will be chosen by these two. One judge will stay in each house the entire week, while the third will alternate. Credits will be given for time consumed, and for condition of kitchen, bedrooms and living-rooms at noon.

DIE TOGETHER AS WISHED.

Husband's and Wife's Prayer That Forty Happy Years End for Both at Same Time Answered.

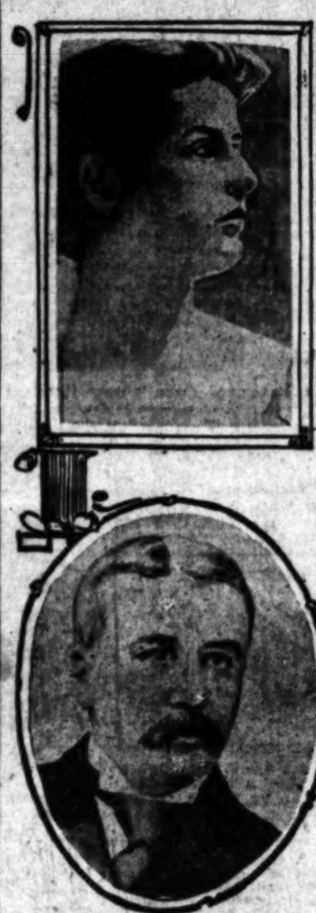
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—For forty years Adolphus Bennett and his wife, Mary Suydam Bennett, lived together in their house at the foot of Seventy-ninth street, Brooklyn. Yesterday the prayer of their later years was granted, and they died together.

No children ever came to bless them, but as property around the old farm rose in value, relatives and friends gathered around them and throughout that portion of the greater city their love and companionship became almost proverbial.

The increase in value of the old farm which has gradually given way to business buildings and residences made them wealthy, but they seemed to care nothing for that—they were happy with each other and scores of times relatives and friends have heard them say that all they wished was that they might pass into the great unknown together.

Monday Mr. Bennett came to New York to attend to some business and returned to his home late that night, to find his wife had been suddenly taken ill. Doctors were summoned, but the illness, an attack of apoplexy, proved fatal. When he was told that his wife was dead, Mr. Bennett retired to his own room and his voice was heard in fervent prayer. When relatives went to his room after the sound of his voice had ceased, they found him dead, his last prayer answered. Death was due to shock, the doctors said; death came as he had always wished it, say his relatives.



C. W. Morse and wife.

that he could reach him at the proper time, but found it most difficult. Morse has had no office downtown since he was driven out of the National Bank of North America. Since then he spent most of his time in his Fifth-avenue home and rarely went downtown.

Late Tuesday night Mr. Hanna was informed that earlier in the day Morse had left the city and had probably sailed for Europe. Mr. Hanna said he confirmed today the fact of Morse's departure and immediately took steps to protect the bank.

A lis pendens was filed with the County Clerk against the Morse residence, No. 728 Fifth avenue. The house stands on a plot 27x125 feet and being within seventy-three feet of Fifty-seventh street, "the millionaire's four corners," where the mansions of Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, Mrs. Collis P. Huntington, Harry Payne Whitney and Mrs. Herman Oelrichs are located. It is one of the most valuable residential sites of its size in the city. It is doubtful, however, that Morse owns a sufficient equity in the property to satisfy more than a very small portion of the $243,000 attachment.

Morse found while the panic was in full swing that the only way he could raise ready money was by putting mortgages on his Fifth-avenue home. He borrowed a total of $500,000 in this manner, which must be satisfied before anything is available for the $243,000 attachment filed by Receiver Hanna.

MORSE'S TROUBLES.

Troubles have been piling thick and fast on Morse ever since last October. He was involved in the unsuccessful corner in United Copper stock engineered by F. Augustus Heinze, which marked the beginning of the panic. When the corner went to pieces and United Copper stock came crashing down, it was reported that Mr. Morse had sold out the other members of the pool and had caused the slump. As the stock and bonds of the Consolidated Steamship Company—the latest and greatest Morse undertaking—also declined with sensational rapidity when the corner failed, it is a question just what part the Morse transaction played in the affair.

The failures of Otto Heinze & Co., and of Gross & Kleeberg were soon announced.

Then followed in quick succession the resignation of Morse from all the banking institutions with which he wa connected, the failure of the Knickerbocker Trust Company, the closing of the Hamilton bank and half a score of small Brooklyn and Harlem institutions, the forced withdrawal of Edward R. Thomas and Orlando F. Thomas from the banking field, the suicide of Charles L. Birney and the spread of the panic over the United States, and the civilized world.

On October 29, at the beginning of the panic, Mr. Morse mortgaged his Fifth avenue house for $350,000 to John E. Berwind. The property carried a prior mortgage of $150,000.

With the subsidence of the panic the weakness of the so-called Morse banks become apparent and this culminated recently in the suspension of the National Bank of North America, and the New Amsterdam National Bank, which were looked upon as the two most important Morse institutions. Then followed the receivership for the Consolidated Steamship Company and several of its subsidiaries.

Mr. Morse and the late Charles L. Birney organized the American Ice Company ten years ago and Mr. Morse first came into prominence in connection with this company.

Stockholders Ask Court to Vacate the Order Relating to Purchase of Worthless Securities.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—Fraud in connection with the purchase of $212,313 worth of alleged worthless securities is charged against Joy Morton, B. F. Demuth, W. F. Morrisson and other directors of the Jackson Trust and Savings Bank, in a bill filed today in the Circuit Court by certain dissatisfied stockholders of the bank.

The court is asked to vacate a transfer of the leasehold of the bank to the Railway Exchange Bank, organized by Morton and others for the purpose, it is charged, of taking over the securities classed as worthless and with the intention of discontinuing the Jackson Trust and Savings Bank, following a refusal by the State Bank Examiner to approve the securities in question. It is also asked that a sale of the securities to Gilbert C. Pryor, as trustee in 1906, be declared valid and binding.

It is charged that the transfer of the securities was in the nature of a fictitious sale for the purpose of reëstablishing confidence in the bank following a run upon it, and that the complainants will suffer loss by a refund of money advanced by Pryor for securities.

RECEIVER ATTACHES ALL MORSE'S PROPERTY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—Following the institution of an action in the Supreme Court today against Charles W. Morse, the banker, by Charles A. Hanna, the United States Bank Examiner, to recover $243,321, the balance due on certain promissory notes given by Mr. Morse to the National Bank of North America, in September and October last, and the announcement that a judgment by default for $155,753 was entered today in the county clerk's office against Morse in favor of Robert Smith, Mr. Hanna, who is receiver for the National Bank of North America, tonight made the following statement:

"The receiver was informed late Tuesday evening that Mr. Charles W. Morse had probably gone to Europe or departed elsewhere from New York earlier in the day, to be gone for an indefinite period. This information being confirmed by those in charge of the Morse residence, the receiver took measures this morning to attach such of Mr. Morse's assets in New York as he was able to locate. A writ of attachment was obtained and served upon a number of banks and bankers in the downtown district, and a lis pendens was served upon Mr. Morse's Fifth avenue residence."

Puzzling Condition of Market Believed to Be Due to Liquidation of Collateral Used by Certain Capitalists to Raise Money During the Stringency Last October.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It has been established, to the satisfaction of most persons interested in the matter, that the weakness of the Rock Island issues at the beginning of this week and for several days previous, was largely, if not wholly, due to the liquidation of collateral pledged last October by certain capitalists who needed help.

They were unable to take up the loan upon its recently falling due and the bankers who had afforded the relief at a critical time felt justified in selling the securities.

This confirmed the assertions made at every authoritative source, while the weakness of Rock Island securities was making Wall street feel uneasy, that there was absolutely nothing in the financial affairs of the company or companies to warrant their decline. It is further believed that the liquidation has been completed.

RAILROADS REFUSE RATE.

FOR LABOR CONVENTION.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

DENVER (Colo.) Feb. 5.—Refusal of eastern railroads to make a special rate to this city next November may cause Denver to lose the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor, scheduled to take place at that time.

President Samuel Gompers has notified Vice-President Max Morris of this city that the Western Passenger Association has refused to authorize reduced rates to the convention, and asked him to bring the subject to the attention of local unions with a view to bringing pressure upon the railroads to grant reduced rates.

If this is not accomplished the convention may go to another city.

RAILS TO BE HEAVIER.

SPECIFICATIONS AGREED ON.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel Corporation board, stated yesterday that the steel rail manufacturers and many of the railroads had reached a satisfactory arrangement in regard to specifications for steel rails. The new specifications provide a heavier rail with improved section and with the practice in manufacture somewhat improved.

The additional cost of the new rails, if any, is to be paid by the purchasers.

Railway Cuts High Salaries.

Would Suspend Foreign Car Payment.

CHICAGO, Feb. 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] At a meeting of the car-efficiency bureau of the American Railway Association today, it was decided to recommend to the Executive Committee the suspension of the per-diem rules requiring payment of 50 cents a day for use of foreign cars. There is a big surplus of cars, and the railroads are spending large sums in hauling them home empty.

Court Holds Hotel Men May Refuse to Harbor Women Alone After Six O'clock.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—That hotel men of New York have a right to refuse food and entertainment to a woman after 6 o'clock at night, when unaccompanied by a man, was the verdict of a jury today in a test case brought by Mrs. Harriet Stanton Blatch, a well-known suffragette, against the Hoffman House, in the Twelfth District Court.

Mrs. Blatch announced she would appeal the case and try to obtain a decision for her sex.

Mrs. Blatch brought suit for $500 against the hotel because on July 12, last, service was refused to her because the hour was past 6 o'clock, and she was unaccompanied by a man.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PEKIN, Feb. 5.—A customs agreement with regard to Manchuria has been concluded between China and Russia, and China has notified Japan that she today opened stations for the collection of customs on the Western Manchurian frontier and that similar stations on the eastern frontier will be opened February 7.

Japan has completed the restoration to Russia of certain property of which she became possessed at the time of the capture of Port Arthur. Included in the list are the records of the Russo-Chinese Bank.

mouth pocketed the roll and the insult. He and his bride were held-up at the door by his creditors and again the "nobleman" had to be taken out of pawn by the Thaw purse.

When the first trial of Harry Thaw for the murder of Stanford White took place, the Earl and Countess quarreled violently over her determination to attend the court, and he positively forebade her to go to America for the second hearing. This, it is believed, was the last straw that led to the suit.

COUNTESS TO RETURN TO PITTSBURGH HOME.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PITTSBURGH (Pa.) Feb. 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Broken in health and spirits and longing for nothing except to bury herself in the seclusion of her former home, Alice Thaw, who, until today, was the Countess of Yarmouth, will return to Pittsburgh immediately and with her mother, another broken-hearted woman, who was so short time ago the proud and brilliant leader of Pittsburgh society, will try to forget the sorrow that has wrecked her young life. Already the home of Mrs. William Thaw is being prepared for the arrival of the former countess, and she is expected here within a few weeks.

While Harry Thaw is spending his time in an insane asylum, the two unfortunate women will hide themselves in their home here, which Alice Thaw left such a short time ago as the bride of the English nobleman. When the courts decide that Harry Thaw is sane enough to be permitted at large, the family plans to go to some unknown country—Mrs. William Thaw, Alice and Harry—there to spend the remainder of their days in seclusion. Whether this plan shall include the wife of Harry Tnaw has not been definitely settled.

Mrs. William Thaw and her daughter are willing that she should accompany them provided Harry insists on it and it is but another sacrifice that these two unfortunate women have made for the man who is now numbered among the criminal insane at Matteawan.

Always a proud and high spirited girl, there is scarcely a possibility that Alice Thaw will ever take her place in society again. Since her practical abandonment by the Earl of Yarmouth, the Countess has been spending her time almost exclusively in the society of her dogs, to whom she has become more attached than ever during her troubles.

It is asserted positively here today that the price paid by Alice Thaw to be freed from her husband is a continuance of the allowance that she settled on him. The income from her private fortune amounts to $80,000 annually, and she set aside a sufficient sum to pay the Earl $40,000 a year throughout life.

Since their marriage she has, in addition, maintained and refurnished the Earl's home.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DETROIT (Mich.) Feb. 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Baron Maximilian Rautenberg, scion of one of Austria's oldest and most aristocratic houses, is charged with extreme cruelty by his exceedingly beautiful wife, formerly Sofie Winkler Newkirk, a singer at the Paris Opera, in a suit for divorce filed today.

The divorce bill is suppressed but the Baroness explained that the charges of cruelty comprise allegations that the Baron has given too free rein to his Bohemian inclinations in the two years they have lived in America. He is the idolized leader of a decidedly gay coterie of care-free men and women of fashion, she says, but he has never permitted his wife to join the select circles. Instead, she insists, he has devoted his attention to other women in the Bohemian world he has ruled.

URGES MARE ISLAND WORK.

Secretary Metcalf Tells Committee That Channel to Navy Yard Should Be Investigated.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Secretary Metcalf of the Navy Department today appeared before the House Naval Committee to discuss the appropriation bill now before them.

It was decided at the suggestion of Mr. Metcalf that the government should make extensive investigations of the condition of the channel leading to the Mare Island navy yard and report to Congress at its next session the appropriation necessary to put it in perfect condition, which would include a deepening of the channel.

The committee, however, expects to make substantial appropriations for further work at the yard this year and to award it sufficient funds to operate on a large scale during the next year.

In case the report referred to is ready for Congress by next session, it is believed that there will be little trouble in getting sufficient funds, either through the naval appropriation bill or the river and harbor improvement bill, to carry out the recommendations of the examining board.

BRYAN DROPS SILVER.

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—William J. Bryan was asked today whether his Carnegie Hall speech of last night had been intended to include and intimate that free coinage of silver was still a public issue. Mr. Bryan replied:

"No, free silver is not an issue. What I said last night had no connection with the silver question. I simply referred to it to show that change that had taken place in the arguments that are being made at the present time.

"The silver question was an issue in 1896 because prices were falling and there was no other relief in sight. Since gold production has materially increased prices are rising, or were until the recent panic, and will again, as soon as normal conditions are restored. The silver question therefore will not be an issue."

ALBANY (N. Y.) Feb. 5.—Exclusive Dispatch.] Atty.-Gen. Jackson made a formal demand upon Gov. Atty.-Gen. Jackson gives numerous reasons for breaking loose at this period of the Hearst-McClellan fight to ask for this extraordinary term of court. In a lengthy communication to the Governor, reviewing all the legal aspects of the Hearst-McClellan fight, Jackson says in part:

"Without intending any reflections upon the judges in New York county, owing to the intense partisan feeling that has been aroused by this election controversy, it would seem that the public interests would best be subserved by the designation of a trial justice from a section of the State away from the controversy. This would have the additional reason in its favor of not taking a justice away from the busy calendar in New York county."

The Governor has taken the Attorney-General's request under consideration.

He recommends that State and county moneys be not withheld from the school, this being the penalty for the violation of the law. The State superintendent has taken the matter under advisement until he can hear from the trustees and principal of the school.

BRICKLAYERS QUIT COUNCIL IN DISGUST AT LEADER.

San Francisco Unionites in Row After Discovery That McCarthy Was Knifing Organization While Pretending to Be Pleading in Its Behalf at Convention.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Bricklayers' Union has withdrawn from the Building Trades' Council because of disgust over the double dealing of Pin Head McCarthy, head of the Council. Last night the Bricklayers for the first time realized why it was they had been taken from the tile setting which they had always considered part of their work.

McCarthy, affecting to plead for them before the Building Trades' Council, when the dispute over the tile setting first arose several weeks ago, was at the same time doing his best to defeat them in the Council. When they appealed to the State Building Trades' Council, which met at Santa Cruz three weeks ago, the vote that cost them victory was cast by a McCarthy henchman, who had proxies aggregating 21,900 votes which carried the convention against them.

They took the case of the National Convention at Detroit which upheld them but when they referred this article to McCarthy he said he could do nothing about it.

The result of the quarrel will probably be the tying up of much building unless contractors and architects force McCarthy to listen to reason as they did on the Mills Building.

If the damage done to San Francisco by McCarthy were computed, it would run into large amounts, as since the earthquake he has done everything in his power to stir up trouble among the unions.

TEN THOUSAND LAID OFF.

Lack of Orders May Entirely Close the Baldwin Locomotive Works in Short Time.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 5.—Ten thousand men have been laid off since December by the Baldwin Locomotive Works of this city because of lack of orders for engines.

Samuel M. Valentine, a member of the firm, in speaking of the conditions at the works, said:

"No substantial orders have come in since December. We have received a few scattered orders and we are working upon these now. Whereas we were formerly turning out about sixty locomotives a week, we are now turning out only twenty, and we will have finished up all our work in a short time. Then, unless we receive some substantial orders in the meantime, we will have to close.

"Our full working force is about 19,000 men, but the lack of orders has compelled us to lay off 10,000 workmen since December. The heaviest lay-off started about January 1."

"What has been responsible for this?" was asked.

"Lack of orders, not only from American, but European sources. Japan is in financial trouble and is sending us no orders at all. It is the same everywhere, not only in America, but the other countries from which we have received orders."

UNEMPLOYED AFTER WORK.

Pittsburgh Plans Public Improvements That Will Relieve Part of the Distress.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 5.—With immediate work for only about 3000 men in sight, the City Hall was stormed today by the "unemployed," and 6000 application blanks were issued by the Civil Service Commission. Tonight a rush order for 5000 more blanks was sent to the printers.

The relief measures provided by the ordinance appropriating $220,000 for public improvements in order to employ the idle men now appear inadequate, but much good will result notwithstanding.

It is planned to give men with families preference over bachelors, and also equalize hours so that the work will last as long as possible.

STEEL MEN BACK.

ONE THOUSAND EMPLOYED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PHILADELPHIA (Pa.) Feb. 5.—One thousand men, formerly employed by the Pennsylvania Steel Company at Steelton, Pa., have been called back to work after an enforced idleness of more than a month.

Rush orders from New York for structural material for municipal buildings and an order for rails from the New York City Railway Company warranted the company in increasing its present force to 2500 men, or about 40 per cent. of the normal force.

Confer With Glass Workers.

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 5.—A joint conference of window glass manufacturers and workers was held here today. The purpose of the meeting was to bring the new union, the National Window Glass Workers, successor of the dissolved Amalgamated Window Glass Workers of America, and the employers together for a discussion of conditions. President A. L. Faulkner of the union says of eighty-five locals, covering nine States in the old union, all but two have joined the new organization.

ENDS REPRESSION.

Both commercial and press telegrams are examined to see that they conform to the regulations forbidding the transmission of anything inimical to the public security or irreverent to the royal family.

Premier Ferreira held a lengthy conference today with Premier Castro and Senhor Vilheina, respectively, the leaders of the progressists and regenerator parties, on what measures should be taken for speedy reëstablishment of a parliamentary régime, in which efforts the ministry is receiving the support of the press almost without exception.

The leading partisans of the pretender, Dom Miguel, have called at the palace and offered their condolences. All the governors of provinces and other high officials have sent in their resignations.

The commission appointed under the dictatorship to replace the elected municipality officials has resigned.

FRANCO'S FATHER MOBBED.

Franco's father was attacked by a mob in one of the principal streets today.

The King has signed three decrees. One of these repeals the decrees issued by Franco which restricted the freedom of the press; another repeals a decree issued on January 31, which suspended the privilege of immunity from prosecution of members of the Parliament and extended the powers of the criminal examining judges. The members of Parliament will now be liberated. The Official Gazette, will publish these decrees tomorrow.

In spite of the present tranquillity throughout the country, there are pessimists who believe that revolutionary activity is more widely spread than appears on the surface, and that the situation is not improved by the combination of a young and inexperienced King under the domination of a widowed mother with reactionary tendencies, a makeshift ministry, and a Premier who is a Socialist rather than a statesman.

FEAR FRANCO.

The pessimists have found additional argument in the report that Franco, although his downfall is complete, does not intend that the campaign which he undertook shall be abandoned.

He is arranging for the selection of a new leader for the regenerator-progressist party. This means the continuation of a three-cornered struggle, from which the republicans expect to derive benefit in the future as they have in the past. Franco's admirers believe that it means his dramatic reëntry on the political scene at an opportune moment.

The decision not to expose the bodies of the late King and Crown Prince to the public at the palace tomorrow, but only at the church after the ceremonies, is also interpreted as an evidence of nervousness in high places.

The Cabinet today proceeded with the work of demolishing the measures promulgated through the dictatorship. It held its session in the Arcade overlooking the spot at an angle of Blackhorse Square where the King and his son were murdered.

KING MANUEL REALIZES HIS UNPREPAREDNESS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LISBON, Feb. 5.—King Manuel has expressed in the strongest terms to his ministers his determination to adhere unswervingly to the Constitution and never, under any circumstances, to resort to a dictatorship while he reigns.

It is learned that King Carlos held, among other insurance policies, on his life, one with the New York Life Insurance Company for $25,000; one with the Urbaine Company of Paris for $30,000, and one in a South American company for $50,000.

King Manuel uttered the following touching words to a Statesman, who was among the first to offer his services:

"I am terrified at the death of my father and brother, and especially at the death of my brother, whom I greatly loved. He was much more capable to reign than I am. His education had prepared him to govern; his recent trip through the Portuguese colonies was part of that education, while only yesterday I was taking music lessons and have been given no such special education for kingship. But my heart and life, all I have and shall have, I will give to the people for their happiness and well-being."

The new Premier has declared to the Cabinet that he intends to enforce respect for the laws and public order, for which the present Constitution is amply sufficient.

"I am no politician," he said. "I belong to no group and have no programme. I am a sailor and accustomed to knowing where the danger lies and, if we are ordered to go where there is danger, we will go. The King is young, indeed, but he has the finest of dispositions, grand and noble ideas and a profound love for his country."

OPORTO REVOLUTIONISTS WIN BRIEF VICTORY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

MADRID, Feb. 5.—A special dispatch received here from Lisbon states that revolutionists in Oporto made a sudden and determined attack on the city hall. They took the municipal guard by surprise and succeeded in forcing an entrance. Then they hoisted the red flag of revolution on the big tower.

Their triumph, however, was short lived, as reinforcements of police soon arrived and drove out the revolutionists and tore down their banners. Many were wounded on both sides.

TURNS STATE'S EVIDENCE.

Architect Huston Testifies Through Assistant, Against Co-Defendants in Graft Prosecution.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

HARRISBURG (Pa.) Feb. 5.—Architect Joseph M. Huston virtually turned State's evidence by proxy against his co-defendants, Contractor Sanderson, Former Auditor General Snyder, Former State Treasurer Mathues and Former Superintendent of Grounds and Buildings Shumaker, in the trial for conspiracy today in the Dauphin county court.

Through his assistant, Stanford B. Lewis, the architect, who remained in seclusion in his room at a hotel near the court house, and was accessible only to his lawyers and confidential friends, gave damaging testimony against Sanderson and the former State officers.

Judge Kunkel dispensed with tomorrow's session to allow one of the jurors to attend the funeral of his brother's child.

MISS HARRIMAN OPERATED UPON

BALTIMORE (Md.) Feb. 5.—Miss Carol Harriman, daughter of Edward H. Harriman, of New York, was operated upon for ear trouble at Johns Hopkins Hospital today. Later, Miss Harriman's condition was reported to be satisfactory and a rapid recovery was expected.

Mr. and Mrs. Christian Geisler, of 3434 A Street, Philadelphia, Pa., Have Just Celebrated Their Golden Wedding. Mr. Geisler Has Been Cured of Chronic Bronchitis, Mrs. Geisler of Grip and Indigestion by Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey.

In a letter just received, Mr. Geisler wrote: "I had a very bad case of chronic bronchitis. After trying other remedies was cured by Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. My wife had grip and indigestion, and is being rapidly restored to health by Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. We can see a daily improvement in her. We have been married over fifty years. I send you this testimonial with pleasure, as I wish others to be benefited by Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey as we have been. I heartily indorse it as a tonic-stimulant."

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

is an absolutely pure distillation of malted grain, great care being used to have every kernel thoroughly malted, thus destroying the germ and producing a predigested liquid food in the form of a malt essence, which is the most effective tonic stimulant and invigorator known to science; softened by warmth and moisture, its palatability and freedom from injurious substances render it so that it can be retained by the most sensitive stomach.

Sold by druggists, grocers and dealers or direct, $1 a bottle. Write Dr. R. Curran, Consulting Physician, for a free Illustrated Medical Booklet containing a few of the many convincing testimonials received from grateful men and women who have been cured, and free advice. BAD-LOOKING RACE.

BAN PLACED UPON CRESTON.

Judge Hamilton Orders His Entry Refused.

De Arman's Colt Runs Disgraceful Race.

E. Martin May Ride Only for Pasadena Stable.

BY BEN S. LEMMON.

Pending an investigation of the fourth race at Arcadia yesterday, wherein Preen, a rank outsider, defeated the De Arman entry, Creston and Early Tide, Botanist, Veil and Amundsen, Judge Hamilton has ordered that the further entry of Creston be refused, and that Apprentice E. Martin be barred from riding for any except the Pasadena Stable in the future.

Preen is owned by Barney Schreiber, who is one of the owners of the track. Martin rode Creston, which with Early Tide was coupled as the De Arman entry and installed favorite in the Old Baldy Handicap. Creston was the one which appeared to have the best chance to win the race and it was because of his good and consistent performances that the De Arman entry was always favorite at 8-to-5. Creston ran a disgraceful race, finishing last and being beaten ten lengths.

Said Judge Hamilton last night: "The race looked bad to me. I didn't like it a little bit, especially Creston's performance. I shall examine the bookmakers' sheets and make other investigation, pending the result of which, I have ordered Creston's entry refused and ruled that Martin shall ride only for his own stable."

Judge Hamilton seemed to think that Preen's last previous race justified his startling performance yesterday. His suspicions about the race were aroused by Creston's miserable showing.

Undoubtedly something was "rotten in the State of Denmark." Creston is one of the classiest, speediest, gamest handicap sprinters at the track. Since the first day of the meeting he has started fourteen times, won eight races and never, until yesterday, been beaten more than one length.

Creston has beaten the best horses at the track time and again. Rosegal, Magazine, Sir Edward, Pretension, Lisaro, Mark Anthony, Col. Bob, Waterbury, Old Settler and Stanley Fay all have tied up with De Arman's Creston at one time or another only to be defeated.

The only time Creston met Preen (January 10) the former won easily and the distance, five furlongs, was suited to Preen which does not love a route. On that occasion Preen carried 116 pounds and Creston 111. Yesterday they carried exactly the same weights and Preen beat Creston ten lengths. Judge Hamilton may well investigate. The race smelleth.

M. E. De Arman, the owner of Creston, is also the owner of Early Tide, which beat Ingham, the day the latter was a 1-to-2 shot. Mr. De Arman also owns Harvel and the Harvel-Whidden race is still the subject of frequent race-track argument. It is singular that the De Arman stable figured in the three races of the meeting over which there has been most vigorous questioning.

Looking at yesterday's race from another standpoint, that of Preen's past performances, the race assumes an even more suspicious hue. Preen has started six times and has always stopped at six furlongs. On January 29, Preen, carrying 106 pounds (ten pounds less than he had up yesterday) was easily beaten by Col. White at a mile in 1:42 2-5. On January 14, Preen, carrying 105 pounds, ran eighth in a field of eight, beaten twelve lengths, going six and one-half furlongs in 1:20 4-5. On January 10, Creston, carrying 111 pounds, beat Preen, 116 pounds, going five furlongs in 1:00 1-5 by one length. On January 4, Preen ran next to last in a field of six horses, being beaten thirteen lengths, going seven furlongs in 1:24 1-5. On January 4, Preen, with 109 pounds up, was beaten four lengths and one-half, going seven furlongs in 1:24 2-5. On December 31, Preen was beaten six lengths and one-half by F. E. Shaw and other selling platers, going six furlongs in 1:13. Now Preen is owned by Barney Schreiber, one of the owners of Arcadia. Preen was bet on every time he started until yesterday. Twice he was the favorite, twice the second choice and twice the third choice in the betting. Yesterday he was the outsider. Early Tide, Botanist, Creston and Veil all figured to beat him. What happened? Preen rolled home. He was 7 to 1. He led all the way and won with something to spare. The books reaped a harvest. The suckers lost their money. Luck of the game, you say? Is it luck which makes a nag lose five times at a short price and beat as good or a better field than he ever met when 7 to 1? Is this the law of chance or is it something deeper, more sinister?

It is a sad commentary on the Arcadia racing that the horses owned by the owners of the track are the most inconsistent ones running there. Preen was a hot horse going to the post. Roy Offutt, who had the contract on Jockey Ross who rode Preen, yesterday, knew that Preen was going to win. All of Mr. Hildreth's good money, burned up on Veil; all of Mr. DeArman's velvet lost on Early Tide; all of the public's hard-earned dollars lost on the first and second and third choices. It was Preen's day. This is horse racing. Such is the game.

There are many crooks and angles in the racing game. Quite as many of the former as of the latter. Salaried clerks, managers and others who persist in playing the game may as well make up their minds to this fact. Yesterday's racing at Arcadia was worthy of note for one reason: it demonstrated the fact that form counts as nothing against the premeditated and carefully conceived results as they are recorded.

Take the first race for instance: Golden Rule is a high-class animal, a bit passe it is true, but nevertheless worth a bet to beat such beetles as were opposed to him in this event. Golden Rule won his last out, January 17, cantering, with 119 pounds on his back, five furlongs in 1:01 2-5. He led all the way and was eased up at the end. That day he was 5 to 1 in the betting. Yesterday, he was favorite at even money in the high-weight purse event, first on the card. He was ridden by Schilling, said to be the best post boy at the track, and was off eighth in a field of ten. He had no speed, showed nothing at any stage of the race, could not get out of his own way, stumbled when Schilling let his head fall in the stretch and ran a disgraceful seventh, beaten twelve lengths.

It is of such races as this that the Arcadia judges should take cognizance. Jockey Schilling has developed a penchant for losing on heavily-played favorites. The bookmakers take wide liberties with favorites ridden by Schilling. They almost invariably lose. The boy can get any kind of a long shot off in front and keep him there but he seems absolutely unable to get a favorite off in front, even though that favorite has the foot of the party and has always outbroken his fields. It is such races which disgust the public with the "sport of kings" and make them wonder how the game is permitted to live.

Three favorites won yesterday: Hampass, 3 to 5; Uncle Henry, 1 to 2, and Mary F., 2 to 5. Aunt Polly won the first race which Golden Rule should have won had he been well meant and well ridden. Hampass, next to Achieve, is the best two-year-old at the track and had a right to win the juvenile event. Lucky Lad, at 30 to 1, won the third in a romp. Shriner had the mount else Lucky Lad would have been played on his form. As it was, the bettors couldn't see Shriner and so lost their money on Escamado, the favorite, which ran a miserable race. Slippery, Alice Carey and a few other good things.

The books had much the better of the day's argument. The racing was unformful and several things occurred which merit judicial investigation. Results:

RESULTS OF RACES.

JOCKEY BADLY HURT.

TWO HORSES FALL HEAVILY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

OAKLAND, Feb. 5.—In the fourth race at Emeryville, this afternoon, Blanche C. fell, throwing Jockey A. Walsh against the fence. Eduardo, the next horse, tripped over the fallen animal and also fell. Walsh was cut about the head by Eduardo's hoof and severely hurt. At first it was thought he was killed.

Shenandoah won the race with the greatest ease. Dolly Dollars came on strong and outgamed The Englishman for the place. In the third event, Tawasentha had too much speed for her field and made a runaway race of it. The track was very muddy.

Futurity course, selling: Emily M, 95 (Gilbert,) 8 to 5, won; Rose Cherry, 101 (Coles,) 6 to 1, second; Letitia S, 100 (Kirschbaum,) 50 to 1, third; time 1:14 4-5. Bertie A., Mabel Hollander, Mala, Miss Charity, Lady Bache, Zinda, Charlotte B., Dubar and Hellsme finished as named.

Three furlongs, purse: On Parole, 112 (Scoville,) 8 to 5, won; Modena, 113 (Keogh,) 12 to 5, second; J. W. Furer, 104 (Fisher,) 40 to 1, third; time 0:37 1-5. Coppit, Quake, Ray Welch and Enamour finished as named.

Futurity course, selling: Tawasentha, 107 (J. Hayes,) 9 to 5, won; Emma G., 97 (J. Carroll,) 10 to 1, second; Bal Reed, 90 (Kirschbaum,) 25 to 1, third; time 1:14 2-5. Ambitious, Eudora, Zelina, Abbey, May Pink, Meada and Belle of Iroquois finished as named.

Mile, selling: Shenandoah, 105 (J. Hayes,) 7 to 10, won; Dollie Dollars, 104 (Charboneau,) 10 to 1, second; The Englishman, 107 (Sandy,) 21 to 5, third; Time 1:48. Volodyi, Happy Rice and Allefbiades finished as named. Blanche C. and Eduardo fell.

Mile and a sixteenth, selling: Maxtress, 105 (Gilbert,) 3 to 1, won; Altair, 86 (Charboneau,) 7 to 1, second; Funny Side, 101 (Mentry,) 5 to 1, third; time 1:55 3-5. Celeres, Elevation, Flaunt, Hooligan, J. R. Laughrey, Sophomore and Leonardsdale finished as named.

Mile and three-sixteenths, purse: Treasure Seeker, 102 (Rice,) 17 to 10, won; Graphite, 105 (C. Miller,) 6 to 1, second; Mandator, 107 (Harris,) 6 to 1, third; time 2:07 1-5. Miss Rillie and Janeta finished as named.

Racing at New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 5.—Fair Grounds results:

Six furlongs, selling: Estelle C. won, Bainrida second, Stoneman third; time 1:15 3-5.

Seven furlongs: Ananias won, Consistent second, Jack Witt third; time 1:28 3-5.

Five furlongs: Toby Boy won, Come On Sam second, Momentum third; time 1:01 4-5.

Four furlongs, the Premier Stakes: Sea Swell won, Marse Abe second, Intervene third; time 0:50 4-5.

Six furlongs: Lens won, Al Muller second, Hyperion II third; time 1:17.

Mile and seventy yards: Doona won, Sam Taylor second, Tivolini third; time 1:49 4-5.

Mile and three-sixteenths: Besterling won, John McBride second, St. Bellaire third; time 2:07 3-5.

DIAMOND SPORT.

POLY BOYS TIE WITH SAINTS.

LAFFERTY AND KERFOOT PITCH FINE GAME OF BALL.

Game to Be Played Out Saturday When Teams Meet Again on College Diamond—Preps. Play Errorless Game and Have a Shade Over Collegians—Many Strike-outs.

The Saints and Polytechnic baseball teams went nine fast innings to a tie score on the former's diamond, yesterday afternoon. Darkness put an end to the game in the ninth with the score 3 to 3. Both teams will meet again Saturday.

The High School boys played an errorless game and if anything had a shade over the collegians. Malone, the Poly backstop, presented the Vincentians with two of their runs, his ragged throwing to bases allowing the Saints to tie the score in the eighth period.

Both Lafferty and Kerfoot pitched good ball and kept the hits well scattered. Kerfoot twirled his first game for St. Vincent's and after walking three men in the first period settled down, finishing the contest with eleven strike-outs to his credit. Lafferty was a trifle wild at times hitting several of the opposing batters.

Cleveland made a pretty catch of Gray's high fly in the opening inning, falling into the bleachers after a hard run. Gray's stab of a low liner from Price's bat in the third was another feature of the work in the outer gardens. Lamer on short did clever work, as did Yabarrondo on third.

Ontario Basketball.

ONTARIO, Feb. 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Chino High School girls' basketball team was defeated for the first time, this afternoon, by the Ontario High School girls. Owing to the fast playing of the Ontario guards and to the accurate basket throwing of Miss Duncan, Ontario won, 23 to 5. Chino made but one field goal. Next Saturday Ontario will play Pomona for the girls' championship of the Citrus Belt League.

PUGS STIRRED UP.

FIGHTERS ARE MUCH EXCITED.

Nelson Wants Another Battle for Big Side Bet.

Britt After Bat for Match at Lightweight Limit.

Instead of having the fight situation settled in a way by the defeat of Bat Nelson by the Boer, on Tuesday night, there is more woe for the good pugs than before, for all of them are excited. Nelson is sadly roaming around town with the idea that he won the fight; the Boer is threatened with a chance to become an actor on account of his victory; Willus Britt, the Human Smokestack, is here from San Francisco, flashing $2500 of real money for a match between Jimmy Britt and either the Boer or Nelson; and the Bat will bet his own money to any amount that he can beat the Boer in ten or twenty rounds.

This should be enough to keep the local fight bugs guessing, and it is possible there may be developments today. There does not seem to be much of a chance for the Boer and Nelson to come together again for several months, owing to the probability that the Boer will "go on the stage." It is reported that he has offers of a week in a theater at Salt Lake and five or six at St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth and other cities in Minnesota, and if he makes this tour he may go on to Boston. He would be absent at least two months.

Britt and Nelson may do business today, as a fight between them now appears to be a question of one pound in the weight. Britt will meet Nelson at 133 pounds at 6 o'clock the night of the fight, and Nelson says he wants the weight 132 pounds at any hour of the day. The smokestack brother comes back with the talk that Britt beat Nelson at 133 pounds, and there is no particular reason why they should fight at less than the lightweight limit.

Both the Boer and Nelson were around the streets yesterday, little the worse for their hard fight. They have not yet received their share of the money. There were about 4200 persons in the house, and the receipts were $8432, of which the fighters are to get one-half, or $4216. Out of this will be taken 5 per cent. bonus for Nelson, and the remainder will be divided 60 and 40 per cent. Of the $4000 for the pugs, the Boer will get $2400, if he is given the decision, and Nelson would take down $1600, or vice versa. Nelson says he lost more than $1000 on the battle, having bet a big chunk that he would knock the Boer out, and also made wagers that he would win. Bat is reported to have said that he would not take the 40 per cent. end, and if he don't it could be donated by the club to help out the unemployed.

SULLIVAN-FLYNN FIGHT.

The fight bugs will have another scrap next Tuesday night, when Jim Flynn and Jack Sullivan meet before the Pacific Athletic Club at catch weights. Flynn is training at the East Side Club and Sullivan at Arcadia. Jack did eight miles of road work yesterday morning, and then boxed six rounds with the bag and six with his sparring partner, Rube Smith. Flynn went five miles on the road yesterday, and in the afternoon boxed five rounds with Van Horn and Kid Tex.

The only prelim that has been arranged is ten rounds between Battling Johnson and the negro, Arthur Collins.

Scotty Allen Loses Again.

The Salt Lake ball team has joined the Southern State League, and will play its first game Sunday. J. S. Allen resigned as secretary of the league Tuesday night, and J. H. Bauer was named to succeed him. The schedule for Sunday is: Eagles and Lordsburg at Lordsburg; Nofzigers and Vernons, first game, and Nofzigers and Salt Lake, second game, at Joy Park; University Merchants and Dyas-Clines, at Agricultural Park.

AFTER SUNDAY GAME.

Longboat a Supplicant.

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—Tom Longboat, the Indian long-distance runner, who is under suspension by the Amateur Athletic Union, is coming to New York, it is asserted, for the purpose of appealing for reinstatement. Longboat has never seemed to understand the A.A.U. rules, but his election as a member of the Canadian Olympic team makes it necessary for him to be reinstated before he can compete in the games in London next summer.

Schaefer and Hoppe.

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—Jacob Shaefer has accepted Willie Hoppe's challenge for a match at 18.1 inch balk line billiards for the championship title and Schaefer has deposited $250 to bind the match. The place for the playing of the match has not been announced but it will probably be Chicago, Schaefer's home city.

TARGET PRACTICE.

MARKSMEN TO SHOOT AT SCHUETZEN PARK.

The Southern California Rifles will hold their third shoot at Schuetzen Park, Sunday, from 10 to 3 o'clock. As the range there is 200 yards, it is expected more shooters will attend. There are ten targets and several squads will shoot continuously.

Capt. A. C. Freeman has been appointed officer of the day, and Theodore H. Seavey will serve as range officer. C. F. Pierce will be range clerk and W. Goldsworthy, A. D. Ostrander and Ed. C. Hoffman will be scorers.

There will be no short-range revolver shooting, but those who wish to shoot at 200 yards will be given an opportunity. It has been decided to arrange the squads into classes so that those with similar makes of guns can compete against each other. The classes probably will be target guns, military guns, automatic guns, 22-caliber guns and revolvers. As there are plenty of ranges, the shooters will be given the choice of firing ten, or twenty shots.

A meeting of members of the Los Angeles company will be held at No. 142 South Broadway, room No. 225, Friday evening at 7 o'clock, when plans of organization will be discussed.

Dr. F. C. Shurtleff, major of the scout division, has decided to name his branch of the Rifles the California Rangers. A meeting of his staff officers was called by him last night, and details of organization planned.

As Maj. Shurtleff has the pick of all the companies of the Southern California Rifles at his command he has provided for a school of instruction which will be under the direction of Capt. J. S. Hendrickson. In this school men who apply for membership in the Rangers will be tested as to their marksmanship and horsemanship. If they pass muster they will be admitted to the Rangers; if not they will be instructed and then if showing aptitude will be given a chance to make good for that peculiar service. If not, the men will be allowed to become members of the mounted troop and the unmounted companies. In this way members will become adjusted to the service for which they are best fitted.

The Rangers are planning to adopt a button distinctive of the organization and a uniform adapted to campaign service. These details will be decided in a staff meeting later.

GOLF CHAMPIONSHIPS.

Dates for Southern California Amateur Events for Men and Women Contestants.

Dates for the playing off of the Southern California amateur golf championships have been fixed as February 23, 24, 25 and 26 for the men; and April 8, 9, 10 and 11, for the women. The men's tournament will be played on the links of the Los Angeles Country Club, and the women will meet on the Annandale links. Supplementary consolation events will be played on the Annandale links, eighteen holes against bogey, April 4 for men, and April 10 for women.

The Southern California Golf Association, composed of eight clubs, with associate membership and five with allied membership, includes all the golf clubs of the South. The winners of the two competitions will become the amateur champions of Southern California, and the clubs which they represent will hold the trophies for the year. Prizes offered are a gold medal for first, a silver for second, and bronze for third and fourth. The best gross score in the qualifying will also get a trophy.

The rules for the men's tournament state that a thirty-six hole qualifying round shall first be played, the best sixteen scores to qualify in an eighteen hole, match play, contest to determine the championship.

In the event for women, the contestants will first play eighteen holes, medal play, and the best eight scores will qualify for the match play competition of eighteen holes.

Entries will close at 5 o'clock Friday afternoon, February 1, and are being made with Secretary J. B. Lumgair. The entrance fee is $2.00.

It has been said that New Yorkers have no appreciation for dancing as a fine art, but that was loudly disproved last night, for the audience fell victims to her grace. Her dancing is modest without being in the least prudish, and it is alluring without being suggestive. Miss Genee toed her way to success here in a single evening.

And the rest of "The Soul Kiss" is capital, too. The book and lyrics are cleverly devised by Harry B. Smith, and the music, by Maurice Levi, is of the kind that frankly strives for popularity. Herbert Gresham and Julian Mitchell have staged the production most effectively, and the elaborateness of the costumes and scenery is sufficient to interest even staid first nighters.

POMONA LOSES TWICE.

High School Boys' and Girls' Teams Defeat Collegians in Close Basketball Games.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CLAREMONT, Feb. 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Pomona College lost two games of basketball to the local High School, this afternoon. The men's team was beaten by the score of 35 to 26, and the girls were defeated in a close contest by the score of 22 to 21. Evans, forward on the boys' team of Pomona High, scored the great majority of prep points, and Neuls and Richards did the best work for the 'varsity team.

In the game between the girls' teams, Miss McFarland, forward on the High School team, did most of the scoring. Miss Bacon and Miss Metcalf were the stars for the college.

Following was the line-up for the men's contest:

Pomona High.		Pomona College.
Evans	forward	Neuls
Nesbit	forward	Richards
Kepner	center	Gore, Lorbeer, Metcalf.
McIntyre	guard	Metcalf Lorbeer
Gills	guard	Loorbeer, Williamson

Pomona High.		Pomona College.
McFarland	forward	Norman
Cocock	forward	Bacon
Hipp	center	Metcalfe
Coston	guard	Woodford
Seaver	guard	Parsons

Bailey, referee; George, umpire.

OCCIDENTAL WINS.

Orange County High School Basketball Team is Defeated by the Collegians.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ORANGE, Feb. 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Eighteen to twenty was the score of a basketball game played here this afternoon between Occidental College and Orange High School. The college boys got the big end of the score, but had to work for every point.

In the second half Capt. Kogler, who has not been out for three weeks, got back in the game and the High School team took a lead and it seemed for a time that they would win. A large crowd witnessed the game. The line-up:

Orange.		Occidental.
Campbell	forward	Baer
Fate, Kogler	forward	Thomas
Riley	center	McKenncy
Billingsley	guard	McDowell
Adams	guard	Hillary

Goals from the field—Riley, 7; Baer, 1; Thomas, 1; McDowell, 2; Hillary, 3.

Baseball at Echo Park.

Harvard School may play the Echo Park playground team in baseball, this afternoon, on the playground diamond. The military school team will try out several of the players who are still uncertain of positions in this game. Harvard was beaten last Saturday by the Violet-street grounds, and will meet another strong playground nine in the Echo Park boys. Echo Park will meet the "K G" boys' club team on Friday afternoon.

Australia Wins Cricket.

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] With honors easy in the first two games played, Australia has won the third test cricket match at Sidney against England in a sensational manner by 245 runs. England maintained a decided advantage during the greater part of the game, leading in the first inning by seventy-eight runs. She had seven Australian wickets down in the second inning for 180 runs. It was at this point that C. Hill and R. Hartigan made a sensational stand for Australia, advancing the score by 243 before they were separated. This is a record score for the eighth wicket, the previous best score being 230. The total finally amounted to 506.

POOR DUCK SHOOTING.

Two Bags of Twenty-two Are High for the Wednesday Squad and Birds Are Scarce.

The Wednesday duck squads had little but hard luck stories to bring back yesterday from the various preserves, for the birds are still away on visits. Bags of twenty-two were reported from the Blue Wing and the Westminster and these were the big ones of the day. There will be no more good shooting this season.

There were five men down at the Westminster. R. Poehler was high with twenty-two, and E. A. Barmore, F. E. Brown, C. C. Carpenter and M. T. Owens each killed about twelve.

At the Blue Wing, W. Glassell got twenty-two and Billy Ball, twelve.

L. B. Sale was high at the Lomita with ten and Dr. O. P. Roller, Thomas Haverty, M. P. Snyder, H. W. Lewis and two guests got from five to eight each.

W. H. Stewart was high with ten at the Golden West; H. P. Hoffman had nine; E. A. Curtis, eight and H. S. Hazeltine, four. E. W. Davies was at the Pacific and shot five, the birds being very scarce and flying high.

To Conduct Racing.

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—In all the present uncertainty regarding the status of racing for the coming season and pending legislation as the result of the recommendations of Gov. Hughes concerning betting, representatives of the leading and most popular racing associations about New York City yesterday declared authoritatively that races would be conducted and that the great stake features already closed would be run and prizes paid regardless of any loss which changed conditions may entail.

Gomez Beats Dubois.

A large crowd of billiard players and lovers of the sport saw a long, tiresome game of balkline at 14.2 last night in Berry's rooms on South Spring street, when Charley Gomes of this city and Frank Dubois of San Francisco played a match game of 250 points. It required fifty-eight innings and Gomez won by a score of 250 to 240. He had high runs of 34, 24, 13 and 12 and an average of 4 9-29. Dubois had high runs of 28, 19, 18 and 16 and an average of 4 4-29.

FINAL STRUGGLE.

SHEEP MEN IN FIGHT FOR LIFE.

PETITION PRESIDENT TO SAVE GRAZING LANDS.

Recent Withdrawal from Entry of Vast Tracts in Northern New Mexico for Use of Indian Tribes Cripples Big Industry and Promises to Be Deathblow.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

SANTA FE (N. M.) Feb. 2.—The sheep raisers of Northern New Mexico are up in arms as a result of the recent withdrawal from entry and sale by order of the President of certain tracts of land in the counties of Rio Arriba, San Juan, Sandoval and McKinley, approximately calculated to be about 3,500,000 acres, for the use of the Navajo and Jicarilla-Apache Indian tribes.

A monster petition praying that these lands be restored to the public domain and bearing the signatures of no less than 50,000 residents of the counties named, has been addressed to the President of the Nnited States, members of Congress, the Secretary of the Interior and the Commissioner of Indian Affairs. A delegation of twenty-five prominent sheep raisers of the counties named will go to Washington at once to present this petition and urge immediate action thereon.

Should the executive order just promulgated, segregating these vast tracts of land, remain in force it would drive the sheep men entirely out of business and thereby reduce the taxable property in the counties named to such an extent as to force the counties into bankruptcy. This because sheep raising is the leading industry of that section.

This new allotment would give the Navajo and Jicarilla-Apache Indians, who, by the way, are already the best provided for of any Indian tribes in the Territory, about six hundred acres to each man, woman and child in the two tribes. These tribes already reside on reservations embracing no less than 5,000,000 acres.

The present controversy is the final fight for existence of the sheep men of Northern New Mexico. Gradually within the past two or three years their grazing lands have been taken from them little by little. The creation of the Jemez national forest, embracing 2,000,000 acres, and the establishment of the ownership of numerous land grants has taken millions of acres from the public domain and the withdrawal of the tracts mentioned has reduced the grazing area of this section to such an extent that sheep raising would be impracticable.

EYESTRAIN CAUSE OF OTHER DISEASES

The eye is intimately connected with the brain and the brain with the spinal cord, and the spinal cord controls the whole sympathetic nervous system. Eye strain causes nervous depression, headaches, constipation, stomach trouble, kidney and nervous diseases, near sightedness. Far-sightedness and astigmatism causes eye strain. A pair of proper fitting glasses will correct eye strain and add to your health and bien atre.

BEING MEDICAL GRADUATES, we have made a closer study of the relation of the eyes to the sympathetic nervous system and loss of nerve force than any living oculists.

PLAN SURPRISE FOR TOURISTS.

Enterprise Also Includes Electric Railroad for Twenty Miles Along Rim of Gorge—Elopement Nipped in Bud—Rumor of Reduction in Santa Fe's Force.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

PRESCOTT (Ariz.) Feb. 4.—A tremendous enterprise is being prepared on the Grand Cañon, where Ohio capital, represented by Ex-Gov. Herrick and O. W. Oppman propose to drop tourists into the great gorge by means of a shaft sunk in the limestone of the cañon's brink. It will be about 2000 feet deep, on an incline and its mouth will be not very far from the Hotel Tovar. When the level of the Indian Garden Plateau is reached, a long tunnel will take the sight-seer out into the cañon, all in a very few minutes and without the expediture of time and muscle required in following the winding trail. The cost of the enterprise will be $200,000.

It is understood that the same capital will build a railroad along the rim for twenty miles, the power to be developed by water down in the gorge.

An elopement was prevented the other day at Ash Fork. A switchman's wife and a fireman were met by officers, as they were preparing to leave on a west-bound train. The fireman had secured transportation for himself and "wife." To him, at the train, was handed a demand for the return of the transportation and a notice that he had been discharged from the service of the company. He departed by the train just the same, but he paid his fare. An interesting spectator of the little scene at the depot was the husband of the woman who had been given full information concerning the plans of the couple. He seemed amused rather than indignant.

LUMBERMAN BEHEADED.

A lumberman named O'Neil, while intoxicated, boarded an east-bound passenger train at Flagstaff, though he had a ticket for Williams, in the contrary direction. Seeing his mistake, he jumped from the train after it had attained some speed and fell under the wheels. His body was beheaded.

Fred Huff, a mail clerk on the Santa Fé between Williams and Los Angeles, was thrown from the open door of his car at McLellan, by a lurch of the train, just as he was about to toss a newspaper to his father, who lives at that point. He sustained a broken collar bone and is now in a Los Angeles hospital.

The quality of Prescott liquor worked a rare cure upon a visitor, who drifted into the city, apparently suffering from paralysis and from loss of voice. On a card it was stated that his name was Frank Stevens and he had a certificate signed by an alleged Doctor Cooper of Iowa. He had hardly taken more than a dozen drinks when he became argumentative and later, combative. The City Recorder gave him sixty days in jail.

WILD LEOPARDS.

Though the fact is not generally known, there are wild leopards in Arizona, but the animals are very scarce and are believed to be merely strays from the Sierra Madre Mountains of Mexico. They are extremely fierce and are even more destructive to calves and goats than are mountain lions. A few days ago, a magnificent specimen of leopard was killed near the Grand Cañon by a Supai Indian. He brought the skin to the Grand Cañon Hotel, where he sold it for $25.

R. D. Yoakum, a representative of the St. Louis and San Francisco Railroad Company was a recent visitor to Navajo county, where his corporation owns a large tract of land. It is told that the company is preparing to make extensive improvements.

There is a rumor that a considerable reduction is to be made very soon in the operating force of the Santa Fé and it is told that the first men to be dropped from the rolls will be those who habitually use liquor.

YAQUIS HERDED.

WILL BE DEPORTED.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

TUCSON, Feb. 4.—According to a Sonora merchant, the Mexican government now has 2000 Yaquis herded at Santa Ana, on the line of the Sonora Railroad, in readiness for deportation to Yucatan. Most of the Indians are "pacificos," but the government is exporting good and bad alike. It is told that Gen. Bravo will be returned to Sonora from the City of Mexico, to take charge of the Yaqui campaign, which is to be pushed with the utmost activity. It it also said that he is to succeed Gen. Luis Torres as Governor of Sonora and that Gen. Torres is to be made Ambassador to Italy. The Mexican government seems thoroughly convinced that on this side of the line there exist depots for the furnishing of arms and ammunition to the Yaquis, though this is denied by Ranger Capt. Wheeler and other officers operating in Southern Arizona.

Seven carloads of machinery recently passed through Nogales, the first installment of thirty-six carloads for the tie-treating plant, which is to be built by the Southern Pacific at Empalme. Most of the ties come from Japan and are quite costly. Before being put into use, they are to be permeated with a zinc solution, which will make the wood resistant to rot and to the attacks of insects. The capacity is to be 3000 ties a day and it will be started upon an initial order of 3,000,000 ties.

CHAMPAGNE IN BUCKETS.

J. C. Stubbs, traffic manager of the Harriman lines, was a recent visitor to this city. He referred to his first visit to Tucson, which was at the time of the completion of the Southern Pacifics Railroad to this point. The advent of the iron house was celebrated by a banquet, more than notable in Arizona history. On that occasion the chairman received a fictitious telegram from the Pope, extending congratulations and asking "where in —— is Tucson?" But what Mr. Stubbs remembers particularly about the feast was that champagne of the finest quality circulated more freely than ever before in his experience. The waiters were instructed to bring it on in buckets, as pouring from bottles was too slow.

GOOD FOR CALIFORNIA.

According to a late ruling of the Interstate Commerce Commission, the rate on fuel oil between Bakersfield and Tucson was raised to $23.60 a ton, a tariff absolutely prohibitory. Consequently, for several weeks, there have been no importations. But heavy drafts will be made at once upon California oil fields, for notice has been received that on February 4 the old rate of $6 a ton is to be restored.

Thursday night the ten-year-old son of J. B. Grant was mortally injured under the wheels of a freight train. As he was standing near the track, he was struck by a hobo, who was running along attempting to board the train, and was knocked over upon the track.

LIQUOR SOLD PUPILS.

Evidence has been forwarded to County School Superintendent Culin by Miss Amelia Gross, teacher of the public school at Greaterville, that liquor is being sold to her pupils, and that a number of times some of the older ones have come to school so intoxicated that they had to be sent home. The Board of Supervisors has called for an explanation from the only saloon keeper of the camp. If the charges are proven, he will not only lose his license, but will be prosecuted criminally.

The charges made by M. B. Bass againct Capt. John L. Burgess, of alleged misappropriation of funds and supplies of the Pontotoc Mining Company, have been dismissed by the examining magistrate, the prosecution having failed to make good its case. Word has just been received that Capt. Burgess has been granted a patent for a process for converting copper matte into blister copper.

A late death was that of Judge William A. Osborne, aged 74, for forty-five years a resident of Tucson. His first visit here was in 1843, when he was a teamster in government employ. A couple of months ago he was chosen president of the Arizona Pioneer Society.

FIGHT ON STREET CAR.

John Christopher, 19 years old, living at No. 1511 Lemon street, got into an argument with the conductor of car No. 178 of the Mateo street line last night and says he was pitched through a front window. He sustained an ugly wound on the right shoulder. According to his story, the conductor tried to collect a second fare and when he refused to pay, a fight ensued.

BURGLAR GETS IN.

A burglar forced an entrance last night into the little jewelry and curio store of M. W. Barber, No. 513 West Sixth street. Entrance was effected by breaking the lock of the back door with a jimmy. The police were unable to locate the proprietor and could not learn if anything had been stolen. The thief got away.

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL.

Few People Know How Useful It Is in Preserving Health and Beauty. Costs Nothing to Try.

Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose.

Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better; it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines, and carries them out of the system.

Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking or after eating onions and other odorous vegetables.

Charcoal effectually clears and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic.

It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfects the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh.

All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges; they are composed of the finest powdered Willow charcoal, and other harmless antiseptics in tablet form, or rather in the form of large pleasant tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey.

The daily use of these lozenges will soon tell in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath and purer blood, and the beauty of it is that no possible harm can result from their continued use, but, on the contrary, great benefit.

A Buffalo physician, in speaking of the benefits of charcoal, says: "I advise Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in stomach and bowels, and to clear the complexion and purify the breath, mouth and throat; I also believe the liver is greatly benefited by the daily use of them; they cost but 25 cents a box at drug stores, and although in some sense a patent preparation, yet I believe I get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets."

FOR SALE—
BEAUTIFUL EIGHT-ROOM RESIDENCE
NEARING COMPLETION ON OXFORD AVENUE
CAN BE PURCHASED FOR $6500.

Situated in the very best part of the West Adams Heights district, surrounded by other high-class homes, this beautiful modern residence is offered for $6500, which is at least $1000 under market value. It was constructed by the California Bungalow Company, who build nothing but the highest class houses, and all material and workmanship is the same you would expect in a $15,000 place. Wide cement steps lead to a cement porch 8x32. The solid oak entrance opens into a reception hall and living-room 16x30, at the north end of which is a spacious open fireplace of carefully-selected press brick. On one side of the fireplace are colonial bookcases of leaded glass, and on the other a wide, comfortable settle. The living-room is paneled in beautifully-finished woods surmounted by picture rail. The ceiling is heavily beamed in hand-rubbed oak finish, and the room is well lighted with wide windows of plate glass. Dining-room, 15x18, in old Dutch finish, with massive buffet in plate and leaded glass, and china cabinets in wide leaded glass, flush with wainscot. French windows from dining-room open onto wide sunny lounging porch. Kitchen, pass-pantry and cooler in tile and white enamel. Rear porch furnished with stationary tubs, refrigerator nook, broom closets, etc.; convenient stairway from pantry to cemented cellar and furnace. Oak stairway, equipped with hat and coat closet, having full-length bevel-plate mirror. Upstairs are four very large, sunny bedchambers in white enamel, sunny bathroom in tile and enamel, equipped with the latest and best sanitary plumbing. Large attic reached by convenient enclosed stairway. Sunny rear porch for airing bedding, etc. The lighting fixtures are specially made for the house and of solid and expensive design. Furnace heat to all rooms. Driveway leading to shed in rear. Fine car service. In every detail of plan and construction, this house is equal to any $8000 house in the market, but the builders are in need of money and will deliver for $6500, half cash. You will not waste your time in looking at this property.

BUY GOOD FARM LAND CLOSE TO LOS ANGELES.
IT WILL PAY BIG RETURNS AND MAKE BIG PROFITS
BY ADVANCING VALUES.

You make money coming and going when you buy good land close to a city spreading as fast as Los Angeles. Besides producing good revenues, the land is constantly growing in value, too.

GO SEE SOMERSET ACRES.

This is the best part of the famous Bixby ranch, known for the superiority of its products. It is thirty minutes from 6th and Main streets, on the Santa Ana electric line. Somerset Station and power-house is in the middle of the 1000-acre tract, cut up into lots of one to ten acres. The growing crops go with the land. Corn grows ten feet high. Best vegetables; finest fruit. Big chance for walnuts. All garden truck and potatoes reach perfection, making it the best location for small ranches.

UNLIMITED FREE WATER PIPED TO EACH ACRE.
NATURAL SITE FOR A CITY.

Selected by Mr. Huntington for station and power-house, because of highest elevation and certain water supply. Just far enough from both Santa Ana and Los Angeles to make ideal suburb. Those purchasing now are assured great future values. Two excursions daily. Come in and go.

PROF. TODD TALKS ABOUT THE LATEST DISCOVERIES.

More Than Ten Thousand Photographs Were Taken by the Astronomical Party at Tarapaca, Chile, Last Summer—Prof. Lowell's Theories Appear to Be Confirmed.

Prof. David Todd, the eminent astronomer of Amherst College, delivered a lecture of absorbing interest in Washington the other day, and related his experiences during the last summer, which he spent on the desert of Tarapaca, Chile, observing the planet Mars and making photographs of what his telescope discovered.

"Mars is 250,000,000 miles away from the earth," said Prof. Todd the other day, "but in his—I speak of the war god in the masculine gender—revolutions around the sun, he sometimes comes within 35,000,000 miles of us. Venus is still nearer. The Star of Love comes within 26,000,000 miles of the earth occasionally, but that is of comparatively little satisfaction, because she is between us and the sun and we cannot see anything of her. [illegible], one of the asteroids, in its travels, comes within 13,000,000 miles of the earth, but is of no particular interest because we cannot raise a disc. We [illegible] but a point—although Eros is [illegible] value to astronomy for the [illegible] that it affords us a standard of measurement of the sun's distance. The moon is our nearest neighbor, and [illegible] about 238,000 miles away. It [illegible] a few thousand miles in its [illegible] during the season, but is [illegible] regular, and we are rather well acquainted with the moon. We know how big she is and that her surface is covered with mountains and craters. There is practically no water on the moon and almost no atmosphere—very little, if any—and no evidence has been discovered that the moon is [illegible]. Prof. Pickering of Harvard [illegible] he has found some little signs of vegetation, sparse remnants of what [illegible] have been forests and other [illegible] growth, but his observations [illegible] been confirmed by other astronomers, and science requires at [illegible] witnesses to establish a theory.

"Mars has been under investigation [illegible] 18[illegible], and is now the most popular object of interest in the heavens. [illegible] excited more scientific discussion and more general curiosity than [illegible] other of the planets, and the [illegible] which have been advanced [illegible] conditions there by our [illegible] astronomers will probably [illegible] attention for generations, as [illegible] may gradually be developed. [illegible] the past summer Mars came [illegible] 35,000,000 miles of the earth—[illegible] by 4,000,000 miles than he has [illegible] for a long time—so that it was a [illegible] favorable opportunity to make observations, of which the astronomers [illegible] the world very generally took advantage. Percival Lowell of Flagstaff, [illegible] the leading authority on Mars, [illegible] of his exhaustive studies and [illegible] investigations, probably did [illegible] to utilize the occasion than any [illegible] astronomer, and, under his auspices, I took the new eighteen-inch telescope from the observatory [illegible] Amherst, packed it up and carried [illegible] Chile, where it was set up in the [illegible] desert of Tarapaca, where [illegible] supply of nitrate of soda comes [illegible] That situation is especially favorable for observation because it is [illegible] above the sea, and the atmosphere is remarkably pure. There [illegible] whatever; it has not [illegible] for a quarter of a century; [illegible] is absolute freedom from [illegible] winds, from atmospheric [illegible] other forms of motion. [illegible] the telescope up in the open [illegible] around it. Our party [illegible] Mrs. Todd, A. G. Ilse, [illegible] mechanist of Alvan Clark [illegible] telescope-makers; E. C. [illegible] photographer, who has been [illegible] by Mr. Lowell for [illegible] and Mr. Englesfield, a student [illegible] Amherst. We were in the [illegible] two months, making continuous observations and photographs by [illegible] cameras, which gave [illegible] of every phenomenon, of [illegible] and every feature and [illegible] of the surface of the [illegible] as it revolved upon its axis. [illegible] more than 10,000 photographs, which are now being arranged [illegible] careful and more thorough [illegible] photographs were taken [illegible] by various astronomers at [illegible] time, but we have not yet [illegible] the results of their observations.

"[illegible] result of my observations [illegible] absolute confirmation of Mr. [illegible] theories concerning the double [illegible] which appear upon the surface of the planet, and which have [illegible] subject of discussion for thirty [illegible] the seasons in Mars correspond exactly to those of the [illegible] that they are double [illegible] of our seasons, which is [illegible] difference in the orbits and [illegible] of the two spheres. [illegible] is very little water on the [illegible] is a dry region. We can [illegible] or lakes or other large [illegible] water, and therefore the canals spoken of become of [illegible] interest and importance. There [illegible] and there are snowstorms, and in the winter we can [illegible] upon the mountains, [illegible] and disappear with the [illegible] seasons and with the alter[illegible] spheres. The photographs [illegible] taken in Chile last summer [illegible] confirm these facts beyond peradventure, but have added [illegible] and important details to [illegible].

"[illegible] revolves on his axle like the [illegible] know the time of the revolution [illegible] absolute accuracy, just as [illegible] the revolutions of the earth. [illegible] Mars consists of twenty-four [illegible]-seven minutes and twen[illegible], and either six-tenths or [illegible] of a second. Astronomers [illegible] disputing over that fraction. [illegible] claim that the day in [illegible] of a second longer [illegible]. You can realize that they [illegible] deal about a planet 35,[illegible] away when their calculations [illegible] been narrowed down to so [illegible] detail.

"[illegible] Mars is different from [illegible] earth because the orbit of [illegible] is so much larger and it [illegible] time to go around. [illegible] days in a year in Mars [illegible] as with us. That has [illegible] is the same degree of [illegible]. There are four seasons in [illegible] the same as on the earth, [illegible] much longer. The summer [illegible] twice as long as ours, [illegible] is of corresponding [illegible] fact naturally involves [illegible] presumptions. For [illegible] assume that a pro[illegible] will produce different [illegible], precisely as may [illegible] with Alaska and the trop[illegible] of the polar regions [illegible] lack of sunshine, and [illegible] season the less there [illegible]. Applying that axiom to [illegible] offer an unusually in[illegible] fruitful field for the in[illegible] biologists. It is entirely [illegible] involves problems that [illegible] been proposed.

"[illegible] to follow up these ob[illegible] 1909 Mars comes within 36,000,000 miles of the earth, when the opportunities for investigation will be even more favorable than those of the past summer. We are getting ready for that opportunity. Our work this summer has been a mere rehearsal of the performance that we expect to take place in 1909, and we propose to establish an observatory at the most favorable place in the Andes and devote the entire year to it."

SNOWSLIDE KILLS TWO.

Two Others Ride on Crest Thousand Feet Down Mountainside in Safety.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CRESTED BUTTE (Colo.) Feb. 5.—a snowslide occurred today near the workings of the Crested Butte coal mines, which are located on the mountain a mile south of town, whereby four men were carried down the mountainside for a distance of 1000 feet and two of them were buried and killed in the slide.

The other two managed to ride the sliding snow and were found at the bottom of the mountain uninjured.

The slide was witnessed by miners on top, who at once rushed to the rescue, but the men were dead before found and were dug out of the snow.

The killed are L. urence Bequeowich and George Laretic, the latter a young man without family, while the former has a wife and five children. No damage was done to the mines.

FIVE MORE SLIDES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

TELLURIDE (Colo.) Feb. 5.—One man is dying and nine others are suffering from more or less serious injuries as the result of five snowslides which have run in the vicinity of Telluride during the last twenty-four hours. Southwestern Colorado is in the grip of the worst storm of the year.

Telephone and telegraph communication is crippled, while railroad traffic is completely demoralized. Snow lies to a depth of from one to four feet in the cities of Telluride, Durango, Silverton and Ouray.

LEITER DENIES ENGAGEMENT.

Says He Hasn't "Cut Out" Duke for Miss Elkins's Hand, but Would Be Willing.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "What? I engaged? Well, hardly," was the explosive utterance of Joseph Leiter today when asked concerning a report in a dispatch from Washington, D. C., that he was engaged to Miss Katherine Elkins, daughter of Senator Elkins of West Virginia.

"I heard that I had beaten out the Duke of the Abruzzi for Miss Elkins' hand," continued Leiter, "but there is absolutely nothing to it. Miss Elkins is a charming young woman but she is not going to be Mrs. Joe Leiter."

"Is there any probability of your being engaged to her soon?"

"Most certainly not. Understand, I'm not saying I would not like to be engaged to Miss Elkins, but the report is untrue. I saw her frequently in Washington and this engagement yarn was the outcome."

TALK ON TARIFF REVISION.

President's Message Also Is Topic of Debate in the House of Representatives.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Tariff revision and the President's recent special message to Congress again were the main topics of discussion in the House of Representatives today.

As has been the case for nearly a week the Indian appropriation bill ostensibly was before the House but in no quarter was any word spoken in regard to it. The House apparently had made up its mind to discuss the issues of the day at this time, and no effort was made to check the flow of general debate, which will be continued tomorrow.

A long speech by Sereno E. Payne, of New York, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee and majority leader on the floor, was considered important because of his assurances that a tariff revision plank would be incorporated in the Republican national platform of this year. He devoted some attention to Mr. Bryan, whom he credited with going about the country accusing President Roosevelt of grand or petit larceny in purloining his ideas.

MRS. MORGAN COMING HERE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] With all sorts of safeguards thrown about her, in order to assure secrecy of every move, Mrs. J. Pierpont Morgan, wife of the noted Wall street financier, with a party of New York ladies, traveling in a sumptuous special train, stopped off here for today while en route to San Antonio, Tex., and the Pacific Coast.

After leaving the Texas city, they will go to Los Angeles and thence to the beach. Every precaution was taken here to keep Mrs. Morgan from the public eyes. The secrecy maintained was excused on the ground that Mrs. Morgan is not well and desires to remain in quiet and undisturbed.

RAISULI TO FREE M'LEAN.

Bandit Holds up Great Britain for $100,000 and Guarantee of Protection and Immunity.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

TANGIER, Feb. 5.—Caid Sir Harry MacLean, who has been in the hands of the bandit Raisuli for the past seven months, is now within four hours' ride of Tangier and probably will be released tomorrow.

The British government has finally succeeded in bringing the negotiations with Raisuli to a close, and in return for the release of MacLean will pay $100,000 to Raisuli and guarantee him protection and immunity.

TRY TO WRECK TRAIN.

RENO, Feb. 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Daily attempts to wreck the Nevada, California and Oregon Railroad Express that runs from Likely to Reno have been reported at the offices here, and the management has offered a reward of $200 for the arrest of the perpetrators.

Track-walkers have discovered rails placed across the track at dangerous points, and at other places boulders have been dropped where the train, in passing a curve, would be wrecked. The finding of an obstruction fastened to the rails at High Hot Springs trestle caused the officials to place watchmen along the track.

SCORES GOVERNMENT.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Feb. 5.—Speaking before a university assembly this morning, Chester H. Rowell, editor of the Fresno Republican, bitterly denounced the present State government and its connection with the Southern Pacific machine.

"The legislative department of this State is a roaring farce," said the speaker, "only saved from tragedy by its utter helplessness. The executive department is dictated to by the hired servant of a foreign corporation. The judicial department is now under suspicion and that suspicion is just. Even our very sense of crime and innocence has given way to class feeling."

Mr. Rowell made a strong plea for college men to get out into politics and fight existing conditions. Incidentally, he said that unless Japanese immigration was stopped the Pacific Coast would face a race problem far more serious than that in the South today.

BRITAIN TO SEND FLEET, TOO.

Will Be Known as the North Pacific Squadron and Will Contain Eleven Cruisers.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

HALIFAX (N. S.) Feb. 5.—Advices have been received here to the effect that the British North Pacific squadron is to be increased and that some time this year, probably in May, the fourth cruiser squadron will proceed to the Pacific presumably bound for the British naval base at Esquimalt.

The fourth squadron consists of cruisers Crossy, Euryalus, Hogue, Brilliant, and Indefatigable and six cruisers of the county class. The fortress at Esquimalt is now garrisoned by Dominion troops as is that in Halifax.

The plan to send the vessels to the Pacific is explained by local naval officials as being a step in the direction of reviving the British Pacific squadron, which was abolished four years ago, when Sir John Fisher became first lord of the Admiralty and a policy of contraction was adopted.

The North Atlantic squadron was withdrawn from Halifax at the same time and became a part of the home fleet in the British channel. When the Pacific squadron was canceled, the best of the ships were attached to the large China fleet at Hong-kong, the others being recalled to England. Later two ships detached from the China fleet were sent to Esquimalt and at present they are the only British vessels in those waters. They are the Algerine and the Shearwater, light armored cruisers.

Two of the ships of the French cruiser squadron detailed for the Pacific trip—the Indefatigable and the Brilliant—have been on the West Indian station. The other three—the Crossy, Hogue and Euryalus—have never been in North American waters.

All five ships have recently been overhauled and recommissioned. They each carry two 9-inch guns; twelve 6-inch guns, besides subsidiary armaments.

Esquimalt is the British naval base on the Pacific Coast, strongly fortified and supplied with arsenal, dry dock and dock yards. It possesses a fine harbor, at the southern end of Vancouver Island, and commands the approach to Puget Sound.

The British naval organ here, in a fervid editorial on the plan, says that the government and the Admiralty are to be congratulated on their decision.

TO IMPROVE WARSHIPS.

New Ammunition Hoisting Apparatus to Be Installed in All Turretted Vessels.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Plans have been completed by the Naval Ordnance Bureau for the installation of new ammunition hoisting arrangements for the turreted vessels, comprising some 176 turrets.

This is rendered necessary by the introduction of smokeless powder, which has permitted a greatly increased rate of fire. The new arrangement will supply ammunition as rapidly as it can be filled and will effectively separate the turrets from the handling room below so that there shall be a prevention of any sudden ignition of powder in either place.

TRUSCOTT WINS.

OAKLAND, Feb. 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Lynn Truscott of Australia proved too much for Fred Ward of Vallejo tonight and won the decision, before the West Oakland Club, after six rounds of fighting. In the second round, Truscott landed on Ward's nose and tore the skin, causing the blood to flow. In the third, the Australian sent a right swing to the cheek that cut open the flesh beneath Ward's left eye.

Truscott had the best of the fighting in all except the fifth round. In that round, Ward tried rushing tactics and had the better of the going. Truscott some months ago knocked out Boer Unholz in five rounds and he now intends to seek a return match with the Boer. He is an awkward fighter, so awkward that he is hard to hit. He guards himself fairly well and has a terrible wallop.

Joe Smith of Philadelphia fought six rounds to a draw with Young Dempsey, who substituted for Bubbles Robinson of Los Angeles. Robinson failed to show up. Smith showed nothing but a willingness to rush the fighting and to accept punishment.

Harry Williams of Los Angeles made Eddie Lennon of San Francisco take the count in the second round. Williams is a clever fighter and he shot in a left hook that sent Lennon to the mat. He got up at the count of nine, but took the earliest opportunity of going down again and remained on the mat until he had been counted out.

OBITUARY.

E. M. S. Shortridge.

Sheppard Knapp.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 5.—Sheppard Knapp, 62 years old, a former newspaper man and a member of an old St. Louis family, died today at his home in Kirkwood, a suburb, of kidney trouble.

Mr. Knapp was the eldest of six sons of the late Col. George Knapp, one time head of the company which owned and published the Missouri Republican, now the St. Louis Republic. The deceased retired from connection with the paper twenty years ago.

William J. Landers.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 5.—William J. Landers, a well-known insurance man of this city, died this morning at Santa Barbara. His death is supposed to have been caused by nervous prostration, from which he had suffered since the fire. At that time his health was completely broken and he seemed unable to recuperate.

POLITICAL BRIEFS.

Calls Democratic Caucus.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Representative James of Georgia, as secretary of the Democratic caucus, today issued a call for a caucus next Monday night to organize and elect officers of the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee.

Kentucky Still Deadlocked.

FRANKFORT (Ky.) Feb. 5.—The Senate and House in joint session today took a formal ballot for United States Senator without result.

INSISTS HE'S CANDIDATE.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 5.—Judson Harmon declared he is as much in the race for the Democratic nomination for President as he ever was, on his arrival home today from a trip to Nashville, Tenn.; Birmingham, Atlanta and New York.

Mr. Harmon traveled from this city to Nashville and Birmingham in company with W. J. Bryan, and spoke to the same gatherings in those cities.

On his own chances for the nomination, he declined to make any predictions, but said he considered the chances for the election of the Democratic nominee for President good.

POLICEMAN POISONED.

Policeman C. R. Jones, who lives at No. 715 West Eighth street, ate an oyster cocktail last night and was poisoned. Prompt medical attention saved his life.

FLASHES FROM WIRES.

The Emperor and the Dowager Empress of China yesterday held their annual reception to the members of the diplomatic corps in Pekin. It is reported that the Dowager Empress has recently been encouraging the Emperor to become interested and participate in affairs of state.

Gil Blas yesterday said that M. Bompard, who has been succeeded as French Ambassador to St. Petersburg by Admiral Touchard, resigned his office because he was coldly received by the Russian court.

A joint resolution was passed by the West Virginia House yesterday providing for an amendment to the Constitution which gives the right to voters to decide whether or not liquor or the manufacture of liquor will be prohibited forever in the State.

The Ohio Senate last night by a vote of 24 to 13 passed the Rose County Option Bill. The measure now goes to the House and friends of the measure claim it will have a larger majority there than in the Senate.

ASSOCIATED GETS BIG CONTRACT.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 5.—The Call says: An agreement has been reached between the Associated Oil Company and the Graciosa Oil Company, by which the former has taken over, for the time being at least, the 20,000,000-barrel Japanese contract. This will relieve the Graciosa company from the necessity of going into the open market for fuel oil to meet the demands of the contract.

SHOOTS HIMSELF.

Sigmund Gorbiess, an iron worker, committed suicide in his room at No. 201 North Sotello street, about 8 o'clock last night, by shooting himself in the head. He received a letter from Poland, a few days ago, telling him that his mother was dead and since then he had been afflicted with melancholia.

More proof that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saves woman from surgical operations.

Mrs. S. A. Williams, of Gardiner, Maine, writes:

"I was a great sufferer from female troubles, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored me to health in three months, after my physician declared that an operation was absolutely necessary."

Mrs. Alvina Sperling, of 154 Cleybourne Ave., Chicago, Ill., writes:

"I suffered from female troubles, a tumor and much inflammation. Two of the best doctors in Chicago decided that an operation was necessary to save my life. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound entirely cured me without an operation."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

THE MARKETS.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

Cuban tomatoes were the arrivals in which most interest centered, yesterday morning. They were directly from that island and are large and of fine quality. They came at a time when the market was almost bare of this vegetable. A crate sells for $4. The first new potatoes came in yesterday and brought $1.25 a lug box. With the exception of onions, receipts were below the average, but there was a fair amount of activity on 'change and several good sales were made.

Egg prices are firm, owing in a measure to the advance quotations in the north which causes considerable stock to be shipped in that direction. The top price, yesterday was 25 cents. Receipts reported on 'change were 228 cases; outside arrivals 117 cases. Twenty cases of case-count changed hands.

Butter receipts were 14,010 pounds. There were some very small offerings, at 57½ cents a two-pound roll, but no sales. Of cheese offerings were good and a tub of imported Swiss was disposed of.

Three thousand sacks of potatoes were brought in over night and the bottom of the market came near falling out. Offerings below the dollar mark were the rule. A car of Highlands was sold. It is said that many carloads of spuds are on the way here.

A car of red globe onions from Oregon helped in a great measure to relieve the stringency in that vegetable but prices were not altered. Total receipts were 830 sacks, but offerings were light.

One hundred sacks of small white beans were sold and there was good demand for several other varieties, particularly limas and Lady Washingtons. Receipts were one sack.

Sweet potatoes had a good call and as a result 15 sacks were sold at $3. There are not a great many being held back and receipts have not been heavy at any time. Yesterday they were above the average—81 sacks.

Over 700 boxes of apples from the north were reported in. The Bellefleur is the variety in most demand at present but they are not very firm, even for the best stock.

The poultry market remains very steady at present prices although the demand is small for all grades. There were very few fish offered, except halibut and rock cod. Lobsters are scarce.

LOS ANGELES STOCK EXCHANGE.

LOCAL SHARES ON THE RISE.

ADVANCES IN MANY OF THE HOME SECURITIES.

Oil List in the Spotlight, With Union Leading the Globe and Rice Ranch Favorites — Much "Off Board" Trading Deprives 'Change of Credit Earned.

Sharp, insistent bidding, accompanied by sales of stocks at advanced prices, and a strong closing, were the features of the call on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday. Seldom have the local securities been so much sought after and at prices so fair and strong. The strong closing quotations and the general undertone of strength to all the issues was indicative of a large "off board" trade. It seemed for a while in the morning that a good volume of business would be marked up for the session, but unfortunately for the exchange so much business is done "off board" that the institution does not get the credit due. Were the total amount of trading done by the members of the local stock exchange carried on "on the floor," as is compulsory in the larger cities, the exchange would advance materially.

The most sensational gains of the day were in oil stocks. This list opened strong, and sales of the leading issues denoted the ruling level of prices outside. The boom in oil stocks, of course, is directly due to the advance in the price of the crude product. Considerable discussion as to the real price for the ensuing two years for the independent oil is going on. It is authoritatively stated by well-informed producers that the contract price is 60 cents a barrel at the measuring tank. This is a tremendous jump from the low price of 27 cents, which has been ruling for some time past.

UNION OIL LEADS.

Union Oil was the leader in the advance. Ten shares were sold at 210, 4¾ points higher than the best sales of the previous session, when a board lot sold at 205.25. The stock was quoted at 2.09@2.17. The bid was up 5½ points, compared with the previous close, while the asking price was stiffened by the addition of 11½ points. No other reason than that investment demand was becoming more and more urgent was advanced for the sharp advance in the ruling quotations and prices.

Globe Oil was also in the limelight. Sales were made at 15 cents, cash, although only 2300 shares were handled on the floor. Outside buying in considerable quantities is going on steadily, but at constantly increasing prices, as the market is being cleaned up. The insiders are said to be gathering in all floating stock. The close was at 14½@15, one point higher than on Tuesday.

Associated Oil, under the efforts of a bullish contingent, also made a sharp gain. A board lot of ten shares was sold at 29.62½ cash. The stock closed with 29.50 bid, and the asked price very strong, at 31. This was a gain of 1¼ points for the bid and 1⅝ for the asked price, as compared with the preceding close. The annual meeting of the company is due to be held in San Francisco this week. At this meeting the annual statement is expected to be issued, which, it is said, will show the company is in far better shape than at this time last year. There is said to be the prospect of a small dividend, also, and this alone would be reason enough for the advance, many speculators buying simply for the dividend, with the idea of selling out immediately after payment, while the stock still is buoyed up and in demand by the usual bunch of small buyers who are sure to get into the market afterward and who will be induced to buy the stock by the very people who wish to unload.

RICE RANCH STRONG.

Rice Ranch Oil was another strong feature of yesterday's call. The cash bid went up to 1.63, and closed at that, with none offered. This was three points higher than the bid at the beginning of the week. The annual meeting of the company was held at Orcut on Monday evening, and all internal trouble is said to have been settled, to the satisfaction of the heaviest stockholders, at least. Elsewhere will be found a statement of the officers and directors.

Olinda Land was strong at former prices, closing at 11⅛@11¼. Columbia Oil was wanted at 81¼, up 1¼ points since Tuesday. None was offered lower than 85. Continental Oil was particularly strong, with a bid at 21, while the asked price was firm, at 25. The bid was up ¾. A bid of 200 was made for Union Provident, which closed unoffered, and United Petroleum was wanted at 383 and offered at 390, the bid showing a gain of one point and the asked five points. Western Union closed with the first live quotations for several days, being bid for at 90 and offered at 175. Amalgamated Oil closed with 62 bid and an offering at par.

The bond list was the most interesting point, aside from the oil list. No sales were made, but there was a distinct demand for the investments, and bidders got close together on several of the issues.

Home firsts were unchanged, at 81¼@82½, but were in demand. Union Transportation bonds were quoted at 84 bid, with none offered. The bid was unchanged. Mission Transportation Railways were up one point, at 89, with none in the market. A bid of 75 was made for Associated Oil bonds, which were offered at 80, the latter quotation down three points from the close on Tuesday. Bank stocks were inactive.

Industrials and public utilities remained more or less unchanged. Ten shares of United States Long Distance sold at 43.00, and the close was at 42.75@43.25, lower by ¼ on the bid and 1¼ on the asking price of the preceding call. No bid was made for Home preferred, which closed offered at 51.00, unchanged. The bid for the common was lowered to 9, and the asked was at 12. Edison Electric preferred was at 75, with none in the market. A bid of 70 was made for California Portland Cement stock, but this was withdrawn, although the offering at 75 ruled to the close.

Only two stocks were handled on the mining call. Johnnie Consolidated sold at 11⅝ cash and at 11⅝ on buyer-sixty contracts, a total of 12,000 shares changing hands. The close was at 11⅛@11⅝, the bid and asked prices, showing the loss of ⅛ each. One thousand shares of Eldorado Canyon sold at ⅝ of a cent. The remainder of the list remained stationary.

LOS ANGELES-NEVADA EXCHANGE.

LEADERS ARE STILL DULL.

DEMAND FOR CHEAP STOCKS BOOSTS VOLUME.

Daisy Leads in Goldfield Traders. Jumbo Extension and Combination Fraction Cause Only Scant Inquiry. Bonnie Claire in Demand at Higher Figures.

The newspaper merger balloon, which was released from the vicinity of Fifth and Broadway a few days ago, still retains enough hot air to keep it in circulation and it is now floating around in the ether in the neighborhood of Goldfield. Yesterday it dragged anchor at the Jumbo Extension, with the result that the stock went—down, not much, but down. Only one hundred shares were traded in. At last reports the balloon was laboriously traveling Manhattanwards and it may finally come to earth thereabouts. Possibly this accounts for the recent activity in April Fool stock.

Yesterday's sessions of the Los Angeles-Nevada Stock Exchange showed a continued demand for cheaper issues with a fair volume of business accounted for by transactions covering a wide range. There is still a consuming listlessness regarding Goldfield leaders and brokers do not appear to expect any material improvement for some little time. All anticipated matters which might effect securities have come to pass and it has been shown very conclusively that they were well discounted long before they happened.

Daisy again came into her own after giving temporary way for the flurry in Combination Fraction. Trading opened at 1.10, cash, and one point lower on seller ten option. These prices were maintained throughout both sessions with total transfers of 5600 shares for the day. Fraction opened weak in the morning with no demand and sold down one point from the last sale. In the afternoon it recovered to the previous day's price, 83, but only sold to the extent of 600 shares at both sessions. Jumbo Extension was weak at stationary prices and only changed hands to the extent of 100 shares. Consolidated, with one cash sale of a board lot, at 5.12½ was off 13¾ points from the last sale. One buyer thirty option went at 5.20.

Stock of Bonnie Claire, which is in the hands of a receiver and is closed down, sold to the extent of 10,000 shares at from 12@12 3-4, an advance which hardly seems warranted by the conditions. In another column of this issue will be found a resume of the company's affairs.

Triangle was in some demand at the informal session and closed with transfers totaling 14,500 shares, at from 8 3-4 to 9 1-4. There was also more or less trading in Milltown Fraction, Baby Florence, Atlantic & Pacific, April Fool Extension, Great Bend Annex and Great Bend Extension. Like a gopher after a hard winter, Johnnie showed its head from the hole of inactivity in which it has been hidden for the past week. Transfers amounted to 8000 shares at a price fractionally in advance of last sales.

At a meeting of the members of the exchange, held after the close of the informal session, the matter of receiving and posting continuous quotations of the San Francisco Board was discussed and finally referred to a committee. The suggestion to hold the informal call at one o'clock, instead of two, was also referred to this committee.

NEVADA STOCKS. SAN FRANCISCO LIST.

[Exclusive service to The Times by the Los Angeles Stock Brokerage Company, members of the Los Angeles-Nevada Mining Exchange.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 5.—General weakness characterized the tone of the opening market. The selling movement of the last few days continued, and losses in the price of the different stocks were recorded all along the line. The aggregate of sales on the regular call fell far below the average. The most active trader of the day was Tonopah Rescue with 15,500 shares traded in on the regular, and many thousand additional shares changed hands during the remainder of the day. A quiet selling movement struck the Tonopah district, all stocks, with the exception of West End, closing weaker, and in the case of Belmont a drop of twenty points is noted. The Bullfrog district came to life, most of the stocks receiving a pretty fair play. Following are the closing quotations of the San Francisco Stock and Exchange Board, together with the regular call sales:

SHARES AND MONEY.

DECLINE STEADY IN INDUSTRIALS.

STOCK MARKET DEPRESSED AND BEARS ACTIVE

Selling Pressure Enhanced by Increased Professional Operations on Short Side, Encouraged by Manifest Lack of Support by the Bank and Capitalists.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—Today's market gave early evidence that demand for stocks held comparatively to a standstill. Such a market tends to give way from inanition and the drop of prices early in the day was quite evidently of this nature.

The selling pressure was enhanced later by increased professional operations on the short side. This demonstration was encouraged by the manifest lack of support in the market, marking the apparent abandonment of the policy of sustaining prices which has been attributed to the power of the banks and capitalists in association, either by tacit or formal agreement.

The assigned motive for the support of the bank by the large financial interests is the importance of fostering the growth of confidence in securities and awakening a demand which will help to further the flotation of new issues in contemplation to financial requirements which confront many large corporations. This policy was not in evidence today certainly and the bearish professionals showed growing boldness in following up their advantage.

American Smelting was a center of attack and its decline was influential in undermining the whole market. The professed motive for selling of the stock was the formation of plans for competition in business by allied interests in the metal mining industry.

There was nothing in the news of the day to constitute an effective stay for values and several items were construed as positive factors of depression. Such was the report of the discharge of 10,000 men by the Baldwin Locomotive Works and the official intimation that a total shut-down of that important industrial concern was in contemplation owing to no demand for its product. Railroad equipment industrials as a group, showed the effect of this information.

Additional reports of net earnings for December offered little promise of resources in hand by railroads for pushing expenditures. Compared with December of 1906 the percentage decrease in some of the important railroad systems today reporting net earnings for December were:

Southern Pacific, 21 per cent.; Union Pacific, 10 per cent.; Norfolk and Western, 42 per cent.; Lehigh Valley, 32 per cent.; and for the six months ending December 31, Louisville and Nashville reported a decrease of 28 per cent., compared with the previous year.

A summary of results from 44 roads previously reporting for December shows an average shrinkage in net earnings in the same comparison of 21.60 per cent. Discussion of dividend prospects was not cheerful in the face of these returns and several of the industrials were the object of unfavorable estimates of a more specific kind.

Some of the selling of stocks and to some extent of bonds which appears occasionally in the market is attributed to closing out of bank or trust company loans in the final clearing up of the affairs of those institutions which were helped through the panic period.

Some hardening of the money market was perceptible today and foreign exchange rates continued to decline. A remarkable feature of the price movement of stocks was the uninterrupted nature of the decline. Even at the last there was no resiliency and the last prices were commonly the lowest.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, $1,840,000.

New York Money Market.

GENERAL EASTERN.

WHEAT STRONG, BUYING ACTIVE.

MARKET BREAKS, HOWEVER, ON A REPORT FROM ENGLAND.

Estimate That Argentina Will Export 144,000,000 Bushels This Season Affects Trading in Chicago. Corn and Oats Decline Slightly in Sympathetic Movement.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 5.—Wheat opened strong on active buying by shorts and commission houses, based upon a strong market at Liverpool, prices there being upheld.

Reports from Canada that elevator stocks of wheat are 70 per cent. less than at the same time last year, and that receipts from farmers are steadily diminishing, also aided prices. Later, however, the market broke on an English estimate that 144,000,000 bushels will be available for export from Argentina this season and that the shipments next month will be heavy. The close was easy. May opened ⅛@¼ higher to ⅝@⅞ higher at 97⅞@98⅛, advanced to 98⅝ and then declined to 96⅞. The close was at 97⅛.

Corn held strong until just before the close, when it weakened in sympathy with wheat. Firm cables, small receipts and unsettled weather were the chief bullish factors. The close was steady. May opened ⅛@¼ higher at 61½@61⅝, advanced to 61⅞ and then declined to 60⅞. The close was at 61 cents.

Oats were strong early, but broke with wheat and corn. May opened ⅛ higher at 53⅜, advanced to 54@54⅛ and then declined to 53⅛. The close was at 53@53⅛.

Provisions were firm early in the day because of the strength of corn and a 10-cent advance in the price of live hogs. The market weakened in the last half hour because of selling by local packers. At the close, May pork was off 7½, lard was down 7½ and ribs were 2½ lower.

Cash quotations were as follows: Flour was firm; No. 2 spring wheat, 1.05@1.07; No. 3, 95@1.06; No. 2 red, 95⅜@95⅞; No. 2 corn, 57@58; No. 2 yellow, 57⅛@58; No. 2 oats, 50½; No. 3 white, 50½@52; No. 2 rye, 82; fair to choice malting, 88@98; No. 1 Northwestern, 1.21½; prime timothy seed, 4.70; clover, contract grades, 15.00; short ribs, sides, (loose,) 6.60@6.27½; mess pork, per bbl., 11.62½@11.75; lard, per 100 lbs., 7.25; short clear sides, (boxed,) 6.25@6.50; whisky, basis of high wines, 1.35.

BAD WIRES TO BLAME.

Wire trouble east of Denver yesterday prevented Fred Dorr from receiving the usual full report on eastern stock markets. Incomplete reports came in on New York cotton, Chicago grain market and the New York bond market, but nothing was received from Boston copper, London copper or Liverpool cotton markets. The wire service is expected to be in working order today as usual.

RICE RANCH OIL MEETING.

R. D. Wade was elected president of the Rice Ranch Oil Company at the meeting at Orcut the first of the week, filling the vacancy caused by the resignation of Thomas Hughes. C. J. Kubach was elected vice-president, and Charles Bicknell was made secretary. In addition to the three named, the board of directors consists of R. A. Rowan, Dr. Henderson Hayward, J. H. Edmonds, Carl Leonardt and Charles Off. The necessity of holding the meeting at Orcut is occasioned by the movement of the main offices of the company to a place outside the city because of the tax on the franchise "to be." The charter of the company is at Orcut, but there is a branch office in this city, where all business is transacted. An objection to the change is that smaller stockholders cannot attend the meetings. Rumors that there was internal strife in the company, and that a contest for control was on, are denied by Mr. Rowan, who says every trouble is settled.

Inmate of Poor Farm Applies for Citizenship.

Is Eighty-three Years Old and Is Ambitious.

Lawyers Oppose Application in Strange Case.

Burdened with his 83 years, Andrew Sackey hobbled to the witness stand with the aid of a cane yesterday in the Superior Court to tell Judge Monroe that he wants to become a citizen of the United States.

Strange to say there were lawyers in court for the express purpose of opposing the granting of citizenship papers to the old man, who is an inmate of the County Farm. Never before in the history of the local courts has there been such a scene as that, and it is the first time on record that attorneys have appeared to fight the granting of citizenship.

In this case it was all the more remarkable as the applicant, now old and broken, has been a resident of this country since 1865, when he landed in New York from Germany. He went almost at once to Connecticut, and after a year removed to St. Charles, Mo., where he took out his first papers.

PRAYER UNION.

Ministers of All Denominations Form Fellowship to Hold an All-Day Meeting Each Month.

The Evangelical Prayer Union will meet in Central Presbyterian Church tomorrow for an all-day meeting. The day will be divided into three periods, beginning at 9:30 a.m., and closing at 9 p.m. The only intermission during the day will be from 5 to 7:30 p.m. From 12 to 1, noon will be business men's hour; 1 to 2, ministers' hour; 2 to 3, women's hour.

The Prayer Union is a fellowship, not an organization, and the council having it in charge is composed of well-known ministers of the city and vicinity, as follows: H. J. Weaver, W. W. Logan, W. S. Young, A. B. Prichard, T. C. Horton, G. A. Cleveland, E. P. Ryland, J. H. Ballard, W. H. Walker, Jr., H. C. Waddell, J. L. Parks, J. P. McKnight, W. L. Tucker, R. A. Hadden, W. Allison, J. A. Jackson, F. A. Field, J. C. Hay, O. C. Laizure, W. P. Hardy, J. L. Malle, J. A. Gordon, N. L. Rowell, M. J. Fergusson, F. M. Warrington, E. P. Baker.

Different leaders will be in charge through the day and a great many brief and intervening addresses will be delivered. All Christians are invited to attend any of the sessions.

Mrs. A. Phillipi of Los Angeles

Writes Letter Which May be of Great Interest to Skin Sufferers of This City.

"If I hadn't found relief in your D. D. D. Prescription I would be in my grave," writes Mrs. A. Phillipi of 1261 — 53rd St., Los Angeles, "for I tried four different doctors and several different remedies, but I seemed to grow worse with skin disease all the time, till I thought blood poison was going to set in.

"I found so much relief in your trial bottle of D. D. D. that I sent to you for a dollar bottle and it cured me, so if you choose to do so, you can use my name in full."

"P. S.—I keep a bottle of your D. D. D. in the house all the time."

What D. D. D. did in this case it ought to do for you. This wonderful remedy is now recognized by the foremost physicians and scientists as the quickest and surest cure for Eczema and skin disease of any nature. This remedy is as safe and pleasant to use as pure water, and is applied directly to the afflicted parts, leaving no bad odor or sticky, salvy substance. The first application gives INSTANT RELIEF, and as far as we have been able to investigate quickly effects the most astonishing and permanent cures wherever rightly used. If you are a sufferer from any kind of itch or skin disease or any nature do not fail to try this remarkable remedy. Pamphlets on skin diseases and their cure, diet, exercise, bathing, etc., free at our Sun Drug Co.'s Stores.

After many days!

Soup.

A contribution of $5 received by The Times for the Salvation Army, "to help feed the poor," was turned over to the soup kitchen yesterday. Another $1 contribution came later in the day for the same purpose, and will be turned in today.

Missionary Meeting.

The Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Church will hold a meeting in the parlors of the First Church this afternoon at 2 o'clock at which the programme will be in the hands of Mrs. Florence Mull. This takes the place of the meeting postponed last week on account of the rain.

Shriner Smoker.

Shriners of Al Malaikah Temple will enjoy a smoker next Saturday evening at the Jefferson-street auditorium, when a new committee will provide the entertainment and refreshments. Plans are to be discussed at that time for a special train to take Los Angeles nobles and ladies to the thirty-fourth annual session of the Imperial Council at St. Paul in July.

Princeton Reunion.

The third annual meeting and banquet of the Princeton Club of Southern California will be held at Hotel Alexandria next Saturday evening, beginning at 6:30 o'clock. All Princetonians who may have been connected with the university in any way are expected to attend, notifying A. A. Talmage, secretary of the club, No. 619 Chamber of Commerce.

Going Home.

Deputy United States Marshal Durlin will escort six Chinamen to San Francisco Monday to be shipped to their native country on the Hongkong Maru. A number of Chinamen are held in the County Jail in this city as witnesses in appealed cases. A dozen or more Chinese who came into this State from the Mexican border are in the San Diego Jail.

Bankers Study Law.

Local bank clerks, members of the American Institute of Bankers, have organized a law class to meet once a week and study municipal and banking law. The course will run for six months, Edward G. Custer of the Farmers' and Merchants' National Bank having charge. There will be a series of lectures on municipal and bank law, followed by discussion and questions.

Hospital for McKinley Home.

In spite of financial stringency, the Woman's Auxiliary of the McKinley Home for Boys has succeeded in raising money for the erection of a small hospital building for the benefit of the institution. The work of getting together a sufficient sum to warrant the beginning of the hospital has been in progress two years. Many bazaars and other enterprises have helped to swell the fund. The hospital will cost $2000, and will mean comfort and good care for many a little lad.

Baptist Revival.

The revival in the First Baptist Church is attracting large congregations and the sermons of Dr. J. Q. A. Henry are eloquent, interesting and convincing. Last night his subject was "The Lost Bible," and at the close of the meeting several persons professed conversion. The singing of Prof. Stout and that of a large chorus choir, led by two pianos, is a considerable factor in making the meetings interesting and impressive. Tonight the subject of Dr. Henry will be "A Lost Experience," and Prof. Stout will sing "The Sword of the Lord and of Gideon."

BREVITIES.

Sunday Real Estate Liners. Classified real estate advertisements for insertion in THE SUNDAY TIMES must be in the office not later than 10:30 o'clock Saturday night. Other "want" advertisements for Sunday insertion taken over the counter until 11:30 p.m. The great volume of liners printed in The Sunday Times, numbering regularly over 5000 separate announcements, makes this regulation absolutely necessary in order to get the big Sunday issue out on time.

KANSAS JOLLIFICATION.

Former Sunflower State Residents Hold Picnic at Eastlake Park, and Form State Society.

Two thousand former residents of Kansas, now living in Southern California, got together at a picnic yesterday at Eastlake Park, formed a permanent State society, elected officers, had a basket lunch and listened to a number of addresses by men, who said among other things that, while there is nothing the matter with Kansas, they prefer the sunny Southwest. T. W. Eckhart called the meeting to order and L. M. Fall was named temporary chairman. Mr. Fall made a brief address, and there were talks by Luke Parsons, Lee C. Gates, J. H. Phillips and J. L. Murphey. Mrs. C. Weaver sang, and an original poem was recited by Mrs. A. Craft.

It was decided to form an organization in which all Kansans resident here might enroll and through which they might be brought together at occasional social gatherings. The following officers were elected. President, L. M. Fall; vice-president, Mrs. Charlotte Weaver; secretary, H. H. Huntsberger; treasurer, Lee C. Gates. The Executive Committee includes M. Ferguson, Long Beach; Elwood Coade, Orange; A. P. Collins, Riverside and Frank Honeywell, T. W. Eckhart and R. D. Peck, Los Angeles.

MAIER'S AUTO KILLS BROKER.

Machine Hits William Abbott, Brewer at Wheel.

Driver and Witnesses Say Speed Was Moderate.

While crossing the street to make a few purchases preparatory to going home to dinner, William Abbott, a young mining broker with offices in the H. W. Hellman building, was struck by a big touring car driven by Edward R. Maier, secretary of the Maier Brewing Company, Sixth and Figueroa streets, last night.

The unfortunate victim of the accident was rushed to the Good Samaritan Hospital by Maier, but he died a few minutes after being placed upon the operating table. A basal fracture of the skull was the injury which caused his death.

Run Down on the Street and Killed.
William Abbott, young broker, struck last night by Brewer Edward R. Maier's automobile.

The accident which cost Abbott his life occurred shortly before 6 o'clock. The broker had just started across the street as Maier's automobile hove in sight. The car was traveling east on Sixth street at a moderate rate of speed, and, before reaching Abbott, Maier blew his horn several times. The man started back toward the sidewalk and the car started ahead.

Just as the big machine approached the spot where Abbott was standing, the bystanders were horror-stricken to see him turn and step directly in front of the oncoming auto. In another instant he was lying in the street, battered and bleeding.

Maier hurriedly applied the brakes and brought his machine to a standstill. Returning to the prostrate man he lifted him, and, with the aid of the other occupants of the auto, placed him tenderly in the tonneau.

RACE TO HOSPITAL.

Realizing that the man's condition was serious, Maier threw in the high-speed clutch and started on a race against death for the Good Samaritan Hospital. No time was lost in getting Abbott onto the operating table, but the attending physicians realized at once that his case was hopeless.

As soon as he had seen Abbott properly cared for, Maier started for the Police Station and gave himself up. After hearing his story the officers allowed him to go, as it appeared that he hardly could be blamed, all the evidence supporting his story that he was driving at a moderate rate of speed, and that the mishap was caused by the fact that the victim seemingly became confused and walked into the path of death.

With Maier in the automobile at the time of the accident were Dr. William Manning, son of Dr. E. C. Manning of No. 1225 South Hope street, and Harry Sanger. Both agreed that the machine was traveling well inside the speed limit, and could not possibly have been exceeding twelve miles an hour. They supported Maier's story concerning Abbott's action in stepping in front of the car.

MAIER'S STATEMENT.

In discussing the accident with the police, Maier said:

"I think the man must have become excited at seeing my machine approach him. As we came along the street I blew my horn, and he stepped back out of the way. I therefore continued straight ahead. Suddenly, without warning, the man half-turned round, and again started across the street.

"Before I realized what he was doing we were upon him, and the next minute he was thrown to the pavement. I at once brought my car to a standstill and jumped out to see what his injuries were. I saw at once that

NEW STEAMER LINE?

Redondo Chamber of Commerce at Banquet Tomorrow Evening Will Discuss Hawaiian Trade.

Distinguished guests from Los Angeles and other cities of Southern California are expected to attend the annual banquet of the Redondo Beach Chamber of Commerce, to be given at Hotel Redondo at 7 o'clock tomorrow evening. There will be at least 150 guests and members of the chamber, and interest is lent to the affair by the announcement that the speeches are to touch upon some recent commercial developments in connection with trade with the Hawaiian Islands, of great importance to Southern California. This is supposed to be no less than the prospective establishment of a steamer line between Redondo and the islands, principally at first to handle ties from the forests of Hawaii for the Santa Fé Railroad.

A special parlor car of the Los Angeles and Redondo Railway Company will leave Second and Spring streets at 6:10 p.m., returning immediately after the banquet.

Vestry of St. Paul's Pro-Cathedral Declines to Accept His Resignation.

So warmly attached to their rector, Rev. J. J. Wilkins, D.D., are the people of St. Paul's Church that at a meeting of the vestry last evening a resolution was adopted, firmly declining to accept the resignation of Dr. Wilkins, who has been called to the general secretaryship of the $5,000,000 pension fund of the Episcopal church of America.

WHO IS THE MAN?

A Coroner's jury yesterday returned a verdict of accidental death in the case of an unidentified man who was killed by a Southern Pacific train near Squab station, Sunday morning.

The victim was about 55 years of age and had gray hair and eyes. On his left forearm was tattooed the figure of a dancing girl.

According to the testimony of the engineer, the man entered the right of way as the Coast line train was approaching rapidly, became confused and ran in front of the engine.

NO MINORS IN POOLROOMS.

Court of Appeal Upholds City Ordinance, Striking Hard Blow at Resorts.

A heavy blow is dealt proprietors of poolrooms and billiard halls by the action yesterday of the Second District Court of Appeal, upholding the validity of the Los Angeles city ordinance which makes it unlawful for minors to visit or remain in such resorts. It means the clearing out of scores of such places now patronized almost entirely by young boys.

The court denied the petition for a writ of habeas corpus in the case of Joseph Meyers, arrested for violation of the ordinance in permitting the presence in his poolroom of K. C. Oliver, 20 years old, a law student. Meyers asserted that the youth was there on business. The higher court stated this might make a good defense in police court if it could be proved.

The court states that it is consistent with the police powers of a municipality to enact ordinances forbidding minors to reman in such resorts as gambling houses, saloons, disorderly houses and poolrooms.

GRIT.

WOULD BEGIN LIFE AGAIN.

Inmate of Poor Farm Applies for Citizenship.

Lawyers Oppose Application. Strange Case.

Burdened with his 83 years, Andrew Sackey hobbled to the witness stand with the aid of a cane yesterday in the Superior Court to tell Judge Monroe that he wants to become a citizen of the United States.

Strange to say there were lawyers in court for the express purpose of opposing the granting of citizenship papers to the old man, who is an inmate of the County Farm. Never before in the history of the local courts has there been such a scene as that, and it is the first time on record that attorneys have appeared to fight the granting of citizenship.

In this case it was all the more remarkable as the applicant, now old and broken, has been a resident of this country since 1865, when he landed in New York from Germany. He went almost at once to Connecticut, and after a year removed to St. Charles, Mo., where he took out his first papers.

In a quavering voice he told Judge Monroe that he had also taken out his citizenship papers there, and had voted both in Missouri and in Texas, where he went later. But he explained that his papers were taken away by his brother-in-law, who, he said, also took all his little fortune, and deprived him of a valuable farm.

DESERVES CONSIDERATION.

Judge Monroe was evidently impressed with the story of the old man, and made the assertion to the opposing attorneys that he would not examine the applicant upon the Constitution on the ground that a man who had been in the country for over forty years and had voted, had acquired a fortune and lost it, deserved some consideration.

Then it developed why there is opposition to the old man becoming a citizen.

"Your honor, we will show that the applicant has not lived upon the land he has taken up," remarked one of the attorneys.

"I have nothing to do with that," replied the judge. "The land office will deal with that question."

Judge Monroe instructed Deputy Sheriff Botillo to write to the clerk of the court at St. Charles, Mo., and find out if Sackey really took out his citizenship papers there, and if so to send on a certified copy. Then he turned to the bewildered witness:

"You don't belong to any society which teaches that it is right to kill Kings and Presidents, do you?" he asked.

"I belong to a lodge," replied the applicant, fearfully.

"Oh, that's all right," remarked the judge, with a smile, and Sackey was helped from the stand and started back to his only home at the Poor Farm.

WOULD BEGIN AGAIN.

The case is curious. Sackey in his extreme age wants to begin life again. He says he is tired of being a pauper through no fault of his own, and to remedy this he some time ago filed a homestead claim on a tract of land in the San Fernando Valley, near Chatsworth Park.

Andrew Sackey,
who is 83 years old, and yesterday applied for citizenship papers to enable him to hold land upon which he has filed a homestead claim which is contested.

Pete Lopez is the reputed "boss" of this district. He claims a large tract of land there, and objected to have Sackey file in the vicinity. He employed attorneys and filed a contest in the local land office on the ground that Sackey is not a citizen, that he is a pauper, and also that he has not lived upon his land as the law requires. It was stated yesterday that the old man's claim will probably be thrown out because he is a county charge.

But Judge Monroe has taken an interest in the almost friendless applicant, and it is a foregone conclusion that if it is shown that the papers he took out in Missouri were only his first, the judge will grant him the boon of American citizenship, and he will have the satisfaction of at least dying as he has for so many years lived, a citizen of the Republic.

UNREAL.

BODY IN JAIL, MIND IN FAIR DREAMLAND.

Miss Caroline Rogers, Mystery Woman, pleads not guilty to the charge of having defrauded an innkeeper. Sketched from life in Justice Frederickson's court by A. B. Dodge.

FAILING to secure $75 bail, Miss Caroline Rogers, the woman who for six months was an honored guest of the most exclusive women's clubs of Southern California, was returned to a cell in the City Jail, yesterday afternoon.

She is charged with having defrauded an innkeeper and will be examined Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. When she was arraigned before Justice Frederickson, the Police Court was filled with Japanese restaurant proprietors, who were charged with violating the sanitary laws. They stared at the trim little woman, who wore a black skirt, a white lace-trimmed waist with an oriental pin of peculiar pattern at her neck and a long black coat. Her hat was black and ornamented with a big black silk bow.

The police had little new to report in the case. No one knows who tre woman really is. She is said to have traveled all over the world and to have done charity work in the slums of Chicago.

Miss Rogers has a sweet face, an unusual command of language and a charming personality. In her imagination she is the heroine in a novel. Every move she makes, every word she utters suggests romance. She seems to live always in an atmosphere of unreality and even while her body is in prison, her mind is reveling in adventures in which she plays the leading role.

Pursuing her supposed mission of raising the fallen to a standard of decency, the young woman came to Los Angeles. She visited the slums and lectured. Then she was tempted. Some club woman thought she had discovered in Miss Rogers the authoress of "The Lady of the Decoration." The self-appointed missionary had never written a book in her life, but she had stood at the doorway of the world of literature and gazed in longingly with her sad brown eyes. She had always wanted a taste of the imagined pleasure that comes from being a successful writer. In a weak moment she said she had written the novel.

Carried away by the honors showered upon her, Miss Rogers took apartments at the Hotel Lankershim. Incidentally she ran up a bill of $48. Her masquerade was discovered and she left the hotel.

The management filed a charge against her, but yesterday the head clerk, who swore to the complaint, said he was sorry he had done so.

When the prisoner stood up before Justice Frederickson and realized her position she cried. She denied that she had intended to defraud.

GYPSY SNARE HIS UNDOING.

Convicted Murderer Says Woman Paved His Way to Life in State's Prison.

According to Fred Robedello, convicted murderer, he has the Don José part of a tragedy like Carmen in real life. He announced yesterday that he will not apply for a new trial or appeal to the higher courts. He will go to States' prison, and later ask the Governor for a pardon—when he thinks he has served enough of his life sentence. to atone for his crime of killing two men in the Hoffman House.

Robedello says he is the victim of a pretty gypsy, who played at men jealous—himself and one murdered man, Valentine Avila, being the Don José and Escamillo of the story.

The woman is Salina Ives-Avila. She is a handsome Spanish gypsy who has made a fortune.

Robedello says Salina was adored by Avila and wanted to goad him to jealous fury; that Salina asked him to wear her rings to fan the rival's temper. Robedello says they were gunning for one another and both got drunk; that he shot Avila instead of Avila shooting him.

"I am only twenty," said the prisoner, peeking wistfully through the bars, "and this is the end of my life. They all came into court and lied about me."

RISKS LIFE FOR OTHERS.

Brave Driver Guides Runaway Team Along Crowded Thoroughfare and Is but Slightly Injured.

Pluckily hanging to the lines while two frenzied horses dashed down Broadway yesterday afternoon, O. M. Brown, of the O. K. Transfer Company, probably saved many persons from serious injury. The team Brown was driving became frightened at Second street and raced down the crowded thoroughfare. Automobiles, buggies and street cars were thick along the way.

As the horses lunged forward a portion of the double trees broke and struck the maddened animals on the flanks. This added to their fright, and when nearing Third street they were going at top speed.

Rocking on the seat and in danger of being thrown beneath the horses' feet, Brown clung to the reins and guided the horses between vehicles and cars, missing several by only a few inches.

In the center of the block between Third and Fourth streets, an automobile, crowded with women, was proceedingly slowly up Broadway, and toward it the horses charged. The women screamed and hid their faces, but Brown watched carefully.

Tugging on one of the lines, which he wrapped around his hand, the nervy driver managed to swerve the horses enough to just miss the motor car, and the team rushed on to Fifth street. Brown's hand was lacerated and blood streamed from a gash the line cut into the flesh.

At Fifth street a waiting street car was discharging passengers and Brown, yelling at the people to warn them of the danger, turned the horses deliberately into the side of the car to save the women and children hurrying to the sidewalk.

The horses slid against each other, and as they stopped Brown was thrown under them. One of his legs was bruised, but his injuries are comparatively slight.

Pedestrians who witnessed the heroic act complimented the driver. Brown could have jumped from the rear of the rig at any time and saved himself.

"I knew the people on Broadway were in danger of being killed when that team started," he said, after the accident. "That's way I stuck to the horses. It was nothing and I'm not hurt much."

THE PUBLIC SERVICE—IN COURTS AND OFFICES

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The Council decided yesterday to build the new workhouse on the banks of the Arroyo near Elysian Park; the land to be used for the site is city property.

A committee claiming to represent the Socialist party of Los Angeles county is threatening to recall Mayor Harper because the Police Commission will not permit them to hold political meetings on the street corners.

City Engineer Hamlin has asked the Board of Public Works to assist him in securing additional legislation to enable the engineering department to protect the city's interests under the surface of the streets.

After an examination of grand jurors, Judge Conrey yesterday denied the motions to set aside the two indictments against former Coroner Lanterman.

A jury in Judge Bordwell's court yesterday returned a verdict adverse to Mrs. Delia A. Carithers in the suit of her late husband's brother to revoke the will by which William D. Carithers left her his property.

The jury trial of Morris Berkowitz's $24,000 damage suit against C. A. Willard, Frank Karten, J. J. Jeffries, and J. Kipper, was begun in Judge Smith's court.

Justice Stephens gave J. W. Davis judgment for $176 in his suit against Charles Stansbury to recover $266, alleged due for services rendered.

Judge James granted to Mrs. Edith M. Sanders a divorce from Thomas M. Sanders for desertion and to Mrs. Estelle C. Holman, a divorce from Paul Holman, on statutory grounds.

Frederick E. Schueddig's contest to revoke the will of his father on charges of undue influence exerted by A. R. Rapp, will be begun before Judge Rives today.

AT THE CITY HALL.

FIND SITE FOR WORKHOUSE.

WILL BUILD IN ARROYO NEAR ELYSIAN PARK.

Contractor Says Structure Can Be Completed Within Thirty Days. City to Open Sand Pit and Accumulate Rock Pile for Entertainment of Hobos and Yeggmen.

On the banks of the arroyo in the shadow of the Elysian Park hills, the City Council has finally selected a location for the city's first workhouse. Plans for the building were adopted yesterday afternoon and the Board of Public Works was instructed to advertise for bids on the construction work.

Contractor Engstrom told members of the Council last night that the emergency building can be erected in thirty days. It is to have sufficient capacity to house 250 prisoners.

The selection of a site was made yesterday morning by the Councilmen, while they were out inspecting the different pieces of property now owned by the city along the banks of the river. The land is used by the Santa Fé Railroad for stock yards. The company's lease on the ground expires within sixty days.

The building will be a concrete structure extending back from Avenue 19 to the banks of the Los Angeles River; it will be situated in the "L" formed on the south bank where the arroyo joins the river. The site is large enough to permit the city to establish a rock pile there for the entertainment of the festive hoboes who come over the mountains from the north with the first frosts. In the arroyo and in the river near the workhouse, there are thousands of tons of sand and gravel to be screened, and in Elysian Park, just across the river there are scores of miles of trails that might be converted into boulevards.

For the first time since the jail agitation started, the legislators voted unanimously yesterday for the location of the emergency workhouse without calling each other hard names. It appears that the present site was not considered until Councilman Dromgold suggested it. He says it is in the midst of a manufacturing district and there will be no protest from the owners of surrounding property.

The architects for the building estimate that it will cost $20,000. About $5000 must be expended in furnishing the workhouse to make it habitable for prisoners.

Chief Kern said last night that only convicted offenders will be sent to the workhouse. "We shall use the present jail as a detention station for persons accused of some crime," said the Chief, "the women will also be kept in the jail building, as there will be no provision for them at the workhouse.

"This will enable us to make a number of necessary repairs in the old jail building; we shall be able to make it a prison of which we will not be ashamed. Of course the workhouse now planned, is but a temporary relief. Within two or three years we shall be badly overcrowded again. I hope that the Council will not abandon its plans for a new City Jail, man's size. We now have a jail about large enough for a town of 35,000 population, and we have as many prisoners during the winter months as the average city of 400,000 population.

Repairs in the jail are now going forward under the direction of the Chief of Police. The Council has turned over to him $1000 to expend as he deems best for the amelioration of the present unsanitary conditions.

TO PROTECT STREETS.
MANY UNMARKED CONDUITS.

City Engineer Hamlin has asked the Board of Public Works to adopt such rules and ask the Council for such legislation as is necessary to enable the engineering department to keep a careful record of all the conduits that are placed under city streets. In a communication to the board the City Engineer says that last year his office granted permits for more than seventy-five miles of conduits. In the past no official record has been kept of the location of the conduits placed by the gas, electric power and telephone companies under the streets. Often the city starts some improvement such as a sewer or a storm drain only to find that much of the way is blocked by pipes and conduits under the streets.

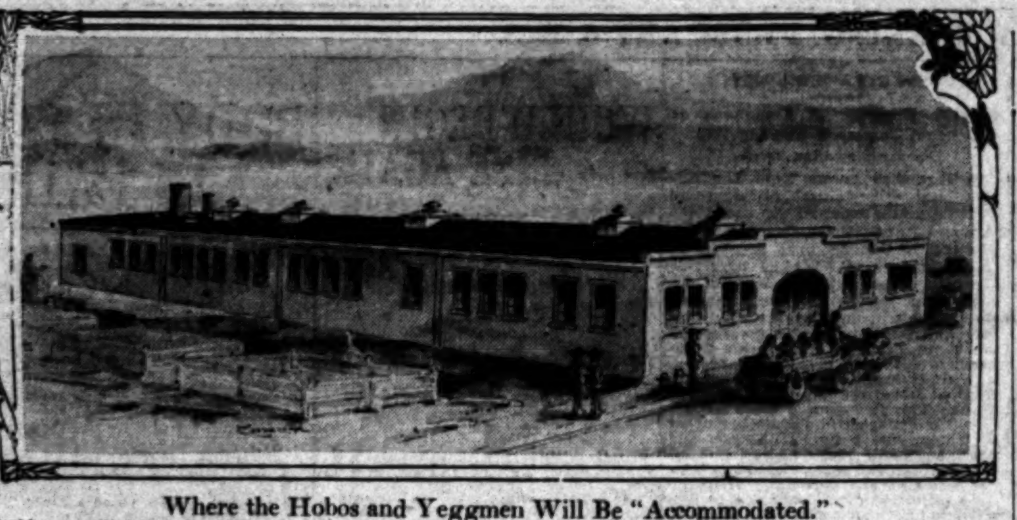
The board has referred the communication to the City Attorney for advice as to what can be done in the way of new legislation for the protection of the city's interests under the surface of the streets.

SOCIALISTS RUFFLED.
SAY BOARD USED GAG.

A committee claiming to represent the Socialists of Los Angeles county has written an open letter to Mayor Harper protesting against the act of the police board in denying their applications for permits to preach the doctrine of socialism on the street corners. They say that "by that action the constitutional right of free speech has been denied."

This open letter is to be made the pretext for a recall petition which is to follow it, if the boasts of some of the socialist spellbinders is to be believed.

In concluding, the committee makes a weak attempt to bluff the Mayor into action. "We have been patient under what we could not but consider marked injustice," say the socialists, "we have urged our claims and our claims have been ignored. This is our first appeal to you as Mayor of the city. It is our last appeal to the city government of Los Angeles. We venture to hope that our patience may be rewarded that we may receive at your hands the justice long delayed and that we shall not be compelled to carry our appeal to the source of the power which is vested in you."



Where the Hobos and Yeggmen Will Be "Accommodated."

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

AGAINST WIDOW JURY DECIDES.

CLOSE OF LONG TRIAL FILLED WITH SENSATIONS.

Verdict Sustains Charge of Relatives That Woman Used Undue Influence to Secure Signing of Will in Her Favor—Nephew to Get the Major Portion of Estate.

After being out only ten minutes, the jury in the Carithers' will case, which has been on trial in Judge Bordwell's court for the past week, returned a verdict for the contestants, late yesterday afternoon.

Carithers' relatives maintained that he was mentally incompetent when, in August, 1906, he made a will leaving most of his $50,000 estate to his widow, Mrs. Delia A. Carithers. She was charged by the dead man's brother, Robert, with having unduly influenced him and with having encouraged him in the use of liquor. The major portion of the property, according to the will of May, 1906, will now go to a nephew, W. L. Hipsley.

Arguments were begun at the opening of court, yesterday, and were continued throughout the afternoon. Attorney Grove E. Walter opened for the contestants and was followed by Attorney William Bowles of Chicago.

NEW JURY PANEL.
SIXTY NAMES DRAWN.

A jury panel of sixty was drawn for Department Eight of the Superior Court yesterday by Clerk Sam Kutz. The men will be examined by Judge Wilbur on February 24. Those drawn are: John G. Adair, S. E. Allin, A. H. Braly, George J. Birkel, L. M. Baldwin, R. J. Busch, John S. Blick, E. E. Biles, L. E. Boyer, J. C. Charles, John T. Connelly, B. F. Groves, Emil Green, T. H. Elliott, W. K. Church, Joshua Dean, H. C. Horton, Grant G. Hughes, H. M. Hurd, J. E. Holman, N. R. Folsom, Paul F. de La Vergne, W. E. Hagaboom, C. H. Coleman, B. F. Crews, G. M. Giffen, L. T. Hallett, John Ford, Adolf Frese, L. E. Jordan, I. L. Lowman, Homer Laughlin, Jr., Arthur J. Little, J. L. Mordan, John Morris, B. F. Maddox, E. W. Murphy, T. B. Nimrod, James Newell, Henry M. Newmark, Ray Nance, A. E. Nelson, Thomas Nevill, Thomas O'Brien, C. G. Packard, John Parker, M. D. Painter, R. W. Pierce, H. E. Rodenhouse, C. A. Sargent, J. F. Salyer, J. A. Smith, A. L. Stetson, Frank H. Sanborn, George Taylor, George W. Talbot, Guy K. Woodward, J. N. Wilson, C. M. Walton and Frank O. Williams.

WIVES FREED.
HUSBANDS PROVE FAITHLESS.

Mrs. Edith M. Sanders was granted a divorce from Tomas M. Sanders, yesterday, by Judge James, after she had presented to the court an affidavit in Spanish from an admiral of the Peruvian navy that Sanders is now living in London, with the admiral's wife, with whom he eloped two years ago.

Mrs. Sanders testified that she was married in San Diego in April, 1906, and that her husband deserted her the following September, after their removal to Los Angeles. He told her that he was going to Mexico on mining business, and never returned. His last employment, she had been told, was with the Lower California Development Company at its London offices. She has property in her own right, and said that Sanders never supported her.

On statutory grounds Judge James yesterday granted to Mrs. Estelle C. Holman a divorce from Paul Holman, son of a former Congressman from Indiana. The Holmans were married at Berkeley, Cal., in 1893, and have three children, who were awarded to the custody of the mother. The couple separated in 1906, after a division of property, by which Mrs. Holman received about $30,000, represented in part by a large ranch at Colegrove.

Holman filed an answer but was not present at the trial.

PROBLEM OF WILL.
GRANDSON ACCUSED BY SON.

Whether Frederick Schueddig was unduly influenced and deceived by his grandson, Arthur R. Rapp of Missouri, when he made the will on June 21, 1905, by which he left a large slice of his $4500 estate to Rapp, is a problem to come before Judge Rives today.

Frederick E. Schueddig, of Palms, filed a petition last October in the Superior Court, asking that the will be set aside on the ground that when his father died in October, 1907, at the age of eighty-three years, he had long been mentally incompetent. The plaintiff says that Rapp visited the old man and secured a signature to the will by false pretenses, and a few days later, returned to Missouri, contrary to his promise. The heirs to the estate are Frederick E. Schueddig, two daughters, Mrs. Amalia Shimmel of Palms, and Mrs. A. Rapp of Tuxedo, Mo., and seven grandchildren.

SUES PUGILIST.
CIGAR MAN ASKS DAMAGES.

"Big Jim" Jeffries appeared yesterday in Judge Smith's courtroom as a defendant in Morris Berkowitz's $24,000 damage suit. The others are Charles A. Willard, Frank Karten and J. Kipper. The plaintiff alleges failure to give him a ten years' lease on a cigar stand at No. 326 South Spring street. More testimony will be presented today.

Berkowitz says that in March, 1907, he bought from Willard and Karten, former proprietors of the saloon at No. 304 South Spring street, which, in June, 1907, was sold to Jeffries and Kipper, the cigar stand in front of the place, with the agreement that he was to be given a ten years' lease on a cigar stand at No. 326 South Spring street when Willard and Karten should move there.

Willard and Karten say Berkowitz was to furnish a $10,000 bond, but that he did not do so. Jeffries and Kipper state that they were not notified by Berkowitz of his alleged rights until after the sale had been made to them, and that they are in no way responsible for damages.

FOREMAN WINS SUIT.
"HILLSIDE ABOMINATION."

"We set out to build a street, but we made an abomination in the hillside," J. W. Davis testified in Justice Stephens's court yesterday, in his suit against Charles Stansbury for $266, alleged to be due for labor, rent, and wares furnished. The plaintiff got judgment for $176.

Davis, who was Stansbury's foreman on the extension work at East Thirty-third avenue, from September, 1906, to March, 1907, said, regarding it: "I didn't know what to do. Fase came out as Stansbury's representative and when I asked him what I should do about the job, he laughed quizzically. Moore, an owner, gave us instructions by the running rod. Another of Stansbury's men came out and advised me: 'Just keep on here blowing up rock and if the thing gets too raw, report to the office.'"

Stansbury put in against Davis a counter-claim for $204, alleged to be due for services. He asserted that Davis, instead of using earth from the excavation to fill up street holes, had used it on his own lots in the Foothill tract.

FORMER CORONER'S CASE.
INDICTMENTS ARE SUSTAINED.

After counsel for former Coroner R. S. Lanterman had announced that they wished to carry no further the examination of members of the grand jury, Judge Conrey yesterday morning denied the motion to set aside the two indictments against him as illegal and illegally found, and disallowed the challenges of the grand jury collectively and individually. Argument on demurrers will be heard today.

I. B. Newton, foreman; A. H. Conger, secretary, and Leonard Merrill, George H. Peck, and Henry S. Jones, members of the grand jury, with Deputy District Attorney G. Ray Horton, were examined by Earl Rogers, representing Lanterman, regarding questions, each juror denied that he had been actuated by prejudice, and testified that no one was in the grand jury room during the examination of witnesses in the Lanterman matter, except jurors and Paul McCormick, who conducted the examination.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.
BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

MADE CITIZENS. Judge Monroe yesterday admitted to citizenship Charles Young, Charles V. Eccleston, W. J. Boyd, William Dunn, M. M. Stenian, A. E. Montgomery, W. J. Bertrand, Theodor Hansen, Matthias Heinen, H. J. Wuest, Frank Pellissier and W. H. Dunn.

SUE CITY. Contesting the legality of the taxation of its franchise, the Central Oil Company yesterday filed suit in the Superior Court against the city of Los Angeles to recover $4324, taxes paid under protest. The Fullerton Oil Company also filed suit against the city to recover $2320.

FILES WILL. Mrs. Martha E. Lindemuth, executrix under the will of her husband, Albert H. Lindemuth, who died in Los Angeles on January 23, leaving a $25,580 estate, yesterday filed the document in the Superior Court for probate. The property is left to the wife during her lifetime, and at her death, is to be divided among relatives and the Church Extension and Freedmen's Aid Societies of the Methodist Church. Lindemuth had no children.

CASES DISMISSED. After the verdict of not guilty, rendered yesterday in Justice Selph's court by the jury, in the suit against Al Breckinridge and Irving Gaudineir, charged with cruelty to animals, the justice at the District Attorney's request, dismissed a second suit against the men on the same charge, as well as a cruelty charge which was pending against Richard Smith and James Rogers.

SAN DIEGO MAN HELD. At the wired request of Constable Cooley of San Diego, Deputy Sheriff Claude Mathewson yesterday arrested, at Los Nietos, Charles A. Fortenir, who is held in the County Jail. He is accused of the embezzlement of $250. He has been doing construction work for a telephone company.

ASKS PAYMENT. W. H. Akin yesterday filed in the Superior Court a suit against the Interstate Mining and Reduction Company, to collect $3670, alleged to be due him as salary.

DECIDES SUITS. Judge Houser yesterday gave judgment for D. W. Hare in C. Hunsaker's suit against him for $1000, alleged to be due on a settlement of accounts made in 1903. The court also gave judgment for $1413 in favor of M. Robertson in his suit against Charles A. Mackey and others.

ASKS ADMINISTRATION. Mrs. Margaret R. Melville, widow of Ebenezer F. Melville, who died in Los Angeles on January 18, leaving a $30,700 estate and no will, yesterday filed a petition in the Superior Court for appointment as administratrix. Melville owned, among other properties, 130,000 shares of mining stock, said to be of nominal value.

WILL PROBATED. Germain Pelissier's will, bequeathing his entire $200,000 estate to his widow, was admitted to probate by Judge Rives yesterday.

SENTENCED. C. A. Wriggins, who stole money from the person of John L. Hawkins, in a saloon, on December 6, was yesterday sentenced by Judge Smith to one year in Folsom.

ENTERS PLEA. James Wright in Judge Smith's court pleaded not guilty yesterday, to the burglary of C. E. Kelso's shop on January 21. He will be tried on the 13th inst.

CHARGES FILED. Informations against Harry Scott for robbery; W. Nelson for burglary and K. Barski for receiving stolen property, were filed in Judge Smith's court yesterday by the District Attorney. The accused men will plead this morning.

INCORPORATIONS. Articles of incorporation were filed with the County Clerk yesterday, by the Olig Land Company, capital stock, $50,000; Ye Olde Mission Sanatorium Company, capital stock, $100,000 and the Atlantic and Pacific Manufacturing Company, capital stock, $50,000. The Rand Mercantile Compny filed a certificate that the number of its directors has been increased from three to five.

BOUND OVER. Justice Summerfield yesterday bound over to the Superior Court, under $1000 bail each, F. Veyssett, owner of the Mountain Meadow Ranch, and his employé, Julius Damon, charged with the felonious burning of hay on the ranch, which had been leased to A. A. Duncan. The court dismissed the charge against Homer Lenaones, another employé.

FORM DISTRICT. The Supervisors have granted the petition of the residents of the section set off from Arcadia at the recent election, for a new school district, the Palo Solo.

BARTENDER WANTED. Chief Constable J. H. Delamonte, is looking for B. Perry, a bartender at the Magnolia Saloon, who has disappeared within the last few days. It is charged that he has been wearing a constable's star and making arrests without authority. Delamonte was notified Saturday, that Perry had brought a man to the City Jail, and had told the officers that he held an appointment as deputy constable from Delamonte.

DIVORCE REFUSED. Judge Monroe yesterday refused to grant Mrs. Annie Morgan a divorce from Charles H. Morgan on grounds of cruelty, or to Morgan on grounds of desertion, as it was admitted that they habitually applied vile epithets to each other in the presence of their children. It appeared from the evidence that they were equally responsible for their troubles.

IN THE POLICE COURTS.

High School Boy Fined for Violating Speed Ordinance—Saloon-keeper in Trouble.

Because he drove his automobile, Tuesday afternoon, through downtown streets with reckless speed, Roland Seeley, 18 years old, of No. 1515 South Figueroa street, was fined $75 in the Police Court, yesterday morning. He is a High School boy, whose mother is a rich widow.

In court Seeley seemed to regard his arrest as a huge joke. He laughingly stated that he had been arrested once before, and fined $10. He told the court that when he obeyed the speed ordinance he never even saw an officer, but that the moment he started out to have a little fun, he always got caught.

When Justice Frederickson fined him $75, with the alternative of spending fifty days in jail, this, too, seemed to amuse the youth. He telephoned his mother, who told him that a few days in jail might do him good. She finally relented and paid the fine.

"I have warned him time and again about driving too fast," Mrs. Seeley said yesterday. "Some time ago I was compelled to sell an automobile because he disobeyed me. I may have to sell this one. I shall not let him go to jail, because that would be a disgrace, but I shall see that he does not break that law again. He will have to work to repay me."

Japs Will Fight Law.

Justice Frederickson's courtroom was thronged with Japanese yesterday, who were ready to fight the law which provides that they must have a permit from the health department to conduct a restaurant, as well as a license from the city. The justice postponed the cases until Friday, after expressing the opinion that the city had no right to grant a man a license for a restaurant and then prevent his operating it until he secured a permit from the health department.

Saloon-keeper Wanted.

J. P. Conner, a saloon-keeper, convicted of having held out a pay check belonging to Joseph Smith and "short changing" other customers, failed to surrender himself to the police yesterday, after the decision of the lower court had been affirmed by a higher tribunal.

Conner, who is an elderly man, owns a saloon at Los Angeles and First streets. He was sentenced to serve 120 days in the City Jail, and appealed. Justice Chambers issued a warrant for his arrest.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. Myer Cohen and daughter of San Francisco are guests at the Rosslyn.

C. M. Phelps, a paper manufacturer of Holyoke, Mass., is a guest at the Angelus.

J. F. Cassell of San Francisco is spending a few days at the home of Charles Silent, No. 4 Chester Place.

R. H. Leighton of Vancouver and Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Corbould of New Westminster, B. C., are at the King Edward.

R. A. Rowan returned yesterday from a business trip to Orcutt, where he attended the Rice Ranch Oil Company's annual meeting.

Rev. John Bible, a missionary from Shanghai, and a graduate of Park College, Missouri, is in the city and will leave for the East in a few days.

William B. Inman has gone to Sonora, Mex., where he will take over the management of the La Dura mines, owned by Hartman Brothers, of this city.

"Chick" Wright and Frank Dubois, the billiard experts of San Francisco, who have been in the city for several weeks, will leave for the North this evening.

Frank M. Vale left last night on a business trip to the recently-discovered oil fileds in Monterey county, in which he is interested. He will be away several days.

Mrs. Joseph Marmion and daughter, Miss Norah Marmion, have returned from a four months' trip through Lower California. They will leave today for Vancouver.

Frank Hodges, a mining man of San Diego, and George Dubose, a member of a local contracting firm, left last night on a trip to Bagdad to investigate mining property.

H. M. Walker, a farmer near Santa Paula, is in this city on business. He says the recent rains have added tens of thousands of dollars to the growing crops of Ventura county.

Dr. Paul Bradford Raymond, president of Wesleyan University of Middletown, Ct., has been visiting President George F. Bovard of the University of Southern California for the past week.

E. L. Godby, a Salt Lake mine owner; Mrs. A. Levy and daughter of Hueneme; H. C. Molloy, a Phoenix merchant and M. Camp, an attorney from El Paso, are registered at the Hollenbeck.

E. L. Williams, treasurer of Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y., is visiting points of interest in this State, and is for the present in the city, a guest of A. C. Balch, who has apartments at the Angelus.

C. C. Webster and C. C. Kester, miners from Nome, Alaska; Thomas Garland, an English tourist; Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Dean of Omaha; and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Walthen of Louisville are registered at the King Edward.

John S. Clute, for the past twenty-nine years Inspector of H. M. Customs for British Columbia, and Mrs. Clute, of Westminster, B. C., are visiting James M. Clute, No. 1216 Orange street. They will remain for the winter.

John Keith, cousin of the late "Silent" Smith of New York, and by the terms of the Smith will heir to a considerable fortune, is a guest at the Yule apartments. Mr. Keith has made an independent fortune as a dealer in blooded horses. His home is in Omaha.

A. G. Barnett and his daughter, Miss Sue Barnett of Fort Wayne, Ind., are guests at the Hayward, where they will remain for the winter. Mr. Barnett is the son of one of the founders of Fort Wayne, and members of his family have held important municipal offices for many years. A street, a park and a large building are named after the family.

JEVNE'S ANNUAL REUNION.

Employés of the H. Jevne Company held their annual reunion last night at Mammoth Hall. Music and dancing were enjoyed, and refreshments were served. Mr. Ashman, salesman for over twenty-two years, and Charles Brunele, manager of the delicatessen department, were in charge of the programme. About 250 were entertained.

BUYS FINE HOME.

Portland Man Pays Twenty-five Thousand for Handsome Place on Harvard Boulevard.

Joseph Foxton has sold to a Portland capitalist the magnificent residence at No. 1928 Harvard boulevard for a reported consideration of $25,000. The property consists of a handsome two-story basement and attic dwelling, and a lot 75x200 feet. There are eleven rooms in the house, which is entirely furnished, the furniture being included in the sale. The grounds are beautifully improved with ornamental trees, shrubs and flowers, and the place is regarded as one of the handsomest in the city. The sale was made through the agency of W. B. Merwin & Co.

Frank R. Strong has purchased from the Benson Investment Company a block of twenty-seven lots on Mountain and Sinaloa avenue, Pasadena Heights, for a reported consideration of $26,000. The average size of the lots is 80x192 feet. All improvements are in, such as street work, sidewalks, water and palms between curb and sidewalk. The sale was made through the agency of Strong & Dickinson.

MINES AND MINING.

BONNIE CLAIRE MAY RESUME.

PLAN UNDER WAY TO RETIRE DEBTS OF COMPANY.

Property Now Closed and in Charge of Receiver—Kaffirs Boom in London—Mexican Government Completes Big Guanajuato Tunnel. Movements of Men.

The stock of the Bonnie Claire Mining Company, which has recently advanced on the local exchanges in spite of the fact that the property is closed down and is in the hands of a receiver, has been the subject of considerable discussion among mining men and brokers, who fail to understand the excuse which present conditions offer for an advance.

It will be remembered that two months ago three creditors, representing indebtedness of between $22,000 and $23,000, filed a petition in involuntary bankruptcy in the Federal Court of this city, and later, through ancillary proceedings in the District Court of Nevada at Carson City, secured the appointment of a receiver, George Yearsley, who is now in charge of the mine to conserve and protect the assets of the concern.

Under ordinary procedure the next move would be the appointment of a trustee in bankruptcy by the Nevada court, and he would be expected to sell the assets for what they would bring under the court's direction, and distribute the amount so collected to the creditors.

Inquiry at the office of Lamar Harris, attorney for the company, reveals the fact that no such step is contemplated at the present time, and that it is almost certain that the large stockholders of the concern will pay off the present creditors and themselves become the sole creditors. Application for dismissal of bankruptcy proceedings will then be made and work at the mine resumed.

The principal stockholders of the company are W. W. Whitney of San Diego, Henry Pimken, also of San Diego, and an Ohio millionaire connected with the roller-bearing works, and E. A. Forrester of Los Angeles.

The company recently completed a ten-stamp mill and cyaniding and concentrating plant, at a cost of $70,000, and it is believed that the mine is now in such shape that regular dividends can be paid as soon as the present troubles are surmounted and the stamps begin to drop.

Kaffir stocks, which have experienced a long period of depression in the London market, now show signs of booming once more and dealers are anticipating a return to the exciting speculative times of a few years ago.

The mining industry in South Africa has just completed a record year, both as regards the output of the precious metal and the amount of dividends distributed to shareholders.

Consideration of these figures shows to what a vast extent the output has grown and offers food for much reflection to those who are hysterically pointing to the production of this or that State in the Union. The area of production in South Africa is comparatively limited and its output is therefore the more remarkable.

For last year the total gold output amounted to 6,451,384 ounces, valued at £27,403,738, as against 5,786,617 ounces of a value of £24,616,704, in 1906—the previous record. Dividends during the same period amounted to £7,131,600.

For purposes of comparison it is well to consider the last year's output of Arizona, Montana and Michigan—the three richest mining States in the Union. Roughly speaking, Arizona's metal production reached $67,000,000; Montana was second with about $60,000,000; and Michigan third with $50,000,00. Reduced to dollars, the South African production reached over $137,000,000, with dividends of $35,500,000. In other words, the South African contribution to the world's wealth amounted to more than the combined contributions of Arizona and Montana. Dividends paid by Kaffirs were over 70 per cent. of the entire mineral production of Michigan.

The steady progress of the industry, as shown by increased production and the lowering of working costs, has at last begun to make its influence felt and many shrewd London operators are busy picking up all sorts of speculative shares. The sentiment in the market has, in fact, changed completely, and Kaffirs seem once more to be taking their proper place in the category of speculative investments. After such a long period of depression the market is naturally very narrow and the absence of floating supplies of shares is causing a rapid advance all along the line.

Big Bore Completed.

Last Thursday evening at 4 o'clock, the shot was fired which connected the two working ends of the Porfirio Diaz tunnel and opened up a passageway for surplus water, which will in future protect Guanajuato, Mexico, from disastrous floods. This last shot was attended with great rejoicing by the people of Guanajuato. A great many citizens gathered at the tunnel and when the shot was fired a bottle of wine was broken. Several prominent Mexicans made speeches. All the church bells of the city rang for half an hour and military bands, soldiers and private citizens marched through the streets. The Porfirio Diaz tunnel, constructed to carry off the storm waters of the Guanajuato and Pastita rivers in order to protect the city from future floods, is the second largest piece of work of its kind in the republic and cost the government about half a million dollars. In size it is 7½x7½ meters (about twenty-five feet,) and is 1161 meters long, beginning at Puerta Grande and ending at Coajin. It was driven through solid rock and almost entirely without timbering of any kind. Eight large air drills were used and the lo se rock transported to the dumps over steel tramways.

The mine and mill of the Pinguico Mines Company, which is controlled by the Securities Corporation, Ltd., of New York, began constructing its mill at Guanajuato in February, 1907, and it was expected that it would be ready to operate by January, 1908. The work was pushed rapidly and as a result the mill was practically completed and trial runs were made last October—three months ahead of time. Authorities pronounce this accomplishment a record breaker in mill construction. The mill, with a rated capacity of 200 tons a day, is fitted with the most modern equipment for economically performing its functions, and with many new features in arrangement. It is now running steadily. The mine is developing high-grade ores, and recent samplings show an average of $109 to the ton, with richer ore in sight, in the extreme northern faces of the 400-foot level and the 450-foot level. Air drills have been installed throughout the mine. The most rapid extraction is being effected and every level is thoroughly tracked and equipped to its most extended faces.

Good ore is being shipped to the San Matias mill from Pena Fiel mine, located about the Sirena, on the Mother Lode of Guanajuato.

Movements of Mining Men.

E. C. Thursby Pelham and George B. Wilson have returned to the city after a week's trip to mining property in the vicinity of Parker, on the Arizona side of the Colorado River.

J. D. Ferree, president of the Kelvin tunnel, Southern Bell and Lucky Gold and Copper mining companies, operating in the Kelvin district of Arizona, is a guest in the city from his home in San Diego. He will shortly remove his residence to this city and use it as a base of operations in the future.

James H. Moran, general manager of the Anglo-Sonora Mines Company, operating property in the Altar district in Sonora, left for the mines last night. He will commence active development at once with a force of a dozen men. The company which he represents is a local concern, which has just been organized to work Mexican "antiquas" in that State.

IRRIGATION POINTERS.

H. J. Whitley, Abroad With Wife, on Way to Valley of the Nile to Study Methods There.

H. J. Whitley, who went abroad several weeks ago to join Mrs. Whitley, who was ill in the south of France, has just been heard from at Nice, whence he expected to depart on the first inst., for a leisurely tour through Italy, visiting Milan, Venice, Florence, Rome and Naples. Later they will go to Alexandria and Cairo and will spend considerable time along the Nile, possibly visiting the Holy Land.

Already an expert in matters pertaining to irrigation, Mr. Whitley looks forward to a season of profitable study into the methods prevailing in the fertile valley of the Nile, where conditions are the best in the world. From his observations, it is likely that local irrigators will profit greatly on his return.

Mr. Whitley reports that the health of his wife is much improved. Still further improvement is looked for as a result of travel in the mild climate.

KILLED FOR FEW CENTS.

Later Details of Murder in Mexico of Young German Who Was Known in Los Angeles.

Further details have just been received from Chihuahua, Mex., regarding the killing of Otto Andre Rader, a young German, who was well known in Los Angeles. The scene of the murder was at Rader's cabin, a few miles from Urique, and was the result of a dispute over a few cents in wages between Rader and a peon named Feliciano Perez. The peon is said to have crept up to the cabin at night, while Rader slept, and to have slain his former employer in cold blood. The assassin also killed a fourteen-year-old Mexican boy who was asleep in the cabin with Rader. The murderer fled to the mountains, pursuit being taken up next morning by a posse. The chase was without avail so far as reported.

This is the second killing that has taken place at Urique as the result of fights over wages, the first occurring about three years ago, when L. N. Rahn, who was managing Thomas W. Lawson's properties there, was clubbed to death by a Mexican laborer. This murderer escaped with a prison sentence of eight years.

STUDYING PLANTS.

Japanese Nurseryman Here After Growths That May Thrive in His Country.

H. Suzuki, a director in the Imperial Yokohama Nursery Company of Japan, arrived here yesterday for the purpose of studying the trees and plants of Southern California. When he registered at the Hollenbeck, he gave a letter of introduction to Manager Mitchell from George Christian Roeding of Fresno, who is especially interested in the propagation of figs. Roeding stated that the Japanese was an authority on fruits and plants and was eager to obtain information regarding fruits that have done especially well in this section.

Suzuki will obtain cuttings and slips from fruit trees and plants that he thinks will propagate in Japan, where the winters are severe compared with this portion of California. When a newspaper man sent up his card to Suzuki last evening, about 9 o'clock, the courteous Japanese charged the bell boy with this reply: "Tell the honorable journalist that his servant is very fatigued and is now retired. Pleasure me by calling tomorrow morning."

DAVID AND JONATHAN.

Newton Beers of Boston will appear tonight at No. 108 North Spring street, in his dramatic characterization of "David and Jonathan," under the auspices of American Lodge, Independent Order of Odd Fellows. He impersonates the fourteen different characters with change of voice and manner that is declared to be most remarkable, and requiring an hour and a half of constant action.

DANGER
LURKS IN NEGLECT.

Pneumonia, with most of the deadly diseases of winter, begins with a cold. Most people seem to regard a cold as of slight importance; annoying, perhaps, but requiring no attention. They overlook the fact that a cold, with the irritating cough attending it, weakens the organs affected, and thus make it more difficult for them to withstand attack.

Virgin Oil of Pine (pure) heals and strengthens the lungs and bronchial organs, affording almost instant relief to a cough, and will break up a cold in 24 hours. It is a combination of the active principles of forest trees, and possesses all the healing and medicinal properties for which the pines are famous.

Be sure to get the genuine, which is put up for dispensing through druggists only in ½-oz. vials, each vial securely sealed in a round wooden case with an engraved wrapper showing plainly the name—Virgin Oil of Pine compound pure, prepared only by Leach Chemical Co., Cincinnati. O.

EQUALIZERS HERE.

Members of State Board Making Their Annual Visit to Southern Counties.

A. B. Nye, State Controller, of Sacramento; Harry Scott of San Francisco, R. E. Collins of Redding and Jefferson McElvaine of San Bernardino, members of the State Board of Equalization, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday, on their annual visit to the counties of Southern California. Alexander Brown, chairman of the board, was detained by a slight illness, but he is expected to join the other members within a few days.

The board visited County Assessor Hopkins during the day, and went over the tax lists.

"We are not here necessarily to raise the assessments of Los Angeles county," said McElvaine last night. "Some people seem to think we go about for the express purpose of boosting up the assessments. The Assessor of this county has seemed to do pretty well in that respect."

"In some counties we raise and in others we lower the assessments. At the sitting of the board at Sacramento, during July and August, we hear the complaints of various individuals and corporations. At this time we are merely on a tour of inspection, as required by law. Last year, Mr. Brown was the only old member on the board. We raised assessments on the railroads $33,000,000, if my memory serves me."

Within the next few days the board will pay its first official visit to the new county of Imperial. The northern members of the board expressed a great wish to see the youngest member of the Southern California sisterhood.

"That valley is becoming famous throughout the country," stated McElvaine. "It has a great future."

This city will be headquarters for the board members. They will remain in this section for a week or ten days, and in turn will visit San Bernardino, Riverside, Orange and San Diego counties, and then will go north by way of Santa Barbara.

The party is at the Hollenbeck.

GOULD GETS BIG LOAN.

VALLEJO, Feb. 5.—C. A. Nelson, a former contractor of the Western Pacific, said today that Gould had secured an additional loan of $40,000,000 to complete the Western Pacific, available May 1, when work will begin. Work had been tied up because of the financial stringency.

It is also learned that the Vallejo & Northern railroad is backed by Western Pacific capital. A part of the new loan is to be used, it is reported, in building 105 miles of double track line from Vallejo to Sacramento, to connect with the Northern Electric.

The second large audience greeted the Fer-Don entertainers at the rise of the curtain at the Peoples Theater last night. The many friends whom Fer-Don and the European Medical Experts have made during their stay in Los Angeles are turning out to see the demonstrations as well as the show itself. For the Medical Experts are still performing the demonstrations in making the deaf to hear and the lame to walk, as they did at the show grounds at the corner of Seventh and Spring Streets. Even more wonderful demonstrations will be performed here because the facilities for getting at the affected parts are so much better than when the demonstrations were held out of doors. The Experts invite all those who are deaf or lame to come to the Theater any evening and, without money and without price, receive applications of the wonderful preparations which make the deaf to hear and the lame to walk. Canes and crutches will be broken and thrown away.

These demonstrations and lectures each evening take up but a very few moments of the time set for the entertainment. Two hours of solid show are given. The Dixie Minstrels furnish the first part of the program, followed by a number of high class specialties and closing with the exceedingly funny after piece entitled Uncle Ephriam's Return. Next week, commencing Monday, will be given the tuneful musical comedy, The Hottest Coon in Dixie. Bill will be changed each week.

The prices are only 10c all over the house every day except Sunday, when the charges will be 10c and 20c for matinee and night. On Sundays there will be no lecture nor demonstration, nothing but show. Matinees will be given on Wednesday, Saturday and Sundays.

The European Medical Experts still retain their permanent offices at 745 So. Main street, where they treat and cure all chronic diseases, and remove tumors, cancers and gall stones without the use of the knife. So many have called at the offices and have come with the understanding that the liberal offer is still on, that Fer-Don announced last night that the offer will be made again to all those who have not seen the doctors as yet until March 1st. This means that all who call until that time will be treated for the cost of the medicines alone. There will be a charge of one dollar for examination to those not holding cards for examination

AND MAKE MONEY
At Monte Vista

Planting an orange grove at Monta Vista is just like planting pennies for dollar crops. You know the soil is the best. Valuable groves on four sides of it prove it. You know that there is a double head of water piped to each acre. You know that the property was in the hands of an estate for many years and is now being placed on the market at prices of five years ago. You see that the Southern Pacific and the Salt Lake Railroads are here and the electric line is coming. You see that it is only half a mile to banks, churches, stores, and one block from school. You see that the only difference between the five or ten acres you buy at Monte Vista and the land adjoining it on four sides is the trees that are on it. You know that if orange trees can jump values from $250 an acre to $1000 or $1500 an acre there is no better, safer, surer or more profitable farm or investment possible to find. You can see these things for yourself.

Editorial Pen Points

There are 20,000 different kinds of butterflies, not counting those that are in society.

It is wonderful how a mere sniff of Republican discord arouses the Democracy into new life.

Besides all the men who are really candidates for the Presidency there are those also who think they are candidates.

Mr. Bryan has made $50,000 a year by running for President, but the Democratic party is reported to be a heavy loser.

You may know what an anarchist is when you are told that he looks on a socialist as the incarnation of rule by law.

It now devolves on Harry Thaw to prove that the twelve men who pronounced him insane were crazy when they brought in the verdict.

Paderewski would play the piano every evening, anyway, so he combines pleasure with a large income when he takes to the road.

The young King of Portugal will probably be fairly well respected in view of the fact that it is known that he always carries a gun.

Mme. Jacques, recently arrived from Europe, declares that King Edward wears a corset. Maybe that's the reason he is such a good stayer.

Gov. Hughes still takes the position that if the nomination walks in and handcuffs him and marches him out between two policemen he will not resist.

If Harry Thaw, and Evelyn, his wife, will now kindly consent to disappear from public sight the said public sight will consider itself greatly relieved.

Some Democrats will object to nominating for the Vice-Presidency Douglass, the shoe man, for the reason that Bryan is also a good deal of a "shoo" man.

February is a short month and March is not far away with its breath of roses and the gleam of poppies on the green uplands of the Land of Soul's Delight.

The lawyer who defended Harry Thaw, this time, is the same man who nominated Alton B. Parker for the Presidency four years ago, but the result is different.

Walking delegates are not much given to walking, and now they will be inclined to sit down more than ever since the United States Supreme Court has begun to talk.

Have you ever noticed the large number of people there are who explain their lack of valuable possessions by the statement that they lost what they had in the San Francisco fire?

Prof. Ross of the University of Wisconsin asserts that "the idle rich are worse than robbers." In other words it is his opinion that the idle rich are worse than the active rich.

Politics has become so crooked that we would not be surprised to learn that the Prohibition party has accepted campaign contributions from the patent medicine manufacturers.

A man named Jones wants to succeed Senator Ankeny of the State of Washington. We don't know Jones, but if he isn't an improvement on Ankeny he doesn't amount to much.

The Pullman company has presented its conductors and porters with $175,000. This, in addition to the tips they receive, ought to make what remains of the winter look pretty good to them.

"The people of this country have made it possible for me to acquire an independent income," says Mr. Bryan. And now he also wants them to give him a house rent free for four years.

A Chicago advertising man visiting here says Los Angeles will be "one" of the great cities of the West. What he doubtless means is that Los Angeles will be "the" great city of the West.

It will be seen that in his capacity as a great lawyer Martin Littleton will now be able to prove that Harry Thaw is not crazy with the same ease that he proved that he was a first cousin to a bedbug.

Having kindly loaned us their climate for several days, we desire to say to Portland and Seattle that if there is any way in which we can return the compliment we shall be only too glad to do so.

As usual the selection of a candidate for the Vice-Presidency is a matter of hardly serious consideration, just as though whoever is named might not some day become President, as has happened before.

"Los Angeles is not on the Pacific Ocean," says the Chicago Tribune. Fortunately it is not. It would be a difficult task to build a great city like Los Angeles on a wobbly thing like an ocean.

Bryan again says that if the Democrats do not want him as their candidate they have only to instruct the delegates for another man. But the Democrats haven't the nerve to call the bluff, although they are dying to do so.

Criminal lawyers all over the country will please take notice that the unwritten law can't hold a candle to the accepted theory that every man who spends money like a drunken sailor and then kills somebody over a chorus girl is perfectly irresponsible.

The fact that the Portuguese have placed a rear-admiral at the head of their government suggests the idea that if the coming conventions get into tangles in nominating candidates for President of the United States a compromise might be effected on Fighting Bob Evans.

BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS.

Some of the "hammer-and-tongs" newspapers of the city are practically contending that there is only one man in sight suitable for appointment on the Board of Public Works, to wit, namely, J. A. Anderson, and they are noisily insisting that the Mayor shall reappoint Mr. Anderson for another term—breathing threats of the "recall" and other penalties against Mayor Harper in case he shall exercise a prerogative conferred upon him by the city charter by selecting a man of his own choice for the place instead of permitting these clamorous sheets to do the selecting and the "Mayoring" generally.

The Times has nothing to say against Mr. Anderson; but it is clearly within the rights of the Mayor to choose another fit man for the office in which Mr. Anderson is now serving as a hold-over, should the Mayor deem it best to do so. The idea that there is in the city but one citizen of the requisite stature and accomplishments for this place on the Board of Public Works is preposterous. Should the Mayor appoint a man of an ability and integrity on a par with Mr. Anderson's, one fully equal to the requirements of the post, his action would be beyond rational criticism.

In other words the charter places the appointment in the hands of the Mayor and not at the disposal of Mr. Hearst and Mr. Earl. If Mayor Harper names Mr. Anderson or decides to replace him with another citizen equally capable and honest, the people will stand by him rather than with the bulldozers.

TARIFF, TARIFF REFORM, POLITICIANS, TRUSTS.

We are told in a dispatch from Washington that certain manufacturers, through their representatives, are besieging Washington, particularly the President, to eliminate the tariff, as an issue, from the coming Presidential campaign.

How the tariff is to be taken out of politics is beyond our comprehension. Any revision of the tariff must be done by Congress. If we can get a non-political Congress, then we can get a non-political revision of the tariff. Furthermore, just so long as the Democratic party is to be led by Mr. Bryan, who is the most outspoken advocate of radical free trade this country has had in politics since the days of John C. Calhoun, how is the tariff subject to be taken out of the campaign and kept out of it?

The New York World is by all odds the ablest exponent of Democratic doctrine in the United States. A very recent issue of that paper, which by the way is opposed to Mr. Bryan on general principles, has this to say upon the subject of the tariff: "It must be apparent that our tariff, while mainly responsible for the existence of the trusts, is in addition a tax upon the masses for the benefit of the few."

In Mr. Bryan and this quotation from the New York World we have the attitude of both wings of the Democratic party in relation to the tariff.

The American Economist, a weekly published in New York devoted directly to the advocacy of the Republican doctrine of tariff protection, has taken cognizance of this movement and charges it with being inimical to the Republican party in its most fundamental principle, protective tariff. The Economist is the mouthpiece of the American Protective Tariff League. This league stands for stalwart Republicanism in its most conservative attitude toward the tariff question. The paper proposes this plank in the Republican platform for 1908:

"Resolved, that the policy of protection to American labor and industry, for nearly half a century a cardinal principle of the Republican party, has been productive of a degree of prosperity that is the envy of the nations of the world.

"Resolved, that we are opposed to any disturbance of the present tariff law until conditions have so changed that the public interest demands a change in rates of duty, and until it can be shown that less injury will result than good be accomplished by such action."

The American Protective Tariff League is allied with 5581 newspapers in the United States whose purpose with regard to protective tariff is the same as that of the American Economist. At a recent annual meeting of the American Protective League there were present the leading manufacturers and business men from every State in the Union. The organization was in receipt of telegrams and letters from dozens of Republican Senators representing nearly all the Republican States, and from multitudes of members of the House of Representatives of the same party, who all gave expression of their unqualified adherence to the principles enunciated by the league.

We have the two great parties of the United States and their views upon this fundamental principle outlined in the quotations made above, as supported on the one side by the leading Democratic candidate for the Presidency and by the leading Democratic newspaper of the United States, not a supporter of this candidate for the Presidency, and on the other by the leading tariff organization of the country, by all Republicans and by the great majority of Republican Senators and members of the House of Representatives. Back of this lies nearly 6000 Republican newspapers all pledged to the support of the same principles.

As to any change in the present tariff, known as the Dingley Act, it appears as if the leaders of Republican thought, whether statesmen or newspaper editors, are unable to see any pressing necessity for such action. These Republicans are not obtuse nor obdurate. They realize that the tariff act is merely an expedient and its maintenance in any particular form must always rest upon the question whether it is best or not for the general business interests of the country.

As to disturbance in a harmful way to business interests by "tariff tinkering," there can be no question. That is the strong argument of protectionists against change in tariff schedules. Every attempt to revise the schedules must open up the whole question of tariff protection or free trade. This must always precipitate a more or less protracted debate in Congress, the only body which can handle the subject at all. As long as that debate shall last, business must be disturbed.

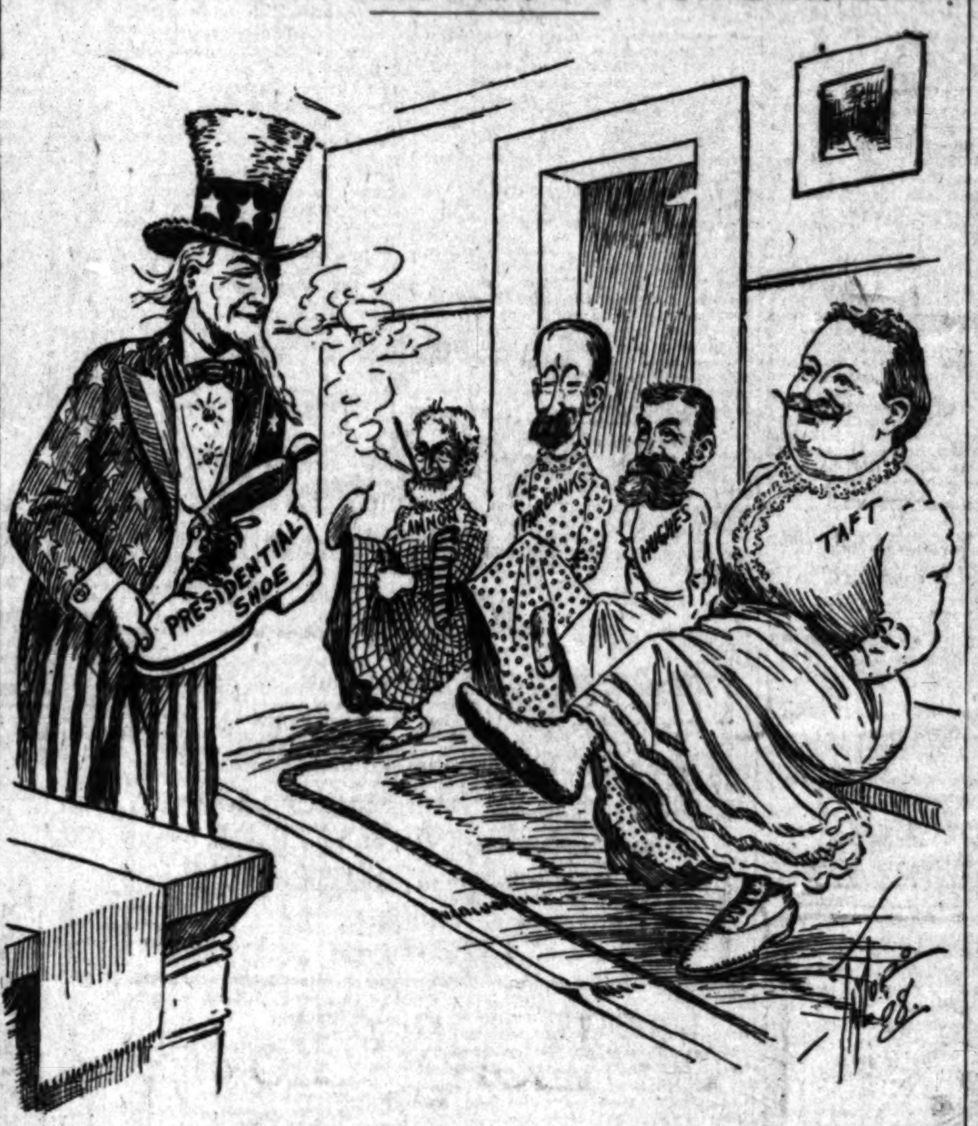
This does not mean that tariff revision during the sitting of the next Congress cannot be desirable. If a Republican Congress is elected in the fall, and there is any very strong desire for tariff revision, the people of the country will show that by sending to Congress Republicans who will favor such revision. If this should take place, a commission will be appointed, not of experts, but members of the two houses of Congress. These commissioners will take the subject up and all manufacturers and business men of the country of prominence will be given an opportunity to lay their views, facts and arguments before these committees.

We have before us a circular letter, issued in the city on February 3 by the Citrus Protective League of California, whose headquarters are in Los Angeles. This circular letter addressed to the members of the league shows for a period of five years the cost of the different kinds of fruits imported into the United States. The gross sums range from a little less than $19,000,000 to a little more than $26,000,000. These imports are almost equally divided between duty free fruits and fruits on which duties are levied. It is interesting to note that the importations of bananas, which are free of duty, in the year 1907 amounted to $11,833,168, out of a total cost of imported fruit free of duty for that year of $12,130,183. During the past five years the imports of bananas into the United States have been worth close to $50,000,000, or an average of nearly $10,000,000 a year. The total cost of all duty-free fruits was but barely over $50,000,000, and of those on which duty was paid but little less than $55,000,000. During these years all fruits imported into the United States cost us a sum of a little more than $105,000,000.

Now the point we wish to make is that in this list of fruits the only trust operating is the banana trust. Bananas are admitted duty free. They compete almost directly with the fruits produced in the country, from oranges in California to apples in Missouri, and grapes in Ohio and New York. Bananas cost the American people more today than they did years ago, because although admitted free the trade is in the hands of a trust that puts such prices as it may please upon these imports and forces the American people to pay them.

This is brought forward as a conspicuous refutation of the shallow fallacy that protective tariffs necessarily foster trusts or that the absence of tariffs makes trusts impossible.

CINDERELLA'S SLIPPER--FIND CINDERELLA.



THE COMING AMERICAN.

The sporting page informs us that walking for pleasure and exercise is getting to be more than the fashion; it is becoming "the rage all over the country."

Good! Men, women and children are everywhere emulating the feat of Septuagenarian Weston. They are emulating the pedestrian's feet, too. Without his feet or something like them the feat is impossible. So there is no more crowding No. 6 feet into No. 3 shoes. Tissue-paper soles are out of fashion, and with good, honest footgear, thick, broad soles, low, broad heels, madame, also madamoiselle and little miss, yes and paterfamilias and his heir, are all "doing time," on streets and country roads, by highways and along fragrant hedges where the primrose blooms and the poppy lifts up its golden cup to catch the sunbeam, where the lark trills his lay and the mocking bird fills all the world with song.

Good! and even better. Let the work go on and the fashion spread. Pink and white complexions, much white, little pink, are no longer to be acquired by the city or village belle. Chinese feet and waspish waists are not the thing. A good understanding is confessed by the prettiest girl, and she likes a waist worth squeezing. Freckles are the beauty spots, replacing the dimple in the cheek. See the swinging gait at which she forges ahead, her body free in its movements, her limbs unfettered by tight shoes or garters that make a compress past which the blood cannot make its way! How glorious the glow of health on her cheek! What superb chest development she has!

Good! Better and superlatively best! Now let Japan come on with all her hosts in serried ranks. These pedestrian maids and matrons, the mothers of the coming Americans, will give us a race of men which will put the world in the back ranks in all things. The limbs and waists and chest measurements are not all. These sunny hours and cloudy hours spent in the open air will give our men not only vigor of brawn, but also of brain. This free movement of torso and of extremities with the tide of rich blood forced into every fiber of the system will promote clear thinking as well as swift walking. And as we sniff the fragrance of the morning air and inhale the odor of the violet and wild rose, as we hear the lark carol his joy and the mocking bird pipe his praise, as we gaze upon the poppy-spangled plain and lift our eyes to the snow-capped heights, the spirits will be refreshed and with a stronger, brighter manhood and womanhood, we shall have a sweeter and purer manhood and womanhood.

FORGETTING, BUT NOT FORGOTTEN.

John Burns, the labor agitator who agitated himself into a position in the British Cabinet, has just been amusing the Conservatives in the House of Commons by opposing an amendment to the address in reply to the King's speech which regretted that no legislation had been recommended dealing with the question of the unemployed. Mr. Burns is industriously trying to forget the days when any such motion would have received his hearty and vociferous support, but his political opponents have long memories, not only of the days of his Battersea abuse but of the speeches he delivered when on the "back benches"—speeches far different in tenor to his recent expression of opinion.

The fire still burns within Burns, but it is not so fierce as it was in the days of the great dock strike fifteen or sixteen years ago. At that time Burns was an agitator pure and simple—if any agitator can be called pure or any labor leader simple. His wildest visions never soared to Whitehall. He denounced governments with the usual vehemence of the irresponsible while he could find nothing too strong to say in disparagement of capital. His greatest ambition was to lead the hordes of labor in an onslaught on the "treasury bench." But when the apple of office was dangled before him a change came over the spirit of his dreams, and while he has succeeded in retaining the confidence of the average working man he has so modified his views that the John Burns of 1890 would fail to recognize the John Burns of 1908.

In opposing the amendment to the King's speech, referred to, Mr. Burns denounced what he called the unscientific distribution of religious, philanthropic and private charity, which he declared was usually misapplied and diverted to the wrong persons. In order to support his remarks he related an amusing and characteristically British experience. He said that once, after an official function, he joined 2000 of the unemployed on the Victoria Embankment, London. "I was in my court dress," he said, "but I pulled my bowler hat over my eyes and looked miserable, and I got my bowl of soup and hunch of bread."

While Mr. Burns, who has not suffered for want of a square meal these fifteen years, thus got food at the expense of some poor man, we do not see that his argument is so much against the system of charity as against his court "dress." When he attends an official function he wears what is called the "Windsor" uniform, which is a cross between the garb of a decayed curate and an over-ripe prize-fighter; in other words, it is drab with a dash of glory. If a change is needed it is not so much in the system of charity as in the court "dress," if the latter is indeed so hideous as to make its wearer appear to be a hobo. But some men can wear the "Windsor" and look like princes; possibly Burns's failure to seem distinguished in it is due to the fact that he is "not to the manner born."

WHAT IS THE PREDATORY CLASS?

It was an employé of William R. Hearst who invented the phrase "predatory rich" which has been so much overworked during the past fifteen years or more. More grammatical in structure and with a display of great talent this writer's "Weekly Letter," which appeared for a few months in San Francisco, was only less wild in sentiment than had been the mouthings of the late Dennis Kearney in his sand-lot harangues in 1879.

Despite the dubious origin of the phrase, it has been taken up as an "inspired message" and echoed and reëchoed by many since its first appearance. To those who examine questions it has been evident at all times that there were rich persons whose business was predatory. But the distinction was personal and did not include all the rich or any of them as a class. We know without the aid of any phrase, however catching, however popular, that there have been predatory bankers and corporation managers of different branches of industry. But we know all the rich are not predatory, all the bankers are not, all managers of railroads are not. You cannot justly classify any of these predatory rich. They refuse to be classified. They are individual in being rich and in being predatory in business. Few bankers are dishonest; so it is all through the list of all branches of industry.

Another fact obvious to all eyes not blinded by prejudice is that the laws of this land of ours in these times of ours have taken cognizance of the predatory habits of these few rich men and have effectively put a stop to their predaceous activities. The rich men who made the funds of life insurance companies the object of their predaceous methods are beyond the seas or in jail where they can do no harm. The predaceous managers of New York traction companies have been tipped up on their heads and their ill-gotten gains have been shaken out of their pockets. The predatory bankers of Chicago and San Francisco are either in prison or on their way thither. Predatory railroad combines engineered by rich men have been dissolved and others are under investigation and will be dissolved if they are proved to be predaceous. The wrongdoing has been individual and as individuals the law has dealt with the offenders and with their offenses, and it is inspiring and reassuring that in spite of the false cry, no amount of wealth can shield a man from punishment in this country. Where there is an occasional miscarriage of justice it is because of the sharp tactics of unscrupulous lawyers who are not always rich, but who are always predatory when they defeat the ends of justice by false means. Or such miscarriage comes from juries often composed of members of the most ragged regiments of the tatterdemalions who are predatory but not rich in some cases.

Who will be so unjust as to class all lawyers as predatory because one here and there is such? Who will condemn all jurors as bribe-takers because a few may be so? We say there is no one organized class of rich men who are predaceous, although individuals are rich and predatory. We say it is unjust to classify the rich as predatory, because one in a million may be so.

The interesting inquiry is this: Is there any organized class of persons in this country that should be classed as predatory? We say yes, obviously yes. Who are they? For the most part, the persons who shout loudest and oftenest the phrase "predatory rich." These belong to the very class, the only class in this country who are predatory as a class, all predatory, and these are the persons who generally have escaped the punishment due to lawbreakers if any such thing has happened in this country.

Here are bodies of men, nearly all combined in one central organization the purpose of which is distinctly predatory, the methods of grossly predatory, the results of which These persons as a class violate all stand in the way of their predaceous loudly clamor that the laws which they be applied in all other cases shall be their case.

These bodies in their associate capacity one voice howl for the punishment of which pursue any line of policy that men of their personal rights. They courts to secure a conviction in such newspaper organs appeal to prejudice, lar sentiment, resort to threats and about the conviction of those outside ganization.

But when their case is touched, they should not be permitted to issue an restrain them from arson, violence When they form a conspiracy to prevent any commodity or article not to their seek to destroy the business of any cern which will not obey their every grant their every demand, they clamor courts must let them alone. If the court decree they shout out their defiance and obey. When one of their members is they make violent threats and issue proclamations that he must be set at liberty.

The members of these bodies make the amount of work they are to do, minimum of work they demand the pay. Is not that a predatory class? these actions predaceous? But the all these organizations is that the shall be given all the work there is to do, to be done in the most slipshod slowest pace, for the highest wage, and sons who are not of them shall be refused prived of the means of livelihood and doors to starve by the roadside.

These we maintain, these members unions, are the conspicuous persons in who can be classified as predatory. predaceous and all their methods are other cases predaceousness is individual radic. In their case it is class evil.

WITH VALIANT HEART.

Strong is the day, in vigor beautiful,
After the wind of tempest, the long rain,
The travail-time of dark, chaotic storm.

The skies are azure crystal! Vibrant air
Thrills to the morning sunlight! Every Stands forth in splendid power; the ivy
With crisping points of green seeks
Full-diamonded, the last bright water
Flash from the hearts of flowers and

The lovely work of bringing forth its own
Secret ideal of essential good—
Bestowing by that simple fealty
A fair exemplar, an inspiring grace,
On him who in the stress of seeming ends
Forgot awhile to live his soul's desire.

How About Your Supplies of Sheets?

Maybe in a month from now hotel men and belated housewives will be clamoring for these same Pequot sheets, in the very sizes that we're advertising today, and we'll have to charge full price for them. Buying now means a material saving of both time and money.

N. B.—Yesterday's papers announced that Wednesday would be the last day of this sale, and had it not been for the rain of Monday, we should have ended the sale on Wednesday night, but continued demand has led us to reconsider this decision.

This is house cleaning time with us; the time when we want stocks in just as nearly perfect condition as it is possible to get them.

So, because there are either too many or too few of the following high grade handkerchiefs for good stock-keeping, we have taken a third off the price of each one, for limited time—Armenian and French hand-embroidered handkerchiefs; souvenir embroidered poppy and poinsettia designs; and two lines of 75c initialed handkerchiefs—one a French hand-sewn hand-embroidered style, the other an Armenian edge, with embroidered initial.

EVENTS IN LOCAL SOCIETY.

An interesting announcement is that of the engagement of Miss May Macomber, a cousin of John Kingsley Macomber, Jr., of this city, to Harry Drake of Detroit, Mich. The wedding will take place in June. Miss Macomber is a very charming young woman with sparkling black eyes. She has for many years made her home with her aunt, Mrs. C. C. Reynolds of No. 407 Court street. Mr. Drake, who is connected with the civil service, is to make this city his home.

Bridge Party.

Miss Margaret Woollacott of No. 1115 South Alvarado street, assisted by her mother, Mrs. H. J. Woollacott, will entertain this afternoon with a bridge party in compliment to Miss Amy Leonardt, whose wedding to Frank Powell will be solemnized in April. Scarlet carnations will be used in profusion in the dining-room and the living and the drawing-rooms will also be fragrant with these blossoms. Mrs. J. M. Jones, the harpist, will furnish the music. Those invited are Mrs. Carl Leonardt, Mrs. Edward L. Doheny, Mrs. Carl Kurtz, Mrs. Raymond Bradford, Mrs. George Fusenot, Mrs. R. B. Hubbard, Mrs. Emil Ducommun, Mrs. Charles P. Howland, Mrs. Walter Stone, Mrs. Walter Story, Mrs. James Moore, Miss Florence Pollard, Miss Estelle Rockwood, Miss Bertha Ducommun, Miss Marie Bowden, Miss Pearl Volmer, Miss Amy Hellman, Miss Doris Davidson, Miss Angel Miles, Miss Ethelyn Walker, Miss Viola Curtis, Miss Marie Ellis, Miss Winifred Llewellyn, Miss Mary McGarry, Miss Rosalie Seligman, Miss Edna Bradford, Miss Hattie Bradford, Miss Geneveive Downing, Miss Mamie Maier, Miss Hildreth Maier, Miss Constance Britt, Miss Ella Gardner, Miss Lillian Moore, Miss Helen Macleish, Miss Evelyn Barmore, Miss Helen Safford and Miss Ida Hasson.

Birthday Dinner Party.

Mrs. Charles Hubbard of No. 1212 Orange street entertained recently with a Valentine dinner party in honor of Mr. Hubbard's birthday anniversary. The table was decorated in red and the place cards were heart-shaped Valentines. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Davies Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Wren, Mr. and Mrs. William T. Davies and Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Becker.

Fashionable Dance.

Amid a profusion of pink blossoms and greenery, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Cline of Hotel Lankershim entertained a large number of guests in the banquet-room of the hotel, last evening, complimentary to Miss Nan Marsh and Bernal Dyas, whose engagement was announced several weeks ago. The hostess, attired in apricot radium silk, elaborately trimmed, was assisted in receiving by Miss Marie Gavagan, Miss Edna Wiley and Miss Cynthia Fay. Miss Marsh wore an imported pale blue gown. A special feature of the evening was the favor dance. Just before the music commenced six pretty buds danced into the ballroom drawing a miniature automobile filled with dainty canes tied with butterfly bows of pink tarlton, attached to which was a cluster of large pink chrysanthemums. These were given to Miss Marsh, who presented one to each feminine guest. In this dance the young ladies chose their partners and as the music began, presented them with the favor. The decorations were entirely in pink and green. Large pink chrysanthemums in fancy baskets were hung from every nook and corner and the pillar in the middle of the room was decorated to represent a growing shrub, hundreds of these blossoms hanging to the branches. Dainty white programmes, with the initials M. and D. fastened together with a lover's knot, were also among the surprises of the evening.

Returned Recently.

Mrs. A. Arons, after a two months' visit with her daughter, Mrs. A. Levy of Tucson, Ariz., has returned to her home, No. 1310 South Figueroa street, and will be at home the first and last Wednesdays of the month.

Afternoon Wedding.

On account of a recent bereavement in the groom's family, the wedding, yesterday afternoon, of Miss Margery Clover and Harry W. Gorham, which was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel T. Clover of Alhambra, was marked by extreme simplicity. Rev. Burt Estes Howard officiated. After February 10 the young people will receive their friends at Santa Monica.

Mrs. Mary H. Jackson of Kansas City, Mo., who has been visiting her friend, Mrs. J. C. McQuiston of No. 328 West Forty-third street, was married today to ex-Judge James S. Gibson of Kansas City.

CHAMBER'S AID ASKED.

Imperial Settlers Fear Titles Are in Jeopardy—New Members—Tonopah Complaint.

In fear that their interests are jeopardized by recent ruling of the General Land Office in regard to assignments and final proofs, a number of residents of the Imperial Valley forwarded a communication to the local Chamber of Commerce, yesterday, asking its assistance in securing their protection. President Stephens and Secretary Wiggins believe that the apprehension of the settlers is causeless.

It is expected that the Commissioner of the General Land Office will issue a comprehensive statement of the status of the Imperialists as regards their titles.

A letter was read from W. P. O'Meara of Tonopah, asking the chamber to use its influence in having the express rates between Los Angeles and that town reduced.

The date of the annual meeting has been changed to the Wednesday preceding February 22.

Harley Hamilton, Earl R. Osburn, George H. Curry, David E. Spangler, George F. Tilton, Gabor Hegyi, Henry H. Lyon and the James W. Long Company were admitted to membership.

LETS TAYLOR PAY.

Labor Union Permits Closed-Shop Tailor to Settle Bill for Vest.

With the grudging permission of unionite leaders, George P. Taylor, tailor, has settled the suit brought against him by a former employé for wages due. He also paid the court costs, one of the prices of his servility to the pinhead tribe.

C. L. Leonarth, a non-union vestmaker, was summarily discharged by Taylor on the order of walking delegates. Taylor owed him $3 and was willing to pay, but the union dictators forbade it. Suit was brought in Justice Summerfield's court, Attorney Earl Rogers being engaged to represent the plaintiff, and the trial promised to expose the boycotting and blackmailing tactics of the union band. Alarmed at the prospect the boss of the union told Taylor he might pay the bill, also the costs—several dollars more.

When Taylor deserted his business associates who have fought and won the battle for the open shop, he offered the explanation that he could not get his work done unless he employed union journeymen. This, in face of the fact that other merchant tailors secured plenty of expert workmen from the East and filled and are filling orders with promptness.

His first experience after capitulating to the unionites was in being ordered to discharge Leonarth, a non-union man. Taylor owed the man $3 for making a vest. He found he could not pay the bill without the approval of the union dictators. They would not approve. Taylor admitted he owed the money, but he dared not pay it. Now he has been obliged to pay three times the original amount.

MID-YEAR SEMESTER OPENS.

The mid-year semester of the University of Southern California will open today with prospects for a considerable increase in enrollment. Final examinations of the last semester were concluded yesterday afternoon, and today and tomorrow will be devoted to registering new students. Courses covering the various studies of the freshman year will be repeated this term, thus enabling winter graduates of the high schools to immediately begin their college work. Prof. John B. Johnson, head of the department of civil engineering, has received an assignment of surveying instruments.

USE THIS MEDICINE WHEN YOU ARE BILIOUS

You can mix it at home yourself. It's worth clipping and saving.

One thing about California climate —it causes liver troubles. Any mild, even climate does. It seems that the liver just gets sluggish and inactive, and doesn't secrete enough bile, etc., to properly digest the food. So the stomach is overworked, and the result is indigestion—bloating, headaches, dizziness, skin-eruptions, etc. And even the lungs, the heart and kidneys are often affected. But liver trouble shows itself in so many ways that we are very apt to excuse the liver and blame the stomach or some other organ.

As a noted German physician puts it, "keep your liver right—and your liver will keep you right." He gives this prescription for publication. He says it will cure any ordinary case of liver trouble and will counteract all the bad effects of the climate. Everything in it is purely vegetable—it can't hurt anyone. Just go to your druggist and get 1 ounce Heptonic Compound, 1½ ounces Simple Elixir and 1½ ounces Elixir Calisaya Bark. Mix them well and take one teaspoonful in water four times a day. Smaller doses should be given to children.

Office Routine Must Be Simplified

First of Series of Announcements by the "Y and E" People, describing the Mechanical Aids to Office System which Typify the "Y and E" Idea.

GEORGE WESTINGHOUSE, the famous inventor of the air brake—so the story goes—gained the wonderful idea of applying compressed air for the stopping of trains from a magazine article about Alpine tunnel drilling with compressed air.

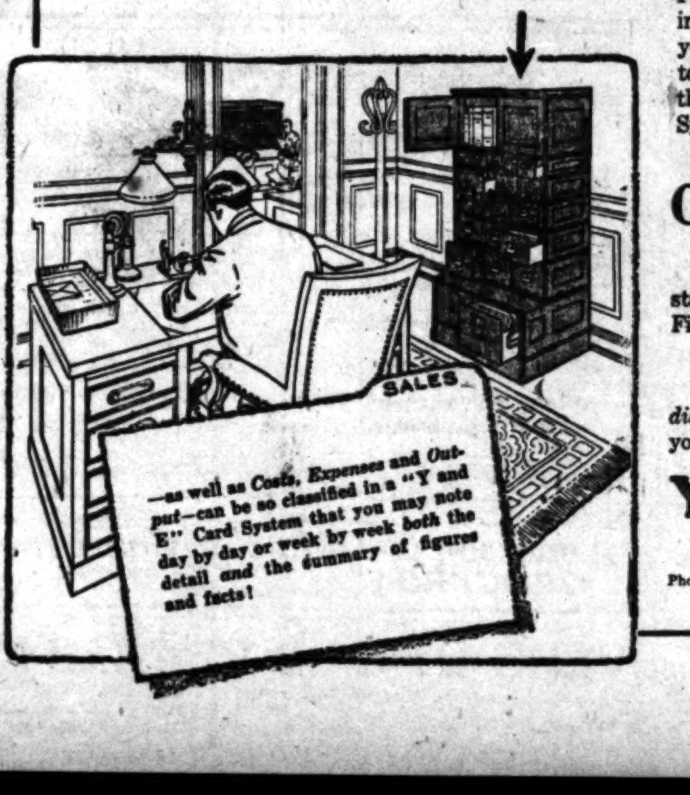
His subscription for the magazine was purely incidental—the result of solicitation by a little girl one summer day. The magnitude of the result all the world knows.

Now for the parallel:

Each Monday, Wednesday and Friday you will see here in the TIMES an announcement of some kind about our "Y and E" Office Filing Systems and Cabinets.

If—in this space—you discover one single valuable idea about Office Filing Methods; if—through illustration or description here—you find one single piece of "Y and E" Filing Equipment that will reduce effort and expense in your office, you will indeed have been well repaid for the minutes spent in reading what we have to say.

When you need space for more records add more "Y and E" Sectional Filing Cabinets. Sixty-three distinct Sectional Cabinets from which to select.



SALES
—as well as Costs, Expenses and Output—can be so classified in a "Y and E" Card System that you may note day by day or week by week both the detail and the summary of figures and facts!

"Y and E" Vertica

Little stacks of "Y and E" Sectional Filing Cabinets—placed close to the worker's desk—save no end of steps and time. This stack consists of a Log Base, a 2-dr. Vertical Letter File Section, a 3-dr. Card Index Section, and a Sectional Top.

ONE thing you must realize;—That the considerable sum of money we are going to spend in this way would not be paid the TIMES unless we were sure "Y and E" Filing Systems will appeal to your best judgment in their Time-and-Money-Saving economies. Nor do we maintain the largest and most complete Filing and Equipment Stores—here and in all other leading cities—simply to reduce our bank balance. If you have a pride in your own business you will concede to us some satisfaction in the fact that we are to-day the makers of the largest and most varied line of Filing Systems and Cabinets on the market!

ONE word more:—We have complete, interesting and well-printed Catalogs describing "Y and E" Methods and Cabinets in detail.

We have also Competent Representatives who understand how papers and records should be Indexed and Filed, to meet exact needs.

Both Catalogs and Representatives are at your disposal; a request for either or both will not obligate you. Nor will you be importuned to buy.

John bore no malice; was now reconciled to the new order things. The plain fact was that if ard Crunden, mysteriously and tionally working as an instru- of beneficent fate, had earned thanks from any one, it was Sir John Vincent. Not quite at but gradually, Sir John must realised that he was a happier, more eupeptic baronet in his bandbox of a villa, he had been in the spacious halls Hill House.

"Saddle o' lamb for Chiselhurst. Come, come, don't go to sleep with that little saddle what I trimmed for Sir John." Or, "Where's those two Chiselhurst soles—for Sir John and her ladyship? Bustle, my lad, bustle." Nevertheless, though he appreciated this faithful homage, Sir John twirled his stick higher, cocked his hat more jauntily, said "How do, Brown" with a livelier air, when he knew that all old debts had been extinguished.

There was Lady Vincent's income to go on with—£700 per annum,—in itself enough for up-keep of Chiselhurst; there was money coming from London—and very soon now it came. There was enough money for everybody—quite enough to supply Jack, if one could have prevailed on him to take his share. In the second year Sir John built out a conservatory for my lady, filled it with the flowers she loved, bought a sundial, dug ground, and constructed a square basin for water-lilies with a tiny fountain jet to play on the lilies; and, walking backward from the house to obtain a comprehensive view of the conservatory and sundial, fell into the basin—but did not injure himself.

Nothing could injure him now—he felt so light in body, so free in mind. During the third year he was able to allow good Lady Vincent petty cash almost on the old scale for her charitable needs—and humble friends came for doles to Chiselhurst with nearly as much confidence as they had felt when plodding up the hill and through the white gates. More and more snug little sums were coming from London—enough for immediate use; enough to put by for the future. But was it worth while bothering one's self about the future? The future could take care of itself. Out of the cloudy future there must come, sooner or later, a golden sunburst. Sir John, with less and less reticence, talked now of those settled funds from which he was shut out only by a creaking door. Cousin Harriet could not hang on forever. Nature has her inexorable laws, which no poor old dear can brush aside. Some day Miss Vincent must go—and she could not take the money with her.

Thus, when Jack on these cold winter evenings changed his working clothes to the orthodox swallow-tails, and dropped in for dinner at Chiselhurst, it was to meet a reconciled happy papa, as well as a proudly smiling mamma. Every one was glad to see him; no one reproached him. Time had won him full pardon for all his absurdities. Indeed, Sir John, with so many little things to occupy his thoughts, had ceased to think either very frequently or very seriously of his vagrant son. He and Jack were the best of pals, but each had gone his own way. And why not? "Live and let live" was now Sir John's motto—except, of course, as applied to the sad case of people who have long lost all the pleasure of life, and yet will go on living.

"Jack, my dear fellow—you're the very fellow I wanted to see. Your mother will be down directly. Look here— at those engravings—Morlands. Picked 'em up at Crossby's in Water Lane. Deuced good, ain't they? Now, where are we to hang them? Short wants 'em in the library. I say in here—if we can make room for them. Short, try this against the wall. Hold it up before that sea-piece, Short."

"Yes, Sir John."

Short—a docile and admiring parlormaid under him—served the dinner with a pomp that was now tempered by snugness and prettiness. There was the fine cut glass, the grand china with the arms of the family in their true heraldic colors, the massive silver almost bearing down with its hundreds of ounces the new spindle-legged Sheraton sideboard—all this was of the old style; but the maid had fantastic little tricks of decorating the table with streamers of maidenhair fern, and was apt to tie up the French bread in green ribbons; there were fluffy feathery shades upon the candles; the firelight sparkled on quaint brass dogs, flashed in little blue tiles beneath the white mantel-shelf—and all this was of the new style.

AS SEEN BY A PASADENAN.

BY STANLEY DU BOIS.

It was a jolly bunch of us that went ashore at Lisbon, Portugal, from the Alliance one morning. Among us was Midshipman Ten Eyck DeWitt Veeder. It is a far cry from the steerage of the Alliance to the command of a splendid battleship like the Alabama, but he is now with the Fleet and is coming to the Coast her commanding officer.

We had been a month at sea and were wild to get full of shore chuck and to take in the sights. Several hired horses for a ride, as a sailor is more than likely to, although a sailor on a horse's back is about as incongruous a combination as can be imagined; but the gods who watch over crazy people and their ilk, saved our necks and bones and we got back sound and whole.

After a hilarious dinner we all trailed off to an old church, the Church of St. Roque, with its wonderful windows, statuary, pitcures and tapestry, odorous with incense, and gorgeous in every way. Out of this, and we were off for something more to our fancy, a bull fight.

The bull fighting in Portugal is not quite the national sport that it is in Spain, but it affords quite a fair degree of thrill—read on.

The ring was a permanent structure, circular in form, and would seat probably ten thousand people. We secured our places on the shady side, and then wandered around to see the bulls. We looked at them from above. They were in dark pens, and attendants now and then prodded them with rather blunt spears, enough to make them furious.

Presently a bugle sounded and every one hastened to his seat. Then another fanfare, some great gates flew open, and a company of men entered afoot and on horseback. There were fifteen or twenty of them, five or six of whom rode. They were all dressed in brilliant orange or red, and the horses, which were splendid animals, were blindfolded as to one eye, the other being free. After making a brave show around the ring, which was something like one hundred feet in diameter, another pair of gates flew open, and one of the bulls bounded into the ring. He would weigh about nine hundred pounds, not very heavy but as active as a tiger, and as furious. His horns were covered with thick, heavy leather, like a glove, so that he could push and toss, but could not gore.

For about ten minutes he made merry with the horses and men, then one of the horses lunged out at him, and gave him a kick that would have jolted a locomotive. The look of surprise and wrath that wreathed that bull's countenance was positively unmistakable, and he went for that horse with a speed that would have done credit to a stroke of lightening. Finally he caught him under the fore leg and tossed him as you would toss a feather pillow; horse, man and all went down in a heap. Others in the ring tried to divert him from the horse and rider, but to no purpose.

Then from high up on the sunny side of the amphitheater, among a group of jackies was to be seen an unusually large sailor coming down, piling over seats and people, utterly regardless of rules. Over the barriers and into the ring he went, and grabbing the bull by the horns, kicked him in the nose till it bled, throwing him time after time and nearly twisting his head off.

In a few minutes he had him entirely subdued, and the attendants, driving a dozen or so oxen into the ring, he was taken out. The horse was assisted to his feet, and then began a performance not down on the programme of the day. Men stood on the seats and threw cigars, hats and money to the Jackie in the ring, shouting their approbation. Ladies stripped off their gloves, and threw them and their fans at the sailor, and the King, Don Carlos, recently so foully assassinated, called and ordered him to be brought and presented to Royalty.

He was seated near the box of the King, and the money, hats, gloves and fans were brought to him, half a wagon load, as tributes to his audacity and courage. Later these were redeemed by their owners, and he was given money value for them, except the cigars, which were smoked by him and his mates.

It was an incident and an ovation which will always remain a vivid memory to those who were there that day.

The King was a manly looking young gentleman, and seemed to be well thought of by his people. His box was no better than the others in his immediate vicinity, and he entered into the sport with thorough enjoyment. There were several other fights after this, all of which were fair alike to men and animals. Neither horses nor bulls were injured, but it was a mighty realistic performance.

When I read of the dastardly assassination of Don Carlos, I immediately recalled that day in Lisbon, and I seemed to see him as he sat in his box, the great crowd of people in front of him, and at either side—no one sat behind him. Young, handsome and boyish—the world is done with for him, poor fellow; the "divinity that doth hedge about a King," did not save him.

FURIOUS WAR OF UNIONITES.

IMPORTED TALENT SIDE-TRACKS THE LOCAL BOSSES.

Hay and Fennessy Shorn of Power in Conspiracy to Rob Los Angeles of Its Industrial Freedom, Outsiders Holding Money Bags and Hatching up Plans of Action.

Dissension among labor union officials, who are back of the gigantic conspiracy to throttle the industrial life of Los Angeles, threatens to disrupt their organization. Local bosses like Arthur Hay, "Red" Fennessy and others are showing symptoms of green-eyed jealousy. They are shorn of power. Eastern agitators are dictating policies and making all the plans.

What hurts the local blowhards most is the fact that imported walking delegates hold the sack. Although vast sums of money have been promised the unionites of this city, little has so far found its way into the treasuries. Terry and other eastern agitators have been guests at expensive hotels and their campaign expenses have already run into large figures.

The local officers, whose chief concern is for the money, are wroth. Wrangles and acrimonious debates are of nightly occurrence at union headquarters. Before the boasted series of strikes begin it is predicted by the business men that the unionites will be in the thick of internecine warfare.

But the commercial organizations will not relax their vigilance until the strength of the labor unions is broken once for all and Los Angeles becomes invincably entrenched as a city of the "open shop."

The Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association is not idle. Secretary Zeehandelaar is actively promoting various plans for the betterment of the local industries, and the members of the association are thoroughly prepared for the defense of the industrial peace of the city.

It is known that the imported walking delegates are busily trying to secure recruits among the retail clerks, butchers, teamsters, barbers and other trades. Independent workmen are told that strikes are impending and are threatened with personal violence if they do not join the ranks of the unionites. The agitators promise that they will take care of all union members, irrespective of the length of the strikes, which are supposed to be due about May Day. In a recent issue of the local labor union organ, the prediction is made that every business house in Los Angeles "will be unionized from garret to cellar before fall."

Such boasts do not dampen the ardor of the business men nor cause them to fear the attack. Although business conditions are improving all the time, there is a plethora of unemployed and if strikes actually are called, there will be plenty of men to fill the places of the strikers.

INVENTS NEW SCALE.

High estimates of value are placed on an improved scale invented by Erwin M. Wade, of this city, who asserts that his recently patented device is capable of finer graduations and therefore can be read more accurately than a scale with the ordinary horizontal bar and rider weight attached thereto. The pointers which take the place of the rider weight are moved easily and with accuracy and remain in the position placed, while by turning the scales bodily, the reading point always may be kept in front of the operator.

The Simmen Automatic Railway Signal

REVOLUTIONIZES THE METHODS OF RAILWAY OPERATION

38 Miles of it Now Being Installed in Southern California

The Simmen Automatic Railway Signal controls and safeguards the movement of trains in a manner never before attained by any block or train order system. By its use an army of operators are superseded on the railroads of the country by a system so perfect that accidents from the ordinary causes cannot occur. The dispatcher is enabled by means of a simple record sheet to scan his division from end to end, taking note of the time, speed, distance and location of every train on the line, every minute of the day and night. By a simple mechanical and electrical device every movement of the various trains is recorded instantly and consecutively on the record sheet, providing a birdseye view of the entire division. The infallible current of electricity permits of no mistakes. There is no error of judgment. Wrecks and loss of life from collision, obstacles on the track, wild cars or trains running without orders are absolutely impossible. By the Simmen system the dispatcher at his desk can flash a red light into the face of the engineer a hundred miles away, or, should instant action be necessary, can apply the air and stop the train in the very face of danger.

IT MARKS THE GREATEST FORWARD STRIDE IN RAILROADING SINCE THE INTRODUCTION OF THE WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE, CONTROLLING A FIELD IN WHICH FIFTY MILLION DOLLARS ARE ANNUALLY SPENT

Mechanical and electrical engineers, teachers of science, heads of colleges of acknowledged standing, expert railroad builders and heads of large railway corporations who have investigated the Simmen system and examined the working model now on exhibition at the offices of the company, 933-934 Security Building, Los Angeles, pronounce it the most feasible, the most practical and the most successful railroad invention since the advent of the air-brake. It belongs in the same class of extraordinary merit, ranking in universal importance with the air-brake, the telephone, the wireless, the harvester, the linotype, and other great discoveries that had the whole world for their market place and made their owners wealthy.

History Will Repeat Itself in This Great Invention

The forthcoming demonstration is attracting general attention throughout the United States. Thirty-eight miles of it is now being installed on one of the great trans-continental railways in Southern California. The Interstate Commerce Commission, which is now urging Congress to set a limit of time for the adoption of the best safety system by the railroads of the country, will attend this demonstration here in a body.

This demonstration is conceded by all who have investigated the Simmen system to be the forerunner of a volume of pressing orders which the present facilities of the company cannot possibly fill. For this reason a block of 20,000 shares have been offered to the general public at the low price of FIVE DOLLARS A SHARE. The sales have been most gratifying. Men and women of practical experience and knowledge have called, seen the model, learned the plans of the company and purchased liberally of its stock.

The Company Has Ample Means For All Its Present Needs But Offers a Small Block of Treasury Stock For Necessary Shop Expenses

This stock presents an opportunity far outside of the ordinary investment. It is the kind that never appeals in vain. The sales so far are large, and several offers are now pending for the purchase of the entire remainder of the 20,000 shares, to be placed in escrow for one year, thus removing this opportunity forever from the market. The value of the stock must be judged by comparison with others of its class, which, starting often at par, mounted steadily to hundreds and more per share. In the best judgment of the company, no further shares of the stock will be offered again at any price, as the equipment contemplated with the funds now raised will be ample to place the business on a most profitable basis. The closest examination is invited. Call and see the working model and secure the book, "THE STORY OF A GREAT INVENTION."

BOGGY ROAD AND SIZZLING AIR.

MIRED ONES COMPLAIN OF INTER-CITY HIGHWAY.

Pasadena Investment of Thirty Thousand Dollars Put to the Bad by Stretch of Thoroughfare in an Abominable Condition — Interstate Golf Match.

Office of The Times, No. 26 S. Raymond Ave.

PASADENA, Feb. 6.—Trouble is brewing for the City Council of Los Angeles because of the muddy bog that stretches for three hundred yards just south of the Pasadena city limits at Rose Hill. Automobile owners, chauffeurs, and pedestrians from this city are complaining loudly that the condition of this stretch of road is simply abominable. It is no unusual sight that three or four autos, a couple of drays and light express wagons plying between this city and the metropolis are mired down and industriously laboring to raise the almost buried vehicles from the bog. Yesterday at noon four autos and two big express wagons were mired axle deep in this bed of mud, which stretches for about three hundred yards and makes travel wearisome and almost an impossibility. This little stretch of three hundred yards of road puts an investment of $30,000 on the part of Pasadenans all to the bad. It makes trouble, contention and ill-feeling. It is reported that the city authorities are hauling and spreading sand from the river bed on this bog and the auto and truck owners say that this only makes the trouble worse, as this process deceives the drivers by disguising the chuckholes and makes passage impossible. A petition is being prepared to have this bad piece of road remade.

GOLF AT RAYMOND.

An interstate match at gold will be played at the Raymond links this afternoon. The players will take in the country from New York State to the Pacific Coast and will be divided into teams of eight each. Those who have entered their names up to date are G. H. Haskell, Lincoln, Neb.; C. M. Russell, Massillon, O.; J. G. Eddy, Bay City, Mich.; Rothwell King, Chicago; H. B. Wrenn, Chicago; W. H. Ferguson, Lincoln, Neb.; H. K. Koerner, Buffalo, N. Y.; W. H. Sard, Chicago, and A. J. C. Galletha, Victoria, B. C. The two teams will be organized on the links today and the round will be made of the complete course where John D. Rockefeller once interested his digestion in these mundane affairs. Last night the guests of the Raymond engaged in a hop.

SECURES GLASS FACTORY.

Through the efforts of Secretary A. J. Bertonneau of the Board of Trade, John J. Somman of Newark, N. J., where they make anything from a ship anchor to a needle, will locate in Pasadena. This is the first real manufacturing establishment located in this city of homes. It will be devoted to cutting glass artistically. Mr. Somman has taken the McAdam building on South Chester street, in East Pasadena, and will bring here twenty-five artists skilled in his peculiar method of cutting glass.

OLD RESIDENT DIES.

Mrs. I. Mortimer Hill died at her home, No. 319 Madeline Drive. She came to Pasadena thirty-five years ago. Her husband built what is said to have been the first frame house erected in Los Angeles county. They put this structure on a plat of thirty-seven acres, which now comprises the fashionable part of Orange Grove avenue.

MECHANICS FOUND LODGE.

Deputy National Councillor L. L. Hill instituted a lodge of the Junior Order of United American Mechanics in this city. The officers elected are J. H. Scranton, Councillor; H. Burbey, Vice-Councillor; A. B. Stevens, Recording Secretary; M. J. Seidel, Assistant Secretary; Frank W. Preston, Financial Secretary; J. D. Oakley, Warden; C. A. Mills, Conductor; M. Balch, Inside Sentinel; J. R. Mills, Outside Sentinel; G. C. Clapp, Junior Past Councillor; H. F. Ives, Chaplain; D. Ford and Dr. Z. T. Mallaby, Representatives to the State Council; R. de Wolf and H. Burney, Alternates; John Adams, Captain of the degree team; G. Scranton, W. S. Lacey and D. C. Stanz, Trustees.

MARYLAND MINSTRELS.

Last night the Maryland minstrels held their dress rehearsal in the big music room. The Ambolina Snows have costumes of red that would put a Georgia coon to shame, and the men are there with the goods, especially George A. Clarke, who has a modesty in showing his costume that would put Daphne to shame.

At the same hotel N. P. Bowler will celebrate his eighty-eighth birthday today with a noontide dinner to twenty-four people. Mr. Bowler was a market reporter in the Cleveland Plain Dealer in 1843 to 1856, and was an associate of Nasby, Artemus Ward and others of that ilk. He is a nice florid old man, who began smoking at the age of 80 years, because he thought it would do his constitution some good. He says that his good health and rubicund complexion are directly due to good habits and using all things in moderation.

E. G. Acheson, the discoverer of deflocculated graphite, will give a free lecture at the Union garage to chauffeurs and auto owners on Friday evening. Mr. Acheson is the discoverer of carborundum, an abrasive material, which has put German emery out of business, and now is studying lubricants.

FOR CHICAGO VISITOR.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. John Grosse, Ford Place, was the scene yesterday of one of the most charmingly appointed afternoon teas of the winter. It was given by Miss Irene Grosse in honor of her house guest, Miss Dierrsen of Chicago. Golden acacia blossoms, with delicate branches of green, decorated the reception hall, and in the drawing-room, where the receiving party stood, white carnations were used in profusion. Potted palms and ferns were also effectively arranged here. Miss Grosse was assisted in receiving by her mother and the guest of honor, and was gowned in pale yellow faille over yellow silk. Mrs. Grosse wore violet messaline with garniture of white lace, and Miss Dierrsen wore a charming frock of pink satin chiffon. In the dining-room the color scheme was yellow and carried out artistically with quantities of daffodils, with maidenhair ferns. Yellow-shaded candles in brass candlesticks accentuated the golden color. Here Misses Auten and McHenry presided over the tea table and were relieved by Mrs. Hiram Barlow and Mrs. Frederick Swan. There were seventy-five guests.

The date for the annual charity ball, which is the fashionable society event of the winter season, has been set for Thursday evening, February 27. The plans are in charge of Mmes. Edward R. Kellam, H. Page Warden, Charles Cranz Perkins, Edward H. Groenendyke, Charles Russell and Arthur A. Libby. The proceeds of the affair will be given to the Pasadena Childrens' Training School. The ball will be given at Hotel Green.

STRIKE, DRIVE AWAY.

Young Man and Woman Leave Victim of Collision Unconscious on Azusa Road.

MONROVIA, Feb. 5.—While wheeling to Azusa yesterday evening, Ysabel Guardado, a Mexican laborer of Duarte, collided with a man and woman driving, and was left lying unconscious in the highway. He was found by an automobilist who took him to Azusa, where his injuries were temporarily dressed by Dr. Ellis, and later took him to his home in Duarte. Contrary to accepted precedent, it was the man with the machine who proved the good Samaritan. He refused to give his name. Guardado's head and face were gashed and there are internal injuries, the extent of which cannot be determined as present. He was bleeding at the lungs and his stomach was congested with blood, which he swallowed while unconscious. Dr. Wheeler of Monrovia who is in attendance, thinks he will recover unless unexpected complications ensue. Guardado is unable to speak any English, but through an interpreter, states that there was a young man and woman in the buggy with which he collided, and that they drove on rapidly without proffering any assistance.

BURGLARS ACT QUICKLY.

In the brief absence of H. M. Best and wife from their home, "The Oaks," yesterday, thieves ransacked the house and secured about $150 worth of jewelry. Mr. and Mrs. Best left at 5 p. m. for dinner at La Vista Grande Hotel and, returning two hours later, found that intruders had made a thorough and systematic search of the premises. The time selected and other circumstances of the robbery, indicate an intimate knowledge of the customs of the family. While local persons are suspected, no evidence of their guilt has been obtained.

POMONA.

POMONA, Feb. 5.—The board of library trustees has granted Miss Sara M. Jacobus, local public librarian, leave of absence to attend the annual conference of the California Library Association to be held in San José beginning February 17. To meet the needs of the smaller libraries, the two days preceding the regular conference, will be devoted to the subjects of book-repairing, cataloguing, classifying for a small library, under direction of Miss Bertha Kumli and Miss Mabel Prentiss, who are now library organizers for the State Library and spend most of their time traveling over the State in the interest of the organization of new public libraries in communities desiring the same and in assisting those in charge of libraries already started. Miss Prentiss was formerly public librarian of Pomona and was called from this city to her present position.

The Orange Belt Emporium and the Pomona department store each held annual stockholders' meetings this week. The officers of the Orange Belt are A. E. Tate, president and general manager; S. D. Moles, vice-president, and B. C. Shepherd, secretary. The president of the Pomona department store is George D. Barber and the vice-president and manager is J. F. Rensberger.

HOMES MENACED BY HIGH TIDE.

WAVES ROLL THREATENINGLY ON VENICE BEACH.

Lap the Foundations of Houses and Fill the Cellars With Water, but Do no Great Damage—Perpendicular Embankment Four Feet High Is Cut—Hotel Talk.

VENICE, Feb. 5.—High tide this morning rolled far up the unprotected beach in the vicinity of Carroll avenue, south of the bulkhead construction, and it was thought for a while that considerable damage would be done to several of the houses fronting on the ocean. But, aside from cutting a perpendicular embankment about four feet high, the waves receded, after lapping the foundations of the houses and filling the cellars with water. The scene of this cutting is at the point where the city is planning to construct jetties and extend the bulkhead. The proceedings for this improvement have been commenced and the contract will be awarded in a few days. The opinion of civil engineers is that when the bulkhead is completed there will be no further cause for fear by reason of inroads of the ocean.

FOR BUNGALOWS.

Abbot Kinney has had the plans drawn and is having the ground made ready for the construction of a number of handsome residences on the bungalow order. These are to be built in the canal section and are to cost from $5000 to $8000 each. Work is to be begun on the first one within a few days. In this connection the statement was made today that Mr. Kinney is on the eve of beginning work on the construction of the great hotel that was started two years ago. The foundations for it were completed at a cost of more than $2000, and quite recently the iron pillars for the arcading of the Windward avenue and ocean fronts were put in place. Although it is known that Mr. Kinney and H. R. Hanna, manager of the Venice of America Company, have been busy with the plans of this projected hotel for several weeks, they refused tonight to either confirm or deny the rumor that contracts for going ahead with the building of the hotel were about to be closed.

"Of course the hotel will be built," said Mr. Kinney. "We have spent a great deal of money on it already and when the work was abandoned that did not mean that the hotel idea had been given up. Why, Venice has only been started. It will take years to develop the grand plan in all of its details. There will be great hotels here, aquariums, theaters, bath-houses, concert halls. The railroads will have terminal grounds and the harbor interests will be developed. Just look at the trees we have planted in the Venetian Villas. They have come from all quarters of the globe. Some of the varieties will not do well in this soil and climate and, just as soon as we find a variety that does not flourish, we replace it with something else, and in this way we are beginning to find out just what we want. But it will be years before Venice will be in its glory. But we are learning every day. We are making improvements all the time. Am I going to build the big hotel right away? I have nothing to say on that subject today."

When in doubt go to Coronado.

Swindler Operates in Long Beach and Obtains Money on Worthless Paper.

LONG BEACH, Feb. 5.—The police are looking for a smooth check swindler who has a game so plausible that two victims proved easy game. Yesterday a fairly well-dressed man, looking like an artisan, light complected, of medium height and weight, entered the hardware stores of Hoover & Smith and Poor & Morse and purchased a sickroom utensil. He was particular as to the kind, he said, the doctor recommended, and in each case tendered a pay check on the National Bank of Long Beach for $12.50, signed by A. P. Martin, and payable to and indorsed by Robert McDonald. As the hardware store frequently cash pay checks of artisans, no questions were asked. Today the bank returned both checks as bogus. The fact that the fellow's purchase indicated sickness at home created sympathy and allayed suspicion.

Bills of the Sunset Telephone Company for switching tolls between this city and West Long Beach will be held up by the city on the ground that East San Pedro and Terminal is an integral part of Long Beach, and as such not only the city, but the bay-side residents are entitled to free service. The Sunset company maintains a separate exchange at West Long Beach, and refuses to recognize the decision of the courts in the matter and the injunction granted Long Beach because of that decision. Mayor Windham says that corporations must recognize the jurisdiction of the city over the West End and grant its residents the same privileges extended to other parts of the city. As Mayor he says he recognizes no rulings but those of the courts, and corporations doing business here must do likewise.

As a result of a factional fight which for some time past has rent asunder the fraternal feeling in the local Modern Woodman lodge, an encounter occurred last night between T. McBeth and John Moore, in the lodgeroom, and Moore hit McBeth a blow on the head with such force as to almost tear his ear from his head. He refused to discuss the matter today. The feeling in the lodge is intense, and more trouble is feared before the pending question is settled.

Rev. William Proctor of Ritzville, Or., who accepted the pastorate of the First Congregational Church two weeks ago, has reconsidered his acceptance and notified the board of trustees that he will be compelled to give up the pastorate. No steps have been taken to secure his successor.

FINES CHOPHOUSE MAN.

Santa Monica Police Judge Inflicts Penalty for Selling Liquor Without License.

SANTA MONICA, Feb. 5.—When John Wedington was arraigned this afternoon before Police Judge Carrillo on a charge of conducting a "blind pig" he entered a plea of guilty and paid a fine of $100. Wedington, who runs the Queen Chop House, had been arrested Sunday, charged with selling liquor without a license. There were two counts against him, but when he confessed guilt in one case the other suit was withdrawn.

Mrs. M. F. Johnston, aged mother of A. F. Johnston, is critically ill at her home on Fourth street. She has been a sufferer for many weeks and her condition is such as to cause alarm.

J. C. Munger, the Los Angeles painter who has been missing from home since January 28, was formerly a resident of this beach, where he conducted a paint shop on Pier avenue.

The annual war is about to be waged on the worse than useless curs that infest the beach. The City Council has appointed D. C. Cady to superintend the dog pound and he will make a relentless fight upon the unlicensed pest. The ordinance requiring that all dogs wear license tags will be enforced to the letter.

The City Council will receive bids until the evening of March 2 for the construction of the $100,000 pier at the foot of Colorado avenue. This structure will contain about 200 concrete piles, which are to be reënforced, and as this is a new material for use in constructive work of this kind there is a wide diversity of opinion as to the probable size of the bids.

There was a call for a meeting for the organization of a Republican club, but so little interest was manifested in the matter that nobody attended the meeting.

Should the weather be pleasant, there will be an all-day lawn tennis contest on the Third-street Casino courts tomorrow. At the noon hour luncheon is to be served on the courts.

J. D. Rice has been granted permits for the erection of a couple of bungalows on Dwight avenue. Their cost will be $3000.

STIRS INGLEWOOD.

Campaign in the Interest of Town's Incorporation Develops Heat.

INGLEWOOD, Feb. 5.—Never within the memory of the oldest inhabitant has this community been so thoroughly interested in any town campaign as it is in the election of next Friday. Both sides are claiming everything in sight and the best information appears to be that whichever side wins will do so by the barest possible majority. The friends of incorporation say they will win by forty votes and elect their ticket by a still larger majority. On the other hand, the members of the opposition say that they have made a close poll of their forces and expect to defeat incorporation by sixty majority. They say they are indifferent as to their ticket, because they are certain to defeat the proposition overwhelmingly, but they state positively that their ticket will go through by more than sixty majority, and add the surprising claim that some of the candidates on the Citizen's ticket will not receive twenty votes. So much for the anti-election claims of the opposing forces.

The contest has been particularly bitter, both sides handling their opponents without gloves. The town is plastered all over with notices, appeals, placards, etc. Every available location has been requisitioned for the purpose.

Here is an imposing placard, done in thirty-six-point, black-faced type, as becomes so grave a charge,

"Who stole Gravillea street? Ans."

The answer is not given, but everybody in Inglewood understands the reference even if it were not followed by another question,

"Who are opposing incorporation? Ans."

The High School is situated on Gravillea street, which, in an idealized birdseye view of the future metropolis of Inglewood appears as a broad avenue with a park filled with trees and fountains down the center and spacious driveways on either side. The friends of incorporation say that if the proposition is successful Gravillea's claim of future greatness will be realized. Now it happens that the highway commission does not favor the costly maintenance of wide boulevards with parks, through the center. Being of a practical turn of mind, and having a limited bank account at its command it is willing to keep an eighty-foot thoroughfare in repair for public use and no more. "Therefore," say the friends of incorporation, "whoever opposes incorporation is committing petit larceny of this magnificent boulevard."

The Dunkard colony appears to be involved in the affair, and possibly the Dunkard church. Theoretically, it is pointed out, the church and its council cannot have anything to say to politics, but as the society owns a large percentage of the property of the community through the property rights of its individual members, it is proper for them to take a part in the matter. This they have not hesitated to do, and nearly all the candidates of the Good Government ticket are either prominent Dunkards or closely connected with the church and colony. The leading Dunkard minister, Rev. William Thomas, is at the head of that ticket for trustee. Another Dunkard minister, James F. Thomas, it its candidate for treasurer.

The Citizens' League declares that its members have gone into the enterprise from motives of public duty and for the advancement of the interests of the community. Their opponents charge that the community is not prepared to become a municipality, that those who are seeking to bring it about are doing so for selfish purposes and that it is a real estate scheme, pure and simple.

The Citizens' League held an enthusiastic mass meeting Monday, and a number of the leaders, including W. H. Kelso, who is on its ticket for trustee, delivered speeches urging the citizens of Inglewood to support the proposition to incorporate. The last word will be with the Good Government people who are to meet tomorrow night.

BABOONS STEAL LUNCHES.

Escape in Ocean Park and Do Havoc Among Goodies and Schoolhouse Cloakrooms.

OCEAN PARK, Feb. 5.—The educated baboons that have been on exhibition at Venice for some time grew weary of confinement and today breathed the air of freedom for a few hours. The escapes ran a bee line for the public school building, where they made monkeys of themselves and created a small panic. The missing links seemed to know where the good things to eat were stored and, after gaining entrance to the school building, lost no time in getting into the cloakrooms, where the lunch baskets were stored. Before the animals could be roped they created havoc with the lunch boxes and the jars that contained jams and preserves. Their capture was effected before anybody was much hurt, although several of the children received minor scratches.

GAIL BORDEN RESIGNS.

Relinquishes Office as City Trustee of Alhambra—Long Absence the Reason.

ALHAMBRA, Feb. 5.—The resignation of Gail Borden, as a member of the Board of City Trustees, was presented to the board at its regular meeting last night, and accepted. Mr. and Mrs. Borden are now in Europe, and in view of a long-delayed return to Alhambra, Mr. Borden decided to withdraw.

C. D. Burdick was appointed to the vacancy created by Mr. Borden's resignation. Mr. Burdick will represent the territory which became part of Alhambra by the recent annexation of Dolgeville and its adjacent territory.

A notice was adopted calling for proposals for furnishing Alhambra with a motor-propelled chemical engine and also a hook and ladder truck.

SAWTELLE.

SAWTELLE, Feb. 5.—It looks at this time as if there would be two tickets in the field when the municipal election is held. While all talk of disincorporation has died away, there is still a feeling on the part of some that it would be better for all interests should the community return to the county form of government. This element will no doubt place a ticket in the field, while the friends of incorporation promise to bring out their best men to fill the offices.

WILL BE LEAN YEAR.

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Jan. 28.—From indications at the present date, the wool and sheep industry of the Territory will have nowhere near the abounding prosperity it enjoyed the past two seasons. In the first place the price of wool is likely to be much lower, owing to the business depression in the East, and there exists little sign of keen demand for mutton and lamb similar to that shown at this time last year. All this is bad enough, but on top comes the fact that the range is in bad condition, the winter rains almost failing and practically no grazing being available, where last year the sheep were in a veritable pasture all through Central Arizona during the lambing and shearing season. So serious was this condition that a strong petition lately was wired to Washington, asking for the opening to grazing of the Central Arizona forest reserves. This has been granted in the case of the southern portion of the Prescott Forest reserve, under close restrictions, however, in the interest of the resident cattle owners, and with the proviso that no more than 35,000 head of sheep shall be grazed, a grazing tax of 5 cents a head being exacted. This will relieve the situation very little. Already the Forest Supervisor has received applications for far more than the maximum number for which allowance was made. About 400,000 head of sheep, mainly ewes, were brought southward last spring and found the best of grazing in the northern and eastern parts of the Salt River Valley and in the mountain valleys a short distance to the northward. This year, it is understood, many flocks are being held in the north. Shearing already has commenced at Cave Creek, thirty-five miles north of Phoenix, and machine shearing plants are about to be started at Beardsley and Peoria, northwest of Phoenix, and at Cordes, in Yavapai county.

MONEY IN MUTTON ONCE.

Last year, Arizona was credited with having 650,000 sheep, and a wool clip of 4,225,000 pounds, which, shrinking 65 per cent., made the net product 1,478,750 pounds, worth $961,188, at 65 cents a pound. The quality was excellent, except for the wool from the Navajo reservation and some of the New Mexican flocks in the eastern part of the Territory. Most of the Arizona sheep are well graded with Merino. This wool product in reality yields only a small part of the profit to the sheep growers. Most of the income is from mutton and lambs sold, particularly lambs, which at one time during the year were worth $7 a head in Kansas City. Profits ranging from $10,000 to $13,000 were made on single flocks of 4000 head. Bands of sheep were sold on the range as high as $5.50 per head.

Just at present, the hotels of Phoenix are filled with sheep men, who here make their winter headquarters. Their Territorial association will meet here early in February, to apportion, with government officials, the forested area of Northern Arizona, wherein the sheep industry now is supreme.

CATTLEMEN PROSPER.

Oddly enough, the cattlemen seem to be having a season of notable prosperity. The herds of the Territory have been reduced by famine down to a point where the range is not overstocked and the practice of feeding the range cattle on the alfalfa fields around Phoenix before shipment has proven extremely profitable. Just at present, very few of the fat cattle are being shipped, though a number of carloads have gone out in the last week to Southern California points. Buyers are offering 4 cents a pound on the hoof, but fully 15,000 head of fat steers are being held locally with the expectation that the price will rise at least half a cent. The cattlemen of Arizona generally are very much in favor of the National Forest Reserve policy and now are using all influence to establish the policy of leasing public lands for grazing purposes. This policy was vigorously upheld by the Arizona delegation at the live stock meeting lately held in Denver.

AUTO HITS PAINTER.

Patrick Patterson, a painter living at No. 943 Santee street, was struck by an automobile at the corner of Seventh street and Broadway last night and sustained several light abrasions on the body. He was taken to the Receiving Hospital for treatment. The driver of the machine did not stop. The hospital reports state that Patterson had been drinking.

BIG LAND MEETING
Everyone who desires a home on farm land that supports the family safely in good times and in panics is invited to come to the Chamber of Commerce Building at 8 o'clock tonight. The Seventh Home Extension colony is now being opened in Kern county on rich delta sediment land, at only $25 an acre.
Stereopticon pictures of the first six Home Extension colonies, and also pictures of this Seventh Colony land are shown every night. Come down and bring the family and learn also about the Eighth colony forming for land near Los Angeles. You know, and we all know that every invention, such as trolley cars, automobiles, airships, etc., is making farm life better and farm land higher in cost. You can get that good land at low prices now—you cannot wait. Unless you mean for your family to grow up landless and, you might say, homeless, you must give this land question attention NOW.
You will enjoy the meeting, so come tonight. If you cannot come tonight, call at our offices in day time, or enclose 5 cents for new plan book of instructions to homeseekers, California Home Extension Association, ground floor Chamber of Commerce Building, Los Angeles, Cal.

REDLANDS NOW A BUSY HOST.

TOURIST VISITATION GREAT THIS SEASON.

Representatives of Big Business Concerns Arrive With Families and Are Made Comfortable for Winter—Hotels, Board of Trade Rooms and Real Estate Offices Crowded.

REDLANDS, Feb. 5.—Redlands is experiencing nothing short of a real live "tourist boom." Seldom, if ever before in its history, has the Foothill City entertained within its hospitable gates such large numbers of prominent and wealthy eastern people. Since the beginning of the season Redlands has attracted large numbers of tourists, but it is since the first of February that every incoming train has been loaded with eastern people who come for periods varying from a day to six months, and of the latter many of them decide to make their homes here. For several days the hotels, the Board of Trade and local real estate offices have been crowded with tourists.

Among the people who are at La Casa Loma Hotel for the season are Mr. and Mrs. William B. Dean, Miss [illegible] and William J. Dean of St. Paul. Mr. Dean is the senior partner in a wholesale hardware establishment of St. Paul, and is also heavily interested in Minnesota railroads. He is a former State Senator. Mrs. Fernand Henrotin, a member of the Henrotin family of Chicago, is at the same hostelry for an indefinite stay. Mrs. Charles LeBoutillier, wife of the senior member of LeBoutillier Bros., retail dry goods house of New York, is at the hotel, accompanied by her son, Martin LeBoutillier. Farnham Lyon, for thirty years a hotel man of Saginaw, is there, accompanied by Mrs. Lyon. Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Lyon, Detroit people, are also among the guests. Mrs. Mary B. [illegible], with her daughter and a friend, are here from Pittsburgh for an indefinite stay. The hotel has among its guests a member of the Swiss nobility, Comte de St. George, of Geneva, Switzerland. He is accompanied by his sister, Mrs. R. R. [illegible]. A. W. Trafford, a manufacturer of cotton goods in Fall River, accompanied by his wife and mother, is at the hotel for the season. Homer [illegible] Lockwood, a world-wide traveler, has returned to his favorite resort—Redlands—for the season. Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Manville, who come yearly to La Casa Loma from Milwaukee, have arrived for the winter. Mr. Manville is vice-president of the H. W. Johns-Manville Company, an asbestos-manufacturing concern. Philip Mill[illegible], a Denver millionaire, has arrived for the winter. Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] M. Cochrane of Joliet are here for the winter. Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Hellman of Dubuque, Iowa, are here for a stay of several weeks. Mr. Hellman retired from the business of a clothing manufacturer at the age of [illegible] years and since then he and Mrs. Hellman have visited many parts of the world. E. L. Hughes, a wholesale lumber dealer of Louisville, Ky., accompanied by Mrs. Hughes, were among the hotel's first arrivals and will remain all winter. Commodore [illegible] A. H. Nickels, U.S.N. (retired,) and Mrs. Nickels, are here from Richmond, Va. Commodore Nickels was in charge of the Marblehead during the Spanish War and received a medal for bravery and a handsome [illegible] for capturing a Spanish [illegible]. Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Hudson, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Herring[illegible] of Minneapolis have engaged two of the handsomest suites in the house and will arrive within a week for the remainder of the season. Among the New York people are Mr. and Mrs. C. [illegible] Brown of Brooklyn. Mr. Brown is a wholesale linen importer and in the interests of his business has crossed the Atlantic more than eighty times. Mrs. Brown is an active club woman of Brooklyn.

NEW STREET CAR SYSTEM.

A new street car system is operating in Redlands. The first cars ran over the lines of the Redlands Central Company this morning and continuing all day with little or no interruption trips were made from one terminus to the other every forty minutes. The line is running from the city limits on the east to the city limits on the west, the streets traversed being Citrus avenue and Brookside avenue. It is generally thought that there will be an extension before long and that the line will ultimately reach Riverside. There is also some talk of the line being continued to Redlands Junction where it would connect with the Southern Pacific overland trains. Neither of these sections are yet tapped with an electric system and the venture seems likely to be a paying one.

REDLANDS NOTES.

The Settlement, a Redlands institution for the care of poor consumptives, held its annual meeting yesterday, at which time the following officers were elected: President, Dr. G. G. Moseley; vice-president, H. B. Ely; second vice-president, H. L. Graham; secretary, [illegible] Carroll; treasurer, Miss M. L. [illegible]; corresponding secretary, T. A. [illegible]; directors, A. N. Dike, Rev. [illegible] Porter, Rev. Maxwell Savage, [illegible] C. T. Wright, H. P. D. Kings[illegible] and Dr. C. E. Ide.

The eleventh annual meeting of the Associated Charities was held today and the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Mary C. Curtis; first vice-president, M. A. Hollabaugh; second vice-president, Rev. Maxwell Savage; treasurer, Miss Irene Hornby; secretary, Miss Edith Hale.

CHOOSES SHOTGUN ROUTE.

[illegible] Hand Takes His Life in House Near Montalvo—Leaves a Family.

VENTURA, Feb. 5.—James T. Comstock of this city killed himself this morning by shooting himself in the head with a shotgun. Mr. Comstock has been working with Charles Jones on the Jones ranch near Montalvo, for several months. This morning young Jones left the house to go to the field to work, leaving Mr. Comstock, as was his custom, in the house to clear up. Jones noticed that Comstock did not come to the field at the usual time and returned to investigate. When he entered the house he found the body of Comstock lying on the bed with the shotgun beside him. Death had been instantaneous. Comstock was 58 years old and a native of Iowa. He leaves a widow and three children, the latter being Harry and Anna Comstock and Mrs. Myrtle Dunn of the Piru.

SAN BERNARDINO GRAND JURY MAKES STIRRING REPORT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN BERNARDINO, Feb. 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The grand jury in its final report, filed at a late hour, demands the resignations of Justice of the Peace Martin and Constable Preciado of Victorville. They are charged with gross negligence in connection with numerous shooting affrays which have recently taken place in that township.

The report also demands the resignation of City Health Officer Hurley, because of friction which he has occasioned between the city and county health boards. He criticised Dr. D. C. Strong for holding the positions of county health officer and superintendent of the County Hospital and practicing medicine privately, declaring that he could not properly fulfill his duties.

The management of the Orphans' Home is warmly praised, a fact which will give small comfort to a group of local women who have been trying to turn out the present officials. The grand jury suggests that the county make certain improvements at the home, which is described as a death-trap.

Township officers are criticised for presenting claims for transportation when they traveled on passes and the report recommends that the Supervisors make each person presenting a claim take oath that it represents money actually paid out.

The inquisitors were in session 22 days and exclusive of the cost of bringing in witnesses, their services cost the county $1036.30.

GUARDIANSHIP PETITION.

Miss Susie Inmann this morning made application to the Superior Court to be appointed guardian of her cousin, Ethel Place, the 16-year-old daughter of M. G. and Hannah Place, awaiting trial on the charge of being associated with the Blake-Place-Jones burglary gang. The parents of the child consent to the granting of Miss Inmann's petition. The petitioner has been a steadfast friend of her uncle and aunt in their troubles, braving a sneering, scoffing public to testify in defence of the accused. For this she has won the admiration of many. Her testimony was largely responsible for the failure of the District Attorney's office to secure convictions.

CLAIMS NINE HUBBIES.

Colton Woman Who Tells of a Rather Full Matrimonial Record Much Checkered.

COLTON, Feb. 5.—Mrs. Emma Martin and William Henry Howe, aged 68 and 73, respectively, were married yesterday, Rev. Homer King performing the ceremony at the Advent parsonage.

Behind this simple statement is a curious tale. The bride claims this is her ninth venture on the matrimonial sea. This is the third time she has taken a husband in Colton, where she is a well-known character. She says that some she divorced because of drunkenness, some were hanged because of their crimes, two committed suicide, one was burned to death and the remainder died natural deaths.

Mrs. Lucinda Bailey died yesterday afternoon at the home of her son, G. B. Caster, on F street.

PERRIS GETS SHOPS.

Extensive Tests of Electrical Control of Trains to Be Made on the Santa Fe.

PERRIS, Feb. 5.—A new industry has located here for the manufacture of patent electrical devices and appliances for the Simmen Automatic Railway Signal Company. The principal shops of the company will be removed from Los Angeles to this point in a few days. This company has a contract with the Santa Fé to give its system of signals a thorough test during a period of a year or more and, as the engines are fitted with special electrical appliances, the branch from Highgrove to San Jacinto was chosen as the most practical line for the experiments and test, and Perris was selected as the division headquarters. P. J. Simmen, president of the company, was in town this week and leased a building for the shop, as it is desired to have the principal shop near the field of experiment. Between ten to fifteen skilled mechanics will be employed and several new families will be added to the population. Active work will be begun in a few days.

Under this system telegraph operators will no longer be required, as every train on the line is to be under the absolute control of the chief dispatcher of that division. By an automatic machine the exact position and speed of every train upon the line is recorded on a sheet, for every second during the twenty-four hours of the day, while a system of red and green lights, bells, and also a telephone service in the cab of the engine, places the dispatcher in direct communication with the engineer. By turning a switch in the dispatcher's office the steam can also be shut off from the engine and the train stopped at any point.

The Santa Fé will install the wires along its line and the Simmen company will install and operate the system, giving it a thorough test. The company claims to have abundance of capital behind it, and expects to spend $75,000 to $100,000 on this test. If successful it will prove a great protection against loss of life and property, and effect a great saving over the present block system, reducing the cost from $2000 to $150 per mile.

STORK BEATEN BY HEROINE.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VENTURA, Feb. 5.—Miss Kittie McDermott of this city has proved herself a heroine. Miss McDermott is a nurse. She had been at Wheeler's Springs for several weeks caring for a sick man, who passed away there on Sunday. That same day she received a telephone message from the Argabrite family in this city to come down as soon as possible. She had previously been engaged by the Argabrites to be present when the stork should come to the Argabrite home.

Miss McDermott sent back word that she would be in town the next day, Monday. All day Sunday and all night Sunday night the rain came down in torrents in the Matilija Cañon, where the springs are located. The creeks and rivers flowed in swift yellow floods on Monday morning. Despite this and the protests of her friends at the springs, Miss McDermott determined to make the trip.

In order to the better prepare for the perilous journey she donned male attire and then set out over the slippery trails. She avoided the cañons and creeks and clung to the hillsides. She finally reached the Myers spring three miles along. It was six miles to Nordhoff and the railroad and although the river flowed between, she started out, still seeking the high places and avoiding the rushing river below.

She at last reached a place near the Sheldon ranch where she could go no further without crossing the Ventura River.

She had Mr. Sheldon make fast a rope to her waist to keep her from being washed down stream, and plunged into the icy flood. After a hard struggle she scrambled up the opposite bank. She continued her walk to Nordhoff, where she found a conveyance and finally reached the Argabrite home "on time."

NOTORIOUS CASE DROPPED IN SANTA BARBARA.

Defendants Accused of Running a Disorderly Place Promise to Be Good—Numerous Prominent Men and Women Involved, but Now Their Names Can't Be Used.

SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 5.—The notorious Grove House case, in which three of the leading officials of the club, Cy Fiske, Andrew Tarr and Axel T. Newburg, were recently arrested following a double raid by Sheriff Stewart, was ingloriously dismissed in Justice Overman's court this morning. After all the howl that was made against the three and the Grove House in particular; after the statements of the District Attorney that he had sufficient evidence to convict the prisoners of the two charges—running an alleged disorderly house and selling liquor in violation of the county ordinance—the case was dropped when the three defendants promised to be good in the future and not attempt to run any other such establishment within this county. The case involved the names of many prominent men and women in this city, but the action taken this morning thwarts the using of their names.

DEATH CALLS SUDDENLY.

Pioneer Agent of "The Times" for the Corona Country Is Stricken While Hunting.

CORONA, Feb. 5.—R. F. Billings, one of the pioneers of Corona and for years engaged in the drug business, dropped dead this afternoon while hunting in the foothills. He leaves a widow and two children, R. Sumner Billings of Corona, and Mrs. R. W. Stanfield of Hemet. Mr. Billings had acted as agent of The Times here since the early days of the colony, and was considered the oldest agent in this section.

Rev. John Braun, rector of the Episcopal Church, died at the Good Samaritan Hospital, Los Angeles, yesterday, after a short illness. The funeral will be conducted at the local church at 2 o'clock p.m. Friday by Bishop Johnson. A widow, three sons and one daughter are left.

Pay When You Are Cured
No class of human ailments is so little understood among the profession today as the diseases peculiar to men. As a result the methods commonly employed in treating them are but relics of earlier periods in medical science. I have departed from every form of treatment that my own experience and research has proven ineffective and unscientific. I have replaced them with original and thoroughly modern methods that have proven spremely effective. Every detail of my procedure in each individual case is based upon accurate knowledge as to conditions and requirements, and my cures are duplicated by no other physician or specialist.
DR. TAYLOR, The Leading Specialist.
I GIVE INDIVIDUAL TREATMENT.
I wish to make one point distinct and emphatic: The remedies employed in treating my patients are prescribed and compounded to meet the exact requirements of each individual case. Every patient of mine can rest assured that the treatment he receives is not of the "ready-made" kind. I make a special study of every case I treat, note all conditions in the beginning, note all developments as the cure progresses, and so alter my remedies as to accomplish just what my knowledge and trained perception tell me must be accomplished. After diagnosing your case I will know just what you need. At present I do not, nor have I ever had any sample boxes of "ready-made" remedies to send you.
WEAKNESS.
Dosing the system with powerful stimulants and tonics in an effort to restore functional vigor can have but one final result: The condition is rendered worse than before. "Weakness" is merely an indication of a low form of inflammation in the prostate gland, and this inflammation is but aggravated by stimulating remedies that excite temporary activity. I employ the only scientific and fully effective treatment for "Weakness," which effects a permanent cure by restoring the prostate gland to a sound and healthy state. I obtain complete results in every case I treat.
CONTRACTED DISORDERS.
In the treatment of contracted disorders I offer a service such as no other physician can render. The remedies I employ have a most thorough and positive action in cleansing the membranes of all infection and subduing all inflammation. My manner of application insures absolute thoroughness, and removes every possibility of a relapse or a chronic stage. My cures are not only thorough, but are accomplished in the briefest time possible.
EXAMINATION AND ADVICE FREE.
I offer not only FREE consultation and advice, but of every case that comes to me I will make a careful examination and diagnosis without charge. No ailing man should neglect this opportunity to get expert opinion about his trouble.

HOW I CURE WEAK, PUNY MEN
Every man who is weak or "going back" knows that there ought to be something that will restore that old "steam" to his physical body. He has tried the old drug method and found that a fizzle, and yet he knows there must be something.
We know it, too, and we've got it. It's electricity. You can't name anything more likely to have that force which a weak man lacks. It's a natural power. We can pump it into a weak man while he sleeps and make him feel like a Sandow in no time.
The nourishment which the stomach generates for the support of the nerves and organs is electricity, and when it does not create enough of this force it must have aid. Our electric belt pours a steady stream of electricity into your stomach, nerves and organs. It restores strength to every part that is weak and when your body has all the strength it needs there can't be any pain or weakness.
Wear our electric belt while you sleep and feel its invigorating spark in your nerves, its warming, vitalizing glow in your blood, and after you have worn it for a few weeks you will feel the stream of your youthful power.
Get It Free
We want every man who is weak or suffering from any chronic ailment to read our book which tells how we restore strength Nature's way. It is beautifully illustrated and tells many things you want to know. We'll send it in plain wrapper, post paid, free, if you will mail us this coupon. Call if you can. Office hours 9 a. m. to 8 p. m. Sundays 10 to 1.

WE CURE MEN
until irreparable injury is done to the entire constitution? Sexual disorders and genito-urinary diseases are without doubt the most destructive ills that flesh is heir to and demand prompt and skillful treatment. Delay is dangerous and may be fraught with disastrous consequences. Hence the wisdom of seeking the sympathetic aid of a skillful and reliable specialist at the very incipiency of the trouble.
Sixteen years of successful practice as specialists for men only, right here in Los Angeles, is strong presumptive evidence that we are thoroughly competent and reliable. Our methods are safe and scientific and we charge for honest, skillful and successful services less than some specialists charge for the other kind.
YOU PAY WHEN CURED
Simple Cases Cured Free
Consultation and Examination Are Absolutely Free, and We Cordially Invite All Ailing Men to Call for a Friendly Talk.
Weakness
We were the first specialists in the United States to publicly announce Prostatic Diseases as the primary cause of Weakness. By our new, original and improved methods we have cured hundreds of cases pronounced incurable by other specialists. And today we are the only specialists curing Vital Weakness under an absolute guarantee. Prematureness, loss of power are invariably due to local disorders and cannot be cured by internal medicine or electric appliances. Our treatment quickly removes all abnormal conditions in the organs involved, and invariably results in complete restoration of functional activity.
Contracted Diseases
We cure these troublesome diseases quickly and painlessly by our new and improved methods. Neglect, improper or harsh treatment may result in serious and painful complications, entailing in some instances irreparable injury to the organs involved. Hence the wisdom of seeking the sympathetic aid of a reputable specialist at the very incipiency of the disease.
Consultation and advice free at office or by mail. All medicines are prepared in our own laboratory from the finest standardized drugs, and are furnished free.
Varicocele
One man in every four has some degree of varicocele sapping his vital strength, but not one in a hundred knows how to distinguish a genuine, successful specialist from a smooth advertising pretender. There is but one certain and infallible way to be sure, and that is to visit and personally talk with 10 or 15 prominent business men who have been cured. We have been curing varicocele in Los Angeles 16 years, and are prepared to show cured patients by the dozen. Don't take any doctor's word, but be sure to see the men who have been cured before you pay one cent. If you will observe the above advice, you will not use your time and money in vain. Read the above over and over again and remember that varicocele never was and never can be cured without an operation. Our operation is absolutely painless and devoid of danger, and we never fail to obtain a perfect cure in one week. We will give $1000 to any specialist or electric-belt vendor who will produce a single case of varicocele cured without an operation.
Specific Blood Poison
Our treatment for this loathsome disease is precisely that used by the most celebrated physicians at the famous Hot Springs of Arkansas. It is mild, yet thoroughly effective and curative, and under its benign influence every particle of virus is thoroughly eradicated. Beware of unskillful or harsh treatment. Improper treatment administered by inexperienced, self-styled specialists may do harm and work havoc to the system.

RAH! RAH!! RAH!!!

GREAT, GAY, ALUMNI DAY.

New High School Auditorium Is Dedicated.

Pretty Girls in Evidence at the Polytechnic.

Yesterday was a great day at the Los Angeles High School and the Polytechnic High School. At the former the weavers of the Star and Crescent were to the front.

It was alumni day and the new auditorium was crowded. Members of the Star and Crescent Society who have been in the larger school of affairs for a number of years, met those who for the first time proudly "sported" the pin. "Old boys" and "old girls" of the classes of '75, '76, and subsequent dates, came into their own again, and appeared on a high school platform.

Each speaker was assigned a subject, but every speech was thickly inlaid with "I remember," and "When I was in your place." Yells unheard of for many a day at the High School resounded, whole details of bygone school escapades were told on every side. In the orchestra chairs, the younger generation faced the circle of speakers on the platform and eagerly listened to the stories of twenty years ago.

Henry W. O'Melveny, '75, was unable to represent the pioneer class, being detained by business, but Mayor Harper dealt humorously with the "Past of the Star and Crescent Society," especially with the part that had to do with the year '85, when he and City Attorney Hewitt "got through."

STILL ON THE WATER SIDE.

A debate in his junior year was well remembered by the Mayor. The subject was: "Resolved, that it is safer to travel by water than by land." "I won that debate," said he, "and I was on the water side; and," he added, "my maligners to the contrary, I have been on that side ever since.

"It stirs pleasant memories," he continued, "to recall those old days. Our class was one of the largest. We had twenty-six members. All the girls were pretty, and I loved them all to the best of my ability, but I loved one better than the rest and I still love her the best."

The exercises were in charge of Wesley Howell, president of the Star and Crescent Society. Principal Housh made a few remarks, cordially greeting the members of the alumni.

Russ Avery, of '90, eloquently spoke of the emblem he received seventeen and one-half years ago.

Tumultuous applause greeted City Attorney Hewitt when he said: "There is only one place in the world to live —Los Angeles."

It is worthy of note that the City Attorney, who spoke at this dedication of the new auditorium, made the dedication speech of the old auditorium, seventeen years ago.

Miss Neeta Marquis, '96, gave a charming account of the adventure of a Star and Crescent pin, which she lost and which afterward turned up at a pawn shop. She received it back, its glory undimmed, and its gold untarnished. She made a delightful comparison of the character fostered by the society, which would pass undimmed through the experiences of life because it was pure gold.

Marshall Stimson, '96, was greeted enthusiastically. He spoke of the power gained in the Star and Crescent Society, and exhorted the new members to battle with conspiracy and public corruption.

H. S. Williams, '89, and Miss Reba Smith rendered songs acceptably; Charles Mills spoke on the "Present of the Star and Crescent Society," and a charming recitation was given by a lovely graduate of last year, Miss Elsie Behymer. The two glee clubs and the High School orchestra contributed much to the pleasure of the occasion. To cap the afternoon, the first president of the society, Miss Mary Foy, gave some "vignettes of the past."

PINS ARE BESTOWED.

The day belonged to the Senior B's, when the great green curtains were parted and showed boys and girls in costume, a glow of purple and blue, the class colors. Three snow-white pigeons fluttered out and up with the class colors trailing in sinuous streamers. It was a pretty conceit and formed a striking prelude for the jolly class songs.

This evening the Senior A play will be given in the auditorium.

AT THE POLYTECHNIC.

Exercises by the '08 winter class of the Polytechnic High School in honor of class day were held yesterday afternoon in the Polytechnic auditorium. About twelve hundred friends of the graduates enjoyed the programme, and pretty girls in stylish gowns were in evidence everywhere.

After the Polytechnic orchestra had played a selection, "Fabian Romance," Miss Julia W. Murray gave the class history. F. E. Yoakum, Jr., read the class prophecy and Edwin Bruner dealt thoughtfully with "California and the Japanese."

Miss Rose Mulvihill, vice-president of the Ionian Society, presented class pins to the score of fortunate ones who have finished the course. The programme closed with songs, the accompanist being Miss Lois Sessions.

The graduates are Lillian Moss, Leonard Rushton, Louise Michell, Richard Morton, Florence Sunderland, Edith White, F. Alan Patten, Eliah P. Gilbert, F. E. Yoakum, Edwin Bruner, Warren R. Cain, Edith Sutherland, Augusta E. Wackerbarth, Guy Goodwin, Carrie Fisher, Vega Brugman, Howard Seeley, Edna E. Schaefer, Rebecca Scheftiman and Julia W. Murray.

The commencement exercises will be held this evening at 8 o'clock in the Auditorium. Prof. David Starr Jordan of Stanford University will present the diplomas.

SUFFERING FROM SHOCK.

Young Woman Bound by Burglars Is Confined to Her Bed—Police Seek Clews in Vain.

Miss Elsie Winters of No. 2826 East Fourth street, who was overpowered and bound by robbers in her home, Tuesday afternoon, was in a very nervous condition yesterday. A doctor was in attendance, the greater part of the day. He stated that while there was no danger that the shock would result fatally, the young woman would probably be confined to her bed for a long time.

The police have found no clew to the assailants of Miss Winters. A careful search of the house showed that nothing had been stolen. The burglars were supposed to be in search of a sack of money which Winters was reported to have hidden in his home.

Neighbors stated yesterday that during Tuesday afternoon they had heard screams but did not investigate. Children were playing near the house and the noise they made partly drowned the calls of the captive.

BABY'S ADVENTURES.

Two-Year-Old Boy Rescued from the Middle of Crowded Thoroughfare and Restored to Mother.

James Riley, 2 years old, and booked at the Police Station as "John Doe Kiddo," caused some excitement downtown yesterday afternoon.

The little fellow wandered about and finally reached Temple and Spring streets. When he toddled out in the path of vehicles, Henry Walters made a dash for him. A policeman got to him at the same time and he carried him to the sidewalk. The officer took the youngster to the Police Station and turned him over to the matron.

HIS AUTO STOLEN.

The two-cylinder Tourist automobile owned by J. Bond Francisco, the artist, of No. 1401 Albany street, was stolen last evening from a point on Hill street just south of the Mason Operahouse. Its loss was discovered when the owner, his wife and Mrs. F. N. Blanchard, who formed a theater party, emerged from the playhouse. Mr. Francisco had been advised by the police not to leave the machine on Broadway because of the crowded condition of that thoroughfare.

NON-COMBATANTS.

FIRST PEACE CONFERENCE.

Society Organized Against Spirit of War.

Tokio College President Sees None in Japan.

Says Fellows Who Talk for Fray Never Go.

The first peace conference ever held on the Pacific Coast assembled yesterday in Choral Hall, this city, and if the size of the audience were to be taken as an indication, it might be said that Los Angeles is for war instead of peace.

Dr. Warren F. Day, the veteran Congregational minister of the city, took notice of this in the following neat way:

"The law of the river is the law of the rill. What can this little handful do? Just what the rill does for the river—one more force of impulse."

About 100 persons were present, most of them from Whittier, where the Quaker element is strong, and accompanying them was a splendid glee club of eighteen young men from Whittier College, their singing lending much to the pleasure of the afternoon.

The result of the conference was to pass a resolution unanimously, in favor of organizing the Southern California Peace Society, and adopting a constitution, patterned after that of the American Peace Society. The election of officers was deferred until the next meeting which is to be called by the secretary, Robert C. Root of Huntington Beach. Meantime all persons wishing to join the society may notify him, and signify their willingness to pay the fee of $1 per year to cover expenses and the distribution of literature.

Dr. J. Q. A. Henry of the First Baptist Church, made the invocation at the opening of the conference and the object was stated by Robert C. Root, after which Dr. Day introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Dr. H. H. Guy of Tokio, Japan.

For the past eighteen years Dr. Guy has been a resident of Tokio, first as a teacher in the schools of the Christian Church, and later as president of the College Sei Gaku In, leaving there only six months ago and coming to this city for a rest.

"I lived in Japan for eighteen years, during two wars—the Japan-China War and the Japan-Russia War," said Dr. Guy. "I have watched things closely and I know something about how Japan prepares for war. What she does in that direction, is done in her arsenals and does not get into the newspapers, but I lived under the most favorable circumstances for observation. I came away six months ago, and I am very sure there was nothing whatever doing then and I believe that a war with Japan is very, very remote, indeed."

Dr. H. H. Guy,
resident of Tokio, says Japan is not preparing for war.

He began his address by saying that "the people who are always talking in favor of war are those who never go." He argued that war leaves the commercial and financial life of a nation broken up; that it never brings about anything worth half so much as the war has cost, while it is terrible to think of the loss of life. Referring to the Japan-Russia War, he said:

"Few of us recognize what a war it was, and what a glorious thing it was for our country to step in and stop this greatest of wars."

He took the ground that war is never inevitable, and that it is contrary to the spirit of the highest civilization. He had this little prod for the United States:

"It was thought for many years that America would never go out in the world, and when she did go, it was understood she went as a messenger of peace.

"One of the difficulties is for us to take a world view of the world. Every now and then our Anglo-Saxon blood begins to boil, and we long for war, but that is not the spirit of America. I do not believe that any war is inevitable, and what we need is education of sentiment along that line."

The speaker declared that the difficulty between the United States and Japan is nothing but a little misunderstanding which can be easily adjusted if the people rise up and strongly declare themselves as opposed to the spirit of war.

There was no sentiment in the meeting in opposition to the peace movement. A few short speeches were made by delegates, but owing to the haste of many of them to get away, it was thought best by the chairman not to invite a general discussion.

Almost the entire assembly gave their names, as signifying their desire to become members of the new society, and it probably will be heard from in the near future.

TO BOND THE COUNTY.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

SANTA ANA, Feb. 5.—At the general election next November the Board of Supervisors of this county will submit a proposition to bond the county to build a hospital. The present system of caring for indigent sick grows more expensive and unsatisfactory. The announcement was made last night by County Physician C. D. Ball before the Talk-It-Over Club of this city.

Dr. Ball said he appeared before the club to enlist its support in the movement. He stated that at the present time the county has an average of forty-five indigent patients. They endure hardships that cannot be remedied without a hospital. Consumption among the Mexicans spreads unhindered because there is no way to separate the patients from their families. Fifty per cent. of the deaths among them are from consumption. He thought the bond issue should not be for less than $50,000. The present system costs $20,000 a year.

SANTA ANA NOTES.

An energetic movement has been started for the establishment of a Y. M.C.A. here. The matter was taken up at the Men's Club of the First Presbyterian Church last night. W. M. Scott, Ed. Tedford and J. P. Baumgartner were appointed to interview the Chamber of Commerce, Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association and the pastors of the different churches and with them form a plan of work.

The Board of Supervisors yesterday fixed the salary of the county physician and health officer at $1350 a year, the appointee to pay his own expenses. The board established a new school district at Serra, below San Juan Capistrano. School will be opened there in September.

The first field meet for the year will be held by the classes of the High School Saturday. On the Saturday following the local High School team will hold a field and track meet with the Whittier High School.

Society centers at Coronado.

RELIEF.

The necessities of the family of Mrs. Herbert Christopher of Central avenue have been relieved. Moneys received by The Times will be devoted to the poor of the city, through the Volunteers and similar organizations.
